Eisenhower Would Meet Russia Half Way; Won't Cut Taxes Until Budget Is Balanced

Tito Talks On Halting Aggression

Churchill, Other British Leaders Hear Yugoslav Concern About Defense Against Russia

London, March 19 (AP)—Yugoslav President Tito discussed with Prime Minister Churchill and other top British leaders today ways in which his anti-Soviet state can ward off possible Russian aggression.

The tightly guarded international conference in Britain's Whitehall government center was believed to have taken up Yugoslav's air defense against Russia's fast MIG-15 jet fighters.

Not only the Soviet Union, but most of her satellites surrounding Yugoslavia now are armed with the swift Red jet. Tito's air forces are equipped with slower and outmoded British piston-engine planes.

That weakness almost certainly was the big worry in Tito's mind as he whirred up to Westminster in a bullet-proof car with 14 police outriders to meet Churchill, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Defense Minister Lord Alexander.

Britain Short of Planes

It is an open secret that Tito would like Britain to send him some of her latest type supersonic fighters which he viewed in flying demonstration yesterday. But Britain is short of these modern machines herself and has only obsolescent types to spare.

The morning's sessions were divided into two parts. They began in the foreign office with Tito, his foreign minister, Koca Popovic, and Gen. Miles Shumonja heading the Yugoslav delegation. Shumonja is the man who played a part in building up the recently formed Yugoslav - Greek - Turkish bloc.

It was generally believed that Britain and the anti-Moscow Red dictator were working out assurances—short of a formal treaty—of mutual support in the cold war with the Soviet Union.

Aim at Strong Ties

The British Foreign Office has given few clues to the scope of the talks but it is known that the problem of Trieste looms large in the attempt to develop closer ties between Tito's Balkan nation and the western allies.

Conflicting Yugoslav-Italian claims to sovereignty in the divided "free" territory at the head of the Adriatic Sea thus far have imposed a major roadblock to such efforts.

The first session of the international conference was held Tuesday. As it resumed, Tito was expected to raise the question of economic aid from Britain to his country and perhaps the placing of Yugoslav orders here for modern arms, including jet fighter planes. Tito saw some of Britain's newest jets in action yesterday at an RAF demonstration marred by the death of two pilots in a collision aloft.

Wadlin Says Bill Not Child Labor As Union Charges

A public protest was registered today by Local 186, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, against legislation sponsored by Assemblyman John Wadlin which, it was charged, would "permit child labor."

Assemblyman Wadlin, chairman of the labor and industries committee, is sponsoring legislation to permit children under the age of 14 to engage in picking small fruit and berries when attendance at school is not required by the education law.

Denies Children 'Coddled'

In a letter signed by Mabel Fisher, business agent of the local, she said, "We certainly do not think, as we understand Mr. Wadlin feels, that our boys and girls are being 'coddled.' For Mr. Wadlin's information, a couple of generations of little men and women have been destroyed because of work they were forced to do. There is the tendency to upset school laws, to create delinquency.

Wicks Wants More Race Money To Give State Aid to Localities

Another Year Is Requested To Consider Off Track Bets

Modern Conveniences Asked, Superior to Those at Jamaica and Aqueduct

Albany, N. Y., March 18 (AP)—The Wicks Racing Committee submitted its long awaited report to the Legislature today and asked for another year to consider the explosive question of off-track betting.

The Joint Legislative Committee which has looked into the problem for the past year, had expected to make a report on the feasibility of off-track betting.

However, it noted that the committee's counsel, John E. Egan, who had been drafting the recommendations, was injured seriously Feb. 19 in an automobile accident near Coxsackie.

No Appropriations Sought

Proposal Would Permit Taking Over Taxes Levied by Nassau, N. Y., Saratoga

Albany, N. Y., March 19 (AP)—A 15 per cent "bite" on pari-mutuel betting at thoroughbred horse racing tracks—with the state collecting a 10 to 11 per cent tax—has been proposed by Senate leader Arthur H. Wicks.

Wicks, who has opposed restoration of the full 5 per cent local parti-mutuel tax, introduced a bill yesterday to let the state gradually take over all of the local tax by 1956.

In 1946, New York city, Saratoga and Nassau counties were authorized to levy a 5 per cent tax on pari-mutuel betting. However, 1950 law provided for a decrease in the tax at a rate of 1 per cent a year until it runs out in 1955.

Points to Mounting Aid

Wicks proposed that such revenues "should be available to the state to help meet ever increasing state commitments to local communities and for the general support of the state government."

Under his plan, the state would collect an extra 2 per cent tax this year and increase it 1 per cent a year until it took over the full 5 per cent levied formerly by localities.

Last year the 14 per cent parimutuel "bite" at New York icty and Long Island tracks was divided: 6 per cent to the state, 4 per cent to the track and 4 per cent to the localities. At Saratoga, the state got 5 per cent, the track 5 and the county 4.

By 1956, the state would get 11 per cent at downstate tracks and the tracks 4 for a total "bite" of 15 per cent of the betting handle. At Saratoga the state would get 10 per cent and the track 4.

Wicks' bill was introduced at the same time that his joint legislative committee on horse racing issued an interim report in which it repeated its opposi-

Aldermen Approve $15,000 Bond Issue For Florence Street

Boulevard Change Passes for Television Locale; Strand Traffic Is Made One Way

Common Council legislation at a recessed meeting last night authorized a $15,000 bond issue for improvement of Florence street extension, approved a business zone designation for a property along the Boulevard on which it is planned to build a television station, and favored new traffic changes.

Bond anticipation notes for the paving and curbing of Florence street extension between Stephan and Shufeldt streets were also authorized. The notes are necessary pending sale of bonds.

No Opposition Given

A public hearing on the proposal to authorize a business zone designation for the Boulevard property was unopposed Monday night and the council voted the change on recommendation of the laws and rules committee.

Anna E. Bower, of 335 Boulevard, requested the change. She listed Rose Simmons of Hempstead and Anna Boyer, of West Hempstead as co-owners with her, and said they had granted an option to a representative of the Kingston Broadcasting Corp., for purchase of the land to be used for the building of a television station.

It is to be used in conjunction with another broadcasting company, she said. The tract of about six acres includes 143-155

Chiropractors Lose License Bid

Democrats Lead Fight Against Measure, Contend It Would Make Mockery of Medical Field

Legislation to license chiropractors in New York state, and thus recognize the practice for the first time, was dead today, the victim of an onslaught spearheaded by Democrats.

Organized medical groups, including the Ulster County Medical Society, had assailed the licensing idea. The local society in recent advertising against the license proposal asked defeat of the Seelye-Morgan bill, which would have authorized licensing, and support of the Metcalf-Rabin bill opposing it.

Called 'Mockery' Move

The state senate downed the licensing measure last night, 32-24, after one Democratic lawyer, according to Bill Davidson of the Associated Press, had said the plan would be a "step back to the middle ages" and would make a "mockery" of the medical profession.

The showdown over the measure highlighted a busy day atop Capitol Hill as lawmakers culled heavy dockets in a drive to reach final adjournment of the 1953 session tomorrow or Saturday. However, they still had some hot issues to deal with before going home.

This was the picture, as both the Senate and Assembly faced heavy working schedules:

1. Dov. Dewey's personal four-point fiscal plan for taking New York city out of the red was to reach a floor vote in both houses, with Democrats and scattered Republicans ready to attack it.

However, the heavy GOP majorities were expected to shove the measures to final passage.

Check on Lewd Books

2. The Senate handed final approval to a bill designed to help police chiefs and sheriffs rid newsstands of lewd publications. The bill, which went to Dewey, would permit the officials to obtain court orders to bar sale of such literature, and authorize seizure orders for it. The measure was sponsored by the Joint Legislative Committee on comic books.

3. The State Banking Department withdraw a bill that would permit savings banks in larger cities to set up one suburban branch within 25 miles of the home office. Commercial banks had opposed the measure.

4. Senate standing committees and the potent Assembly Rules Committee scheduled new meetings either to approve or to kill remaining controversial bills which included Dewey's compulsory automobile liability insurance and mandatory car inspection plans.

Defends Bill

Defending the Chiropractic Bill, Sen. Gilbert T. Seelye, Burnt Hills Republican, contended that "now, anyone can hold himself out as a chiropractor and practice in the state." He said about 3,000 persons were engaged in the practice.

He said his licensing bill "contains every possible safeguard for the public."

GOP Sen. Wheeler Milmoe of Canastota said the legislature "should feel a sense of shame that New York state has become a dumping ground in recent years for the less competent type of chiropractor."

But several Democratic senators assailed the bill on the ground it would permit those practicing now to obtain their state license easily, without rigid checks provided for those entering the profession.

Democratic Sen. Francis J. McCaffrey of the Bronx said the bill would make a "mockery" of the medical profession.

Other Measures

Handling a large stack of business, the Senate gave final legislative approval to measures that would:

Give New York city full jurisdiction over its transit facilities. The city has controlled fares since 1949, but the State Public Serv-

Planes Have Orders

Wiesbaden, Germany, March 19 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force announced today it has banned its planes from flying within 30 miles of Communist East Germany and Czechoslovakia, except on border defense missions or authorized flights in Soviet-recognized air corridors. An air force statement asserted "these regulations have been in effect well over a year" but were "reaffirmed today."

Refresher Courses May Be Started

Need for Stenos, Typists and Operators Reason for Training

If enough persons are interested, the Kingston public schools will sponsor refresher training courses for stenographers, typists and sewing machine operators, in cooperation with the Division of Employment, State Labor Department, according to an announcement today by the local employment service office.

The training and placement service is offered to help fill the needs of local employers. A stringent shortage of applicants in these occupations has existed locally for some time, the employment office said.

The aim of the courses will be to "brush up" training particularly for those persons not recently employed. The local employment office has revealed that it has many unfilled job openings that can be filled by persons after retraining in earlier skills.

Arrangements will be made to conduct the classes at times and hours most convenient to the majority of the trainees. Persons interested may contact the Division of Employment office, 18 Pine Grove avenue, telephone Kingston 6600.

May Start Ferry Soon

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry is due to go into dry dock Monday prior to resuming its schedule, a New York State Bridge Authority spokesman said today. It is possible, he indicated, that the ferry will start running by the end of next week, but said it was too early to give any definite time. It has been out of service since last Dec. 31.

Eisenhower Is Applauded By Democrats on Bohlen

Washington, March 19 (AP)—Democrats generally applauded the Eisenhower Administration today for standing firm on Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen's nomination to be ambassador to Russia, but two Republicans said they may fight it on the Senate floor.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee's 15-0 approval of Bohlen yesterday and Secretary of State Dulles' defense of the nominee were hailed by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) as the start of a "true bi-partisan foreign policy."

Sparkman and Sens. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Mansfield (D-Mont.) said Dulles "met the test." Sparkman added: "It demonstrated the influence of the administration when it chooses to exercise it."

But Sens. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Bridges (R-NH) protested the committee's vote of approval on Dulles' evaluation of an FBI field report on Bohlen. They said the committee should have insisted on seeing the report itself.

With admitted prospects for only a handful of opposition votes, McCarthy and Bridges talked about carrying their fight to the Senate floor next Monday.

Dulles told a closed session of the committee yesterday, Sparkman said, that he did read the file and there was not a single thing in it that would cast the "slightest suspicion on Bohlen."

Is Opposed To Church Checking

Feels Nation Is in Need of Combat Strength but Hopes to Get It Without Waste

Washington, March 19 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the new Russian regime will never be met less than half way by his administration in any effort toward world peace.

But he said the Soviet Union so far has made no formal peace overture.

The President also told his news conference that he sees in the recent series of Communist aircraft attacks on American planes no change in the intentions of the Soviet Union.

Outlines His Views

Eisenhower also:

1. Reiterated that tax reduction must be deferred until a balanced budget is in sight. He said he is against letting the excess profits tax expire June 30 without a substitute to compensate for revenue loss. And he said he wants the revenue rather than an income tax reduction in June. Rep. Reed (R-NY) has proposed a personal income tax cut June 30 instead of Dec. 31.

2. Declared he sees no point in questioning the loyalty of the nation's churches. This was in reply to a question as to whether he favored an investigation of possible Communist influences in the churches.

There has been a row in Congress over a suggestion by Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) that the House Un-American Activities Committee might look into Communist influences in the churches. Velde has since backed away from this idea.

3. Said his nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia seems to him to be a very good appointment. The President made that remark in reply to a request to comment on a statement by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that it was a serious mistake for the administration to press for Senate approval of the nomination.

Interested in S. America

4. Said he is deeply interested in Latin American affairs and that it might be a good idea for him to make a brief trip there, but that on the other hand it might better be left to emissaries.

5. Declared he feels this nation cannot afford to reduce its combat strength, but that he does hope to get more national defense for less money by eliminating waste and duplication.

6. Said government staffs have been studying a proposal for authorization of big increases in military and civil defense, but that no conclusions have been reached.

7. Said he would not want to do anything unnecessarily provocative at the moment with respect to any move in the United Nations to brand Russia an aggressor in Korea.

No Word From Tito

8. Said he has not heard a word on whether Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is planning to visit the United States.

9. Announced he has asked Lewis Douglas, former ambassador to Great Britain, to head a group which will study such things as foreign trade, the raw material situation, and world markets generally.

10. Commended the Commerce Department for its estimate that its budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, will be cut about 15 per cent. The President said it is

33 Are Believed Dead in Crash of Two U.S. Air Force Planes in Newfoundland

St. John's, Newfoundland, March 19 (AP)—Two U. S. Air Force planes crashed in Newfoundland yesterday. All 33 men aboard the two planes were believed dead, including an air force general.

A giant 10-engine bomber, an RB-36, hit a hilltop on the isolated east coast of Newfoundland. It carried 23 men, including Brig. Gen. Richard E. Ellsworth, 42, of Erie, Pa., commanding general of the Rapid City, S. D., air base. Woodmen found 10 bodies today near the wreckage of the plane—a version of the B-36 able to deliver blows from bases in the U. S. to almost any point in the world.

A U. S. Superfortress with a crew of 10 crashed in St. George's Bay, about 290 miles across Newfoundland from St. John's on the west coast. The plane was from Harmon Field on the west coast.

Searchers found only wreckage and no survivors in the bay, first reports said.

Both planes were on training flights.

Ground parties combed through the wreckage of the RB-36 for additional bodies.

The woodsmen had hacked their way through bushland and clambered over deep snowbanks to reach the wreckage in a near trackless area about 50 miles north of here. They reported no immediate trace of the other 14 persons aboard the plane, which crashed en route from the Azores to its base at Rapid City, S. D., while on a training flight.

The base at Rapid City said it had no word of any survivors.

Sketchy reports from the woodsmen gave no details. They said the plane hit a hilltop.

Measure Calls for Action On Beacon-Newburgh Span

The New York State Bridge Authority was authorized by enactment of a bill in the Senate at Albany yesterday to investigate the advisability of building a vehicular toll bridge over the Hudson between Newburgh and Beacon.

This move followed enactment of a similar measure in the Assembly Tuesday. The Assembly bill was by Majority Leader Lee B. Mailler and the Senate bill by Ernest I. Hatfield.

If final approval is given to the bridge proposal it would authorize an expenditure of $20,000,000 by the bridge authority for building the span and approaches. It would increase to $50,000,000 the amount the authority would be permitted to spend to meet its obligations.

The bridge would be built north of the two cities and the bills say in effect that it may be built if the authority and the state commissioner of public works, decide after study that the bridge is in the public interest.

The public works department reported to the Legislature in

Wicks Wants More Race Money To Give State Aid to Localities

Proposal Would Permit Taking Over Taxes Levied by Nassau, N. Y., Saratoga

Albany, N. Y., March 19 (AP)—A 15 per cent "bite" on parimutuel betting at thoroughbred horse racing tracks—with the state collecting a 10 to 11 per cent tax—has been proposed by Senate leader Arthur H. Wicks.

Wicks, who has opposed restoration of the full 5 per cent local parti-mutuel tax, introduced a bill yesterday to let the state gradually take over all of the local tax by 1956.

In 1946, New York city, Saratoga and Nassau counties were authorized to levy a 5 per cent tax on pari-mutuel betting. However, 1950 law provided for a decrease in the tax at a rate of 1 per cent a year until it runs out in 1955.

Wicks proposed that such revenues "should be available to the state to help meet ever increasing state commitments to local communities and for the general support of the state government."

Under his plan, the state would collect an extra 2 per cent tax this year and increase it 1 per cent a year until it took over the full 5 per cent levied formerly by localities.

Last year the 14 per cent parimutuel "bite" at New York icty and Long Island tracks was divided: 6 per cent to the state, 4 per cent to the track and 4 per cent to the localities. At Saratoga, the state got 5 per cent, the track 5 and the county 4.

By 1956, the state would get 11 per cent at downstate tracks and the tracks 4 for a total "bite" of 15 per cent of the betting handle. At Saratoga the state would get 10 per cent and the track 4.

Planes Have Orders

Wiesbaden, Germany, March 19 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force announced today it has banned its planes from flying within 30 miles of Communist East Germany and Czechoslovakia, except on border defense missions or authorized flights in Soviet-recognized air corridors. An air force statement asserted "these regulations have been in effect well over a year" but were "reaffirmed today."

Case Withdraws

Trenton, N. J., March 19 (AP)—Rep. Clifford E. Case of Union announced today his withdrawal as a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Refresher Courses May Be Started

Need for Stenos, Typists and Operators Reason for Training

If enough persons are interested, the Kingston public schools will sponsor refresher training courses for stenographers, typists and sewing machine operators, in cooperation with the Division of Employment, State Labor Department, according to an announcement today by the local employment service office.

The training and placement service is offered to help fill the needs of local employers. A stringent shortage of applicants in these occupations has existed locally for some time, the employment office said.

The aim of the courses will be to "brush up" training particularly for those persons not recently employed. The local employment office has revealed that it has many unfilled job openings that can be filled by persons after retraining in earlier skills.

Arrangements will be made to conduct the classes at times and hours most convenient to the majority of the trainees. Persons interested may contact the Division of Employment office, 18 Pine Grove avenue, telephone Kingston 6600.

May Start Ferry Soon

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry is due to go into dry dock Monday prior to resuming its schedule, a New York State Bridge Authority spokesman said today. It is possible, he indicated, that the ferry will start running by the end of next week, but said it was too early to give any definite time. It has been out of service since last Dec. 31.

Eisenhower Is Applauded By Democrats on Bohlen

Washington, March 19 (AP)—Democrats generally applauded the Eisenhower Administration today for standing firm on Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen's nomination to be ambassador to Russia, but two Republicans said they may fight it on the Senate floor.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee's 15-0 approval of Bohlen yesterday and Secretary of State Dulles' defense of the nominee were hailed by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) as the start of a "true bi-partisan foreign policy."

Sparkman and Sens. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Mansfield (D-Mont.) said Dulles "met the test." Sparkman added: "It demonstrated the influence of the administration when it chooses to exercise it."

But Sens. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Bridges (R-NH) protested the committee's vote of approval on Dulles' evaluation of an FBI field report on Bohlen. They said the committee should have insisted on seeing the report itself.

With admitted prospects for only a handful of opposition votes, McCarthy and Bridges talked about carrying their fight to the Senate floor next Monday.

Dulles told a closed session of the committee yesterday, Sparkman said, that he did read the file and there was not a single thing in it that would cast the "slightest suspicion on Bohlen."

Mothers' March Clears $4,156

Mrs. John J. Hogan, chairman of the Mothers' March on Polio, presents a check for $4,156.77 to Addison Jones, county campaign chairman for the March of Dimes drive. Both Mrs. Hogan and Jones lauded the captains and workers and the various contributors for their support in making the first Mothers' March an outstanding success. (Freeman photo)

Is Opposed To Church Checking

Feels Nation Is in Need of Combat Strength but Hopes to Get It Without Waste

Washington, March 19 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the new Russian regime will never be met less than half way by his administration in any effort toward world peace.

But he said the Soviet Union so far has made no formal peace overture.

The President also told his news conference that he sees in the recent series of Communist aircraft attacks on American planes no change in the intentions of the Soviet Union.

Outlines His Views

Eisenhower also:

1. Reiterated that tax reduction must be deferred until a balanced budget is in sight. He said he is against letting the excess profits tax expire June 30 without a substitute to compensate for revenue loss. And he said he wants the revenue rather than an income tax reduction in June. Rep. Reed (R-NY) has proposed a personal income tax cut June 30 instead of Dec. 31.

2. Declared he sees no point in questioning the loyalty of the nation's churches. This was in reply to a question as to whether he favored an investigation of possible Communist influences in the churches.

There has been a row in Congress over a suggestion by Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) that the House Un-American Activities Committee might look into Communist influences in the churches. Velde has since backed away from this idea.

3. Said his nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia seems to him to be a very good appointment. The President made that remark in reply to a request to comment on a statement by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that it was a serious mistake for the administration to press for Senate approval of the nomination.

Interested in S. America

4. Said he is deeply interested in Latin American affairs and that it might be a good idea for him to make a brief trip there, but that on the other hand it might better be left to emissaries.

5. Declared he feels this nation cannot afford to reduce its combat strength, but that he does hope to get more national defense for less money by eliminating waste and duplication.

6. Said government staffs have been studying a proposal for authorization of big increases in military and civil defense, but that no conclusions have been reached.

7. Said he would not want to do anything unnecessarily provocative at the moment with respect to any move in the United Nations to brand Russia an aggressor in Korea.

No Word From Tito

8. Said he has not heard a word on whether Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is planning to visit the United States.

9. Announced he has asked Lewis Douglas, former ambassador to Great Britain, to head a group which will study such things as foreign trade, the raw material situation, and world markets generally.

10. Commended the Commerce Department for its estimate that its budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, will be cut about 15 per cent. The President said it is

St. John's, Newfoundland, March 19 (AP)—Two U. S. Air Force planes crashed in Newfoundland yesterday. All 33 men aboard the two planes were believed dead, including an air force general.

A giant 10-engine bomber, an RB-36, hit a hilltop on the isolated east coast of Newfoundland. It carried 23 men, including Brig. Gen. Richard E. Ellsworth, 42, of Erie, Pa., commanding general of the Rapid City, S. D., air base. Woodmen found 10 bodies today near the wreckage of the plane—a version of the B-36 able to deliver blows from bases in the U. S. to almost any point in the world.

A U. S. Superfortress with a crew of 10 crashed in St. George's Bay, about 290 miles across Newfoundland from St. John's on the west coast. The plane was from Harmon Field on the west coast.

Searchers found only wreckage and no survivors in the bay, first reports said.

Both planes were on training flights.

Ground parties combed through the wreckage of the RB-36 for additional bodies.

The woodsmen had hacked their way through bushland and clambered over deep snowbanks to reach the wreckage in a near trackless area about 50 miles north of here. They reported no immediate trace of the other 14 persons aboard the plane, which crashed en route from the Azores to its base at Rapid City, S. D., while on a training flight.

The base at Rapid City said it had no word of any survivors.

Sketchy reports from the woodsmen gave no details. They said the plane hit a hilltop.

Measure Calls for Action On Beacon-Newburgh Span

The New York State Bridge Authority was authorized by enactment of a bill in the Senate at Albany yesterday to investigate the advisability of building a vehicular toll bridge over the Hudson between Newburgh and Beacon.

This move followed enactment of a similar measure in the Assembly Tuesday. The Assembly bill was by Majority Leader Lee B. Mailler and the Senate bill by Ernest I. Hatfield.

If final approval is given to the bridge proposal it would authorize an expenditure of $20,000,000 by the bridge authority for building the span and approaches. It would increase to $50,000,000 the amount the authority would be permitted to spend to meet its obligations.

The bridge would be built north of the two cities and the bills say in effect that it may be built if the authority and the state commissioner of public works, decide after study that the bridge is in the public interest.

The public works department reported to the Legislature in

Ammo Supply Better

Joliet, Ill., March 18 (AP)—The nation's supply of ammunition for the Korean war is steadily improving, says Secretary of the Army Stevens. "The supply is reaching substantial proportions, but none of us is satisfied completely," Stevens said yesterday after a tour of the huge Joliet arsenal. "We will bend every effort until we are completely comfortable." Gen. James A. Van Fleet, retired 8th Army commander, testified before a congressional committee recently that his army operated for 22 months with shortages of certain ammunition supplies.

It is believed that the first public demonstration of television in color in the United States was broadcast in 1929.

Some Major Shifts

Washington, March 18 (AP)—The Agriculture Department has undergone some major shifts in its organizational setup under the new Republican administration, and its total employment has increased slightly. A personnel report showed today that the department's total paid employment at the end of February was 66,848, an increase of 50 over Jan. 31. The number of full-time workers dropped from 55,465 to 55,381 during the month, but part-time employes went up from 11,333 to 11,467. In one of his first acts after taking office Jan. 21, Secretary of Agriculture Benson announced plans to overhaul the department with the idea of "streamlining its services in the interest of economy and greater efficiency."

Sticks to Testimony Against Atom Spies

New York, March 19 (AP)—David Greenglass has refused to recant on his testimony that helped get a death sentence for his sister and brother-in-law, atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

The Rosenberg attorney, Emanuel Bloch, said Greenglass' mother and a brother, Bernard, had visited him in prison and had discussed the case with him. The two are seeking to save the Rosenbergs.

Greenglass was quoted as telling his visitors that he told only the truth in his testimony against the Rosenbergs, now in the death house at Sing Sing Prison.

And, he was quoted, he was not coached by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the drawings of a lense mold for the atom bomb. He testified he gave the drawings to the Rosenbergs.

Greenglass now is serving 15 years in the federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa. He confessed to being a member of a wartime Russia spy ring and implicated the Rosenbergs, who have won a stay of execution to March 30 or beyond, pending the outcome of an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Two Convicts Are Indicted for Assault

Scranton, Pa., March 19 (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted two Eastern State Penitentiary convicts, now serving long terms for attempted armed robbery and felonious assault, in the kidnaping of a South Fallsburg, N. Y., trucker last August.

James Finnigan, 39, formerly of South Fallsburg, and Gerald E. Doughty, 29, of Columbus, O., already are serving six to 17 year sentences after pleading guilty last September to the holdup shooting of Willis Avery, a taxi driver, near Carbondale.

Acting U. S. Attorney Joseph C. Kreder asked for an indictment on the additional count of kidnaping, charging Finnigan and Doughty robbed Albert Thiel, 53, at Narrowsburg, N. Y., then forced him to drive them in his truck to a point near Beachlake, Pa. Avery was shot but recovered.

Crossing a state line in commission of a criminal act brings a case within federal jurisdiction. If convicted on the kidnapping charge, Finnigan and Doughty face maximum sentences of 25 years each on that count.

Sticks to Testimony Against Atom Spies

New York, March 19 (AP)—David Greenglass has refused to recant on his testimony that helped get a death sentence for his sister and brother-in-law, atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

The Rosenberg attorney, Emanuel Bloch, said Greenglass' mother and a brother, Bernard, had visited him in prison and had discussed the case with him. The two are seeking to save the Rosenbergs.

Greenglass was quoted as telling his visitors that he told only the truth in his testimony against the Rosenbergs, now in the death house at Sing Sing Prison.

And, he was quoted, he was not coached by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the drawings of a lense mold for the atom bomb. He testified he gave the drawings to the Rosenbergs.

Greenglass now is serving 15 years in the federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa. He confessed to being a member of a wartime Russia spy ring and implicated the Rosenbergs, who have won a stay of execution to March 30 or beyond, pending the outcome of an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The choir will present the anthem O Saviour Sweet by Dickinson under the direction of Frank Elmendorf, director. Following the service the choir will hold its weekly rehearsal in preparation for the music of the Easter season.

Two Convicts Are Indicted for Assault

Scranton, Pa., March 19 (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted two Eastern State Penitentiary convicts, now serving long terms for attempted armed robbery and felonious assault, in the kidnaping of a South Fallsburg, N. Y., trucker last August.

James Finnigan, 39, formerly of South Fallsburg, and Gerald E. Doughty, 29, of Columbus, O., already are serving six to 17 year sentences after pleading guilty last September to the holdup shooting of Willis Avery, a taxi driver, near Carbondale.

Acting U. S. Attorney Joseph C. Kreder asked for an indictment on the additional count of kidnaping, charging Finnigan and Doughty robbed Albert Thiel, 53, at Narrowsburg, N. Y., then forced him to drive them in his truck to a point near Beachlake, Pa. Avery was shot but recovered.

Crossing a state line in commission of a criminal act brings a case within federal jurisdiction. If convicted on the kidnapping charge, Finnigan and Doughty face maximum sentences of 25 years each on that count.

Teen Bandit Gets 95 Cents

New York, March 19 (AP)—Lois Flach, 14, was held by a teenage robber as she entered the hallway of her home at 2523 University avenue, the Bronx, late yesterday she told police. The bandit's age was estimated at 15. He poked her in the back with a hard object, she said, commanded "keep quiet" and fled with her handbag containing 95 cents.

BULLETS AND UN INVESTIGATION

The American and British planes shot down by Communist jets are not the accidental victims of a few trigger-happy Red pilots. Moscow does not operate so casually.

The attacks were coldly, deliberately planned, of course. The resulting loss of British lives is of no consequence to the Russians, since they have always approached the business of killing with a fine professional detachment. Our protests naturally were foredoomed.

Apparently the Kremlin had two chief purposes in ordering these attacks. At this moment Malenkov, the new premier, Molotov, Beria, Bulganin and their close supporters are deeply concerned with the task of cementing popular feeling behind this ruling clique that has succeeded Stalin. Incidents which can be blown up as "war scares" for domestic consumption help to produce solidarity.

Secondly, Moscow undoubtedly has read carefully all the free world's speculation about what the new regime means. The denizens of the Kremlin realize that until they do things in their own right, they are riding on Stalin's reputation.

Among other traits, Stalin had a reputation for being tough. The merest mention of his name chilled many a heart across the world. It would be no help to Russia's undiminished ambition of conquest if the new gang were to be regarded as "soft."

So, right off, Malenkov and Co. have acted to show the world they, too, are tough. The brazen assaults by Red jets are supposed to say: "We're hard as nails. So don't get any fancy ideas."

Now, plainly the Russians are not going to reform in these matters. We can protest until doomsday without effect. But it is imperative that we find some compelling means of stopping this tragic loss of western lives and equipment. We've done enough unwitting service of the Soviet propaganda machine.

Certainly our planes ought to be allowed to shoot back when any Russian aircraft comes menacingly close. Indeed, they could justifiably shoot first at any plane which violates Allied zonal borders in Germany or Austria, or western soil anywhere else in Europe. Border incidents do not provoke wars the way they once did, and are unlikely to do so in such cases as these.

For another thing, a protest delivered with documented detail before the United Nations might have an impact that our direct protests to Moscow clearly cannot have. The Russians would reply with their customary fake countercharges. But it would be interesting to see how their story would stand up against such hard facts as the downing of an American plane 15 miles inside Allied territory.

Bullets, which the Communists always understand, and real embarrassment before the world, which can genuinely affect Soviet policy, are two possible aids in a phase of the cold war that seems almost to defy solution. It is hard to see what else would probe the turtle's armor of the Krmelin's coldblooded cynics.

The Bundestag in West Germany is considering a bill which would give husbands the last word in dealings with wives. After this bill is disposed of the lawmakers might consider some legal action against the weather.

The American Toy Fair in New York recently exhibited the toys which will be sold across the counters of stores next Christmas. This news is encouraging for the youngsters and discouraging for the parents who are still trying to pay last Yule's bills.

Now that a successor to Stalin has been announced Americans can turn to the problem of which team has the best chance of succeeding the New York Yankees as world baseball champions.

Now is a time for Americans to keep their heads—and to pray that people of all other nations keep theirs.

HENRY FORD'S PROGRAM

It would be of value to know what ideas motivate Henry Ford II. He has apparently developed an economic program which, if carried out, would completely alter the economic and social character of the American society. Undoubtedly, Mr. Ford has no such intentions, but his program can have no other consequence.

What kind of a man Henry Ford II is, I do not know. He has inherited from his grandfather and father one of the greatest enterprises in the world. He has a large voice in the affairs of that curiosity among American institutions, The Ford Foundation. What his own contribution to American society can be is yet to be seen. Were his name not Henry Ford, it is doubtful whether his Four Point Program would be worthy even of this space, but the name, Henry Ford, is respected and admired because of the enormous achievements of the grandfather. Furthermore, The Ford Company and The Ford Foundation possess huge and potent facilities to promote his notions.

Henry Ford II's Four Point Program is as follows:

1. Abolish all tariffs;
2. Abolish all immigration quotas;
3. Banish the Buy American Program;
4. Simplify customs restrictions.

Let us analyze this program:

The American tariff has been a permanent institution in the American economy since Alexander Hamilton wrote his report on manufactures when George Washington was President. Whereas other areas of the Earth were exploited by the economic imperialism rampant in the 18th and 19th centuries, the tariff wall protected the United States from that peril. By preventing dumping of European and Asiatic commodities into our market, we have been able to build the largest industrial establishment in the world.

It is true that the necessity for tariffs on particular commodities changes from time to time. For instance, today a tariff on hats, ceramics, watches, briar pipes is more important than a tariff on walnuts. In a word, the tariff by itself is neither good nor bad, virtuous nor vicious. It is the tariff on particular commodities in relation to social and economic conditions in this country that matters.

Our wage scale and standard of living is based on the prevention of the rich American market becoming a dumping ground for cheap and slave labor. It would be possible to destroy even the automobile industry, which does not require the protection of a tariff, by throwing thousands of workers out of employment because of the dumping of foreign goods into this country.

Now, we come to the abolition of all immigration quotas. Precisely, what kind of an immigration system would Mr. Ford propose? We are living in an age of war, of the displacement of vast numbers of human beings. The situation is brutal and touches the heartstrings of all humane persons.

On the other hand, how many immigrants can this country receive? How many and what kinds of persons can our civilization swiftly assimilate? Are there no other areas on the face of the Earth suitable for persons unhappy where they are? What about Kenya, Canada, Brazil, and other inadequately populated areas? Israel ought to be encouraged and facilitated to accept more immigrants.

The "Buy American Program" cannot be rejected. It simply means that when it is possible, the United States Government purchases American goods in preference to alien goods. This program was established to provide increasing work for the unemployed. Would Mr. Ford have us purchase our war supplies from European countries? Would he buy European-made airplanes and tractors? Would he throw 10,000,000 Americans out of work, as they were from 1930 to 1938? If not, what does he mean?

The demand for a simplified customs procedure is a British demand designed to facilitate the dumping of British goods into this country. They are pushing this demand as hard as they can. If customs procedures require simplification, they should be accomplished without weakening our defenses against dumping.

Henry Ford II is conditioned by birth and opportunity to be of tremendous service to the United States. He can also do great harm if he accepts erroneous advice and reaches false conclusions. Paul Hoffman once wrote a book, "Peace Can Be Won," to which I have several times referred in this column. It is astonishing how close Mr. Ford's ideas are to those given in Mr. Hoffman's book. This is not guilt by association; it is evidence of a common pursuit of error.

That Body of Yours

HYGIENE OF THE EAR

It seems natural to many people to try to remove wax (cerumen) from the ears yet it is known that nature did not want this wax removed unless it became hardened and impacted. A little cerumen allows the ear drum to vibrate readily when sound strikes the drum. Also, tiny insects which enter the outer canal of the ear become imbedded in the wax and thus can do no damage to outer surface of the drum.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Dr. R. T. Barton, Associate Consultant in ear and throat, Student Health Service, University of Californit at Los Angeles, states that the old aphorism "Nothing smaller in your ear than your elbow" is still good advice. Many patients have unnecessary ear difficulties because they fail to heed such wisdom.

First difficulty is impacted cerumen (wax) in the outer canal, often caused by the patient digging into the canal with his finger in an attempt to scoop out cerumen. Usually he only pushes it farther in.

"Patients should be told that the normal ear drum does not need washing." However, when cerumen becomes packed and hardened, it affects hearing and should be removed. Although some patients are able to remove hardened cerumen by use of a solution of half strength peroxide of hydrogen left in for a few minutes and then the use of a powerful syringe with hot baking soda solution, cerumen should be removed by a physician, preferably an ear specialist.

Some patients have no trouble about hardened cerumen while others have to have it removed once or twice a year.

A very common symptom, which often prompts the patient to "clear out his ear" with a tiny pin, is itching which is often caused by a low form of inflammation (dermatitis) from eczema or a form of dandruff. "Patients should be told never to dig in the ear with a bobby pin, a pencil or any other such weapon. These patients often infect lining of ear causing severe swelling and they innocently explain that they scratched the ear with a bobby pin because it itched so badly."

As the ears should be dried after swimming because water may be imprisoned next to the cerumen, the suggestion is that our method used as youngsters is still a good way of removing water from the ears after swimming. This consisted of jumping on one foot with the head tilted to the affected side or by jarring the head with the palm but never by cupping the hand and applying pressure or suction as some of us did at times.

If jarring fails, a physician should remove the water by washing out the ear with alcohol and drying it with a cotton-tipped applicator.

The Common Cold

It has been estimated that more time is lost from work due to the common cold than any other single cause. Read Dr. Barton's helpful booklet entitled "The Common Cold" which may be obtained by sending 25 cents to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. The Annual Budget-Balancing Act

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — A complete overhaul of the U. S. tax system won't come before next year—if then.

The hard-headed new team at the U. S. Treasury, under Secretary George M. Humphrey, has become fully aware in its less than two months in office that it is much easier for politicians in a campaign to make promises to cut taxes than it is to carry them out.

The actual job of supervision over the tax program has been assigned to Undersecretary Marion B. Folsom, former Eastman Kodak official. Mr. Folsom has organized a new tax research and analysis staff under Dan Throop Smith, former professor of finance at Harvard School of Business Administration.

One of the most important legacies bequeathed to this new team by former Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder was a loose-leaf binder about two inches thick. It analyzes every tax reform proposed or considered in recent years. They are 43 in number.

Before the Republican tax team took office, its members had done some research of their own. They had asked all the tax associations and private research groups to recommend the dozen reforms they considered most important.

The first half-dozen recommendations came easily. Everyone wanted the excess-profits tax killed. A more rapid depreciation schedule was high on the list. So was the demand for removal of double taxation of dividends. Greater "tax incentives"—meaning, of course, lower taxes—were requested to encourage private investment in new enterprises.

Overhaul of Rate Schedule

There were many requests from specific industries on revision of federal excise tax schedules. Jewelry, luggage and theatre admissions are now taxed 20 per cent. Electric, gas and oil appliances, 10 per cent. Television, radio, phonographs, rubber goods and sporting goods, 10 per cent. Automobiles, 7 per cent. Trucks, 5 per cent. Electric energy, 3 1/3 per cent. And so on.

The point made is that these are unequal burdens on various industries. A general overhaul of the rate schedule is considered in order.

When all the suggestions from private business groups were listed, it was found that they still did not add up to the 43 proposals in Secretary Snyder's book. So that is being taken as a base for the new study on long-range tax reform.

Paralel to this is another research project being conducted for the Congress. Last year Colin F. Stam, counsel for the Joint Congressional Committee on Taxation, sent out a long questionnaire to get public suggestions on possible tax reforms. These answers are now being analyzed.

The Stam report, plus whatever recommendations Secretary Humphrey finally comes up with, will be the basis for congressional hearings later this year. There is now no thought of being able to effect complete tax reform all at one time. But if a dozen of the most important tax law revisions could be made next year, that would be considered a start in the right direction.

Duplicate Taxation Problems

One other factor bearing on this situation is President Eisenhower's proposal for a commission to study the relationship between federal and state governments. Elimination of duplicate taxation is one of the primary goals of this project.

But this field raises some little-understood problems. One proposal is to get the federal government out of the grant-in-aid program to the states for highway construction. This would be done by killing all federal taxes on gasoline and leaving that field of taxation to the states.

New York, with a large number of automobiles and big gas sales, would gain by this change. But states like Nevada would lose.

Similarly, it has been proposed that the states abandon income taxes, leaving this field exclusively to the federal government. Here New York would lose heavily. To states which do not levy an income tax it would make no difference.

The proposal to leave all sales and excise taxes to the states in exchange for abandoning their income taxes presents other complications. The point is that for every tax levy that is cut or abandoned, a substitute source of revenue must be found.

The substitutes may prove just as unpopular as the present taxes. This fact leads many practical politicians to the somewhat pessimistic conclusion that general tax reforms never will be accomplished. It's just an interesting theory to talk about.

The new team at the Treasury does not share this view.

Naval Blockade of Ceylon Is Urged to Keep Supplies From Going to Red China

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 18 — A clear-cut case for a naval blockade by the Western Allies on strategic materials destined for Red China from certain ports in Asia has been unwittingly made by the government of Ceylon.

Announcement that Ceylon, which is an independent British commonwealth, has rejected the pointed requests of Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, that Ceylon refrain from shipping 250,000 tons of rubber to the Communist Chinese leaves only one course open—to seize the ships and confiscate their cargoes and, if they resist, to sink the vessels.

Mr. Eden and the British government acted in good faith in drawing to the attention of the Ceylon government so promptly the terms of the agreement reached with Secretary of State Dulles a fortnight ago in Washington. Under the terms of that agreement, Great Britain was to refuse permission to any ships to refuel in her ports if they were carrying strategic materials to Red China. But, since Polish ships are to carry Ceylon's rubber and these are Diesel-powered and will not have to put in at British ports en route to Red China, the only possible way to stop the cargoes is to stop the ships.

The government of Ceylon professes to be opposed to Communism and its doctrines, but says very frankly its own paramount interest is money. That's but another way of saying that the lives of American boys and British boys and French boys and all the other troops of the United Nations are not to be saved by depriving the Red Chinese of war materials and that financial gain is more important.

The Ceylon government had a chance to sell its rubber to the United States but insisted on trying to gouge the American government by demanding a high price. Indeed, the Red Chinese paid a 40 per cent premium above the world price to get the rubber, and they arranged to pay for it by shipping rice to Ceylon.

The American government, under the Truman administration, promised to obtain the rice for Ceylon's people and also started a negotiation for "Point Four" economic aid to Ceylon. But it became apparent soon that the government of this so-called free nation was engaged in blackmail.

Hence, the American government put a limit on the price of the rubber and the negotiations collapsed. Then Ceylon, deliberately disregarding the plight of the soldiers of the free world, arranged to send rubber to help the Red Chinese trucks carry their munitions and to equip Red planes to drop bombs so that the murder on the Korean front might be prolonged.

The words of the Ceylon government, in seeking a few weeks ago to justify its action, sound empty in the face of the conditions in Korea. It isn't as if Ceylon's people would have been deprived of rice or of money for their rubber at the price prevailing at the Singapore market, but profiteers would not have got as much profit. Yet, the Ceylon government's statement says:

"The government of Ceylon has shared and will always share the aspirations of the Western democratic world in the preservation of democratic institutions and the democratic way of life, but it does not consider the mere formulation of political slogans and political doctrines can replace the sincere purpose and genuine will to cooperate internationally.

"In the present context, while the government of Ceylon is in complete sympathy with the democratic world in its opposition to Communism, it cannot be a party to any policy which sacrifices economic well-being for political expediency and so is apt to produce just those undesirable consequences which are sought to be avoided or eliminated."

Paraphrasing the above, what it means realistically is that Ceylon claims to be opposed to Communism and claims that it shares the aspirations of the West, but only as long as it cannot gain more profit by trading with the Communists than with the defenders of freedom in the world.

Americans have long memories and there may come a time when Ceylon will ask for admission to the United Nations or for "Point Four" aid from Congress. There may come a time when America will have to remember that, when the blood of her sons was flowing, the Ceylon government trafficked with the enemy and preferred to enrich itself. Under the circumstances, a naval blockade as well as a severance of diplomatic relations with Ceylon is in order. No diplomatic representatives of the Ceylon government should be permitted in Washington as long as the Ceylon rubber is being shipped to Red China to help kill American boys.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have a letter from Stanley Struble, of Cincinnati, who was the judge in the lawsuit whereby a group of local unions of teamsters finally broke the power of a grafting satrap appointed by Daniel J. Tobin, the national president, after a reign of 25 years. In all that time, this crook, by name Brocky Farrell, made no accounting to the underpaid teamsters and helpers. A restricted "accounting" was given in the end, but meanwhile Farrell had been the official good-time Charlie at many conventions, picking up the tabs for the booze and meals of a parasitic mob of panoplied pigs of the court circle. No reckoning of that squandering could be expected.

In actual fact, after Dan Tobin, the grand exalted fathead of the international, had appointed this graceless bum to represent his high office with plenary powers, like a court receiver but with even greater authority to loot and exploit, Farrell came to be known as the social bursar of the ruling grandees. The understanding was plain that here was a heartless oppression of poor, hard-working men and their families for the voluptuous pleasure of a gang of fakers who posed as defenders of the toiler against the avarice and heartlessness of employers.

Judge Struble, who has left the bench for private practice, agrees that Brocky Farrell was a dictator sent in to take charge of a whole group of local unions. Originally, these locals had brought ill-wind upon themselves by trying to improve their wages and working conditions.

After Farrell took charge, although Cincinnati is only a step from Indianapolis, then the national headquarters of the teamsters, the unfortunate workers lost all their rights, including even the right of protest.

The action before the court was a suit to remove Farrell as trustee of one local, and for a receiver and an accounting. The suit never was heard but was settled by agreement after Struble had issued a temporary injunction tying up the members' money in Farrell's custody.

Soon after the injunction was issued, Joe Padway came to town to represent the international. This greedy old shyster was general counsel for the entire A. F. of L. and a personal friend of the late Bill Green and his current successor, George Meany, who has been in the thick of things for many years. Padway was general counsel for a lot of other unions, also including the Browne-Bioff racket, which paid him lavishly although the faceless stiffs who put up the money never knew how much and he had clipped George Scalise for $1,000 as the price of his endorsement of an appeal for restitution of his right to vote which had been revoked when he went to prison for dragging a young girl around the country in a pup-tent in the train of a carnival. Scalise hustled up customers to be entertained in the tent and Joe Padway petitioned President Roosevelt to pardon him just before he was knocked off again. This time for union racketeering under the patronage of Padway and Green.

It is worthy of note that Willie Bioff, another lucrative Padway client, also had been convicted of acting as bargaining agent for prostitutes on his way to power in the AF of L. Padway pretended that he got his $1,000 from Scalise for writing a constitution for the building service workers and, when he was reminded that this constitution was full of absurdities, laid himself wide open by replying that Scalise never did adopt the new constitution which he claimed he wrote.

Judge Struble said Padway denied his jurisdiction, claiming that the union constitution provided that the persecuted Cincinnati teamsters must first exhaust all the "remedies" offered by the union's own jurisprudence.

"I had got hold of a copy of the constitution," Judge Struble writes, "and knew that the plaintiffs had no remedy within their union. I handed my copy to Padway and asked him to show me the provisions that gave the plaintiffs relief, and asked him if he wanted my opinion of the kind of government that he had set up for the teamsters. He said 'yes' and I said 'dictatorship.' I said trustees could be appointed to take charge of every teamsters' local in the country and keep control at the will of the international and in total disregard of the rights of the locals.

"Padway was unable to find any provision giving the plaintiffs relief. I then said, 'Brocky Farrell is the cause of an ugly labor situation in Cincinnati. He is in bad with labor and with the public. And you, instead of being in here to defend Farrell, ought to be here to clean up the situation.'"

Padway consented to negotiate but Judge Struble insisted on a primary condition that Farrell be thrown out absolutely. Struble also decreed that local elections be held, that the unions be returned to the members after a quarter of a century and that Farrell be required to "account" for any money then remaining in his hands.

Judge Struble approved a fee of

The American and British planes shot down by Communist jets are not the accidental victims of a few trigger-happy Red pilots. Moscow does not operate so casually.

The attacks were coldly, deliberately planned, of course. The resulting loss of British lives is of no consequence to the Russians, since they have always approached the business of killing with a fine professional detachment. Our protests naturally were foredoomed.

Apparently the Kremlin had two chief purposes in ordering these attacks. At this moment Malenkov, the new premier, Molotov, Beria, Bulganin and their close supporters are deeply concerned with the task of cementing popular feeling behind this ruling clique that has succeeded Stalin. Incidents which can be blown up as "war scares" for domestic consumption help to produce solidarity.

Secondly, Moscow undoubtedly has read carefully all the free world's speculation about what the new regime means. The denizens of the Kremlin realize that until they do things in their own right, they are riding on Stalin's reputation.

Among other traits, Stalin had a reputation for being tough. The merest mention of his name chilled many a heart across the world. It would be no help to Russia's undiminished ambition of conquest if the new gang were to be regarded as "soft."

So, right off, Malenkov and Co. have acted to show the world they, too, are tough. The brazen assaults by Red jets are supposed to say: "We're hard as nails. So don't get any fancy ideas."

Now, plainly the Russians are not going to reform in these matters. We can protest until doomsday without effect. But it is imperative that we find some compelling means of stopping this tragic loss of western lives and equipment. We've done enough unwitting service of the Soviet propaganda machine.

Certainly our planes ought to be allowed to shoot back when any Russian aircraft comes menacingly close. Indeed, they could justifiably shoot first at any plane which violates Allied zonal borders in Germany or Austria, or western soil anywhere else in Europe. Border incidents do not provoke wars the way they once did, and are unlikely to do so in such cases as these.

For another thing, a protest delivered with documented detail before the United Nations might have an impact that our direct protests to Moscow clearly cannot have. The Russians would reply with their customary fake countercharges. But it would be interesting to see how their story would stand up against such hard facts as the downing of an American plane 15 miles inside Allied territory.

Bullets, which the Communists always understand, and real embarrassment before the world, which can genuinely affect Soviet policy, are two possible aids in a phase of the cold war that seems almost to defy solution. It is hard to see what else would probe the turtle's armor of the Krmelin's coldblooded cynics.

The Bundestag in West Germany is considering a bill which would give husbands the last word in dealings with wives. After this bill is disposed of the lawmakers might consider some legal action against the weather.

The American Toy Fair in New York recently exhibited the toys which will be sold across the counters of stores next Christmas. This news is encouraging for the youngsters and discouraging for the parents who are still trying to pay last Yule's bills.

Now that a successor to Stalin has been announced Americans can turn to the problem of which team has the best chance of succeeding the New York Yankees as world baseball champions.

Now is a time for Americans to keep their heads—and to pray that people of all other nations keep theirs.

HENRY FORD'S PROGRAM

It would be of value to know what ideas motivate Henry Ford II. He has apparently developed an economic program which, if carried out, would completely alter the economic and social character of the American society. Undoubtedly, Mr. Ford has no such intentions, but his program can have no other consequence.

What kind of a man Henry Ford II is, I do not know. He has inherited from his grandfather and father one of the greatest enterprises in the world. He has a large voice in the affairs of that curiosity among American institutions, The Ford Foundation. What his own contribution to American society can be is yet to be seen. Were his name not Henry Ford, it is doubtful whether his Four Point Program would be worthy even of this space, but the name, Henry Ford, is respected and admired because of the enormous achievements of the grandfather. Furthermore, The Ford Company and The Ford Foundation possess huge and potent facilities to promote his notions.

Henry Ford II's Four Point Program is as follows:

1. Abolish all tariffs;
2. Abolish all immigration quotas;
3. Banish the Buy American Program;
4. Simplify customs restrictions.

Let us analyze this program:

The American tariff has been a permanent institution in the American economy since Alexander Hamilton wrote his report on manufactures when George Washington was President. Whereas other areas of the Earth were exploited by the economic imperialism rampant in the 18th and 19th centuries, the tariff wall protected the United States from that peril. By preventing dumping of European and Asiatic commodities into our market, we have been able to build the largest industrial establishment in the world.

It is true that the necessity for tariffs on particular commodities changes from time to time. For instance, today a tariff on hats, ceramics, watches, briar pipes is more important than a tariff on walnuts. In a word, the tariff by itself is neither good nor bad, virtuous nor vicious. It is the tariff on particular commodities in relation to social and economic conditions in this country that matters.

Our wage scale and standard of living is based on the prevention of the rich American market becoming a dumping ground for cheap and slave labor. It would be possible to destroy even the automobile industry, which does not require the protection of a tariff, by throwing thousands of workers out of employment because of the dumping of foreign goods into this country.

Now, we come to the abolition of all immigration quotas. Precisely, what kind of an immigration system would Mr. Ford propose? We are living in an age of war, of the displacement of vast numbers of human beings. The situation is brutal and touches the heartstrings of all humane persons.

On the other hand, how many immigrants can this country receive? How many and what kinds of persons can our civilization swiftly assimilate? Are there no other areas on the face of the Earth suitable for persons unhappy where they are? What about Kenya, Canada, Brazil, and other inadequately populated areas? Israel ought to be encouraged and facilitated to accept more immigrants.

The "Buy American Program" cannot be rejected. It simply means that when it is possible, the United States Government purchases American goods in preference to alien goods. This program was established to provide increasing work for the unemployed. Would Mr. Ford have us purchase our war supplies from European countries? Would he buy European-made airplanes and tractors? Would he throw 10,000,000 Americans out of work, as they were from 1930 to 1938? If not, what does he mean?

The demand for a simplified customs procedure is a British demand designed to facilitate the dumping of British goods into this country. They are pushing this demand as hard as they can. If customs procedures require simplification, they should be accomplished without weakening our defenses against dumping.

Henry Ford II is conditioned by birth and opportunity to be of tremendous service to the United States. He can also do great harm if he accepts erroneous advice and reaches false conclusions. Paul Hoffman once wrote a book, "Peace Can Be Won," to which I have several times referred in this column. It is astonishing how close Mr. Ford's ideas are to those given in Mr. Hoffman's book. This is not guilt by association; it is evidence of a common pursuit of error.

That Body of Yours

HYGIENE OF THE EAR

It seems natural to many people to try to remove wax (cerumen) from the ears yet it is known that nature did not want this wax removed unless it became hardened and impacted. A little cerumen allows the ear drum to vibrate readily when sound strikes the drum. Also, tiny insects which enter the outer canal of the ear become imbedded in the wax and thus can do no damage to outer surface of the drum.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Dr. R. T. Barton, Associate Consultant in ear and throat, Student Health Service, University of Californit at Los Angeles, states that the old aphorism "Nothing smaller in your ear than your elbow" is still good advice. Many patients have unnecessary ear difficulties because they fail to heed such wisdom.

First difficulty is impacted cerumen (wax) in the outer canal, often caused by the patient digging into the canal with his finger in an attempt to scoop out cerumen. Usually he only pushes it farther in.

"Patients should be told that the normal ear drum does not need washing." However, when cerumen becomes packed and hardened, it affects hearing and should be removed. Although some patients are able to remove hardened cerumen by use of a solution of half strength peroxide of hydrogen left in for a few minutes and then the use of a powerful syringe with hot baking soda solution, cerumen should be removed by a physician, preferably an ear specialist.

Some patients have no trouble about hardened cerumen while others have to have it removed once or twice a year.

A very common symptom, which often prompts the patient to "clear out his ear" with a tiny pin, is itching which is often caused by a low form of inflammation (dermatitis) from eczema or a form of dandruff. "Patients should be told never to dig in the ear with a bobby pin, a pencil or any other such weapon. These patients often infect lining of ear causing severe swelling and they innocently explain that they scratched the ear with a bobby pin because it itched so badly."

As the ears should be dried after swimming because water may be imprisoned next to the cerumen, the suggestion is that our method used as youngsters is still a good way of removing water from the ears after swimming. This consisted of jumping on one foot with the head tilted to the affected side or by jarring the head with the palm but never by cupping the hand and applying pressure or suction as some of us did at times.

If jarring fails, a physician should remove the water by washing out the ear with alcohol and drying it with a cotton-tipped applicator.

The Common Cold

It has been estimated that more time is lost from work due to the common cold than any other single cause. Read Dr. Barton's helpful booklet entitled "The Common Cold" which may be obtained by sending 25 cents to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. The Annual Budget-Balancing Act

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — A complete overhaul of the U. S. tax system won't come before next year—if then.

The hard-headed new team at the U. S. Treasury, under Secretary George M. Humphrey, has become fully aware in its less than two months in office that it is much easier for politicians in a campaign to make promises to cut taxes than it is to carry them out.

The actual job of supervision over the tax program has been assigned to Undersecretary Marion B. Folsom, former Eastman Kodak official. Mr. Folsom has organized a new tax research and analysis staff under Dan Throop Smith, former professor of finance at Harvard School of Business Admininstration.

One of the most important legacies bequeathed to this new team by former Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder was a loose-leaf binder about two inches thick. It analyzes every tax reform proposed or considered in recent years. They are 43 in number.

Before the Republican tax team took office, its members had done some research of their own. They had asked all the tax associations and private research groups to recommend the dozen reforms they considered most important.

The first half-dozen recommendations came easily. Everyone wanted the excess-profits tax killed. A more rapid depreciation schedule was high on the list. So was the demand for removal of double taxation of dividends. Greater "tax incentives"—meaning, of course, lower taxes—were requested to encourage private investment in new enterprises.

Overhaul of Rate Schedule

There were many requests from specific industries on revision of federal excise tax schedules. Jewelry, luggage and theatre admissions are now taxed 20 per cent. Electric, gas and oil appliances, 10 per cent. Television, radio, phonographs, rubber goods and sporting goods, 10 per cent. Automobiles, 7 per cent. Trucks, 5 per cent. Electric energy, 3 1/3 per cent. And so on.

The point made is that these are unequal burdens on various industries. A general overhaul of the rate schedule is considered in order.

When all the suggestions from private business groups were listed, it was found that they still did not add up to the 43 proposals in Secretary Snyder's book. So that is being taken as a base for the new study on long-range tax reform.

Paralel to this is another research project being conducted for the Congress. Last year Colin F. Stam, counsel for the Joint Congressional Committee on Taxation, sent out a long questionnaire to get public suggestions on possible tax reforms. These answers are now being analyzed.

The Stam report, plus whatever recommendations Secretary Humphrey finally comes up with, will be the basis for congressional hearings later this year. There is now no thought of being able to effect complete tax reform all at one time. But if a dozen of the most important tax law revisions could be made next year, that would be considered a start in the right direction.

Duplicate Taxation Problems

One other factor bearing on this situation is President Eisenhower's proposal for a commission to study the relationship between federal and state governments. Elimination of duplicate taxation is one of the primary goals of this project.

But this field raises some little-understood problems. One proposal is to get the federal government out of the grant-in-aid program to the states for highway construction. This would be done by killing all federal taxes on gasoline and leaving that field of taxation to the states.

New York, with a large number of automobiles and big gas sales, would gain by this change. But states like Nevada would lose.

Similarly, it has been proposed that the states abandon income taxes, leaving this field exclusively to the federal government. Here New York would lose heavily. To states which do not levy an income tax it would make no difference.

The proposal to leave all sales and excise taxes to the states in exchange for abandoning their income taxes presents other complications. The point is that for every tax levy that is cut or abandoned, a substitute source of revenue must be found.

The substitutes may prove just as unpopular as the present taxes. This fact leads many practical politicians to the somewhat pessimistic conclusion that general tax reforms never will be accomplished. It's just an interesting theory to talk about.

The new team at the Treasury does not share this view.

Naval Blockade of Ceylon Is Urged to Keep Supplies From Going to Red China

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 18 — A clear-cut case for a naval blockade by the Western Allies on strategic materials destined for Red China from certain ports in Asia has been unwittingly made by the government of Ceylon.

Announcement that Ceylon, which is an independent British commonwealth, has rejected the pointed requests of Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, that Ceylon refrain from shipping 250,000 tons of rubber to the Communist Chinese leaves only one course open—to seize the ships and confiscate their cargoes and, if they resist, to sink the vessels.

Mr. Eden and the British government acted in good faith in drawing to the attention of the Ceylon government so promptly the terms of the agreement reached with Secretary of State Dulles a fortnight ago in Washington. Under the terms of that agreement, Great Britain was to refuse permission to any ships to refuel in her ports if they were carrying strategic materials to Red China. But, since Polish ships are to carry Ceylon's rubber and these are Diesel-powered and will not have to put in at British ports en route to Red China, the only possible way to stop the cargoes is to stop the ships.

The government of Ceylon professes to be opposed to Communism and its doctrines, but says very frankly its own paramount interest is money. That's but another way of saying that the lives of American boys and British boys and French boys and all the other troops of the United Nations are not to be saved by depriving the Red Chinese of war materials and that financial gain is more important.

The Ceylon government had a chance to sell its rubber to the United States but insisted on trying to gouge the American government by demanding a high price. Indeed, the Red Chinese paid a 40 per cent premium above the world price to get the rubber, and they arranged to pay for it by shipping rice to Ceylon.

The American government, under the Truman administration, promised to obtain the rice for Ceylon's people and also started a negotiation for "Point Four" economic aid to Ceylon. But it became apparent soon that the government of this so-called free nation was engaged in blackmail.

Hence, the American government put a limit on the price of the rubber and the negotiations collapsed. Then Ceylon, deliberately disregarding the plight of the soldiers of the free world, arranged to send rubber to help the Red Chinese trucks carry their munitions and to equip Red planes to drop bombs so that the murder on the Korean front might be prolonged.

The words of the Ceylon government, in seeking a few weeks ago to justify its action, sound empty in the face of the conditions in Korea. It isn't as if Ceylon's people would have been deprived of rice or of money for their rubber at the price prevailing at the Singapore market, but profiteers would not have got as much profit. Yet, the Ceylon government's statement says:

"The government of Ceylon has shared and will always share the aspirations of the Western democratic world in the preservation of democratic institutions and the democratic way of life, but it does not consider the mere formulation of political slogans and political doctrines can replace the sincere purpose and genuine will to cooperate internationally.

"In the present context, while the government of Ceylon is in complete sympathy with the democratic world in its opposition to Communism, it cannot be a party to any policy which sacrifices economic well-being for political expediency and so is apt to produce just those undesirable consequences which are sought to be avoided or eliminated."

Paraphrasing the above, what it means realistically is that Ceylon claims to be opposed to Communism and claims that it shares the aspirations of the West, but only as long as it cannot gain more profit by trading with the Communists than with the defenders of freedom in the world.

Americans have long memories and there may come a time when Ceylon will ask for admission to the United Nations or for "Point Four" aid from Congress. There may come a time when America will have to remember that, when the blood of her sons was flowing, the Ceylon government trafficked with the enemy and preferred to enrich itself. Under the circumstances, a naval blockade as well as a severance of diplomatic relations with Ceylon is in order. No diplomatic representatives of the Ceylon government should be permitted in Washington as long as the Ceylon rubber is being shipped to Red China to help kill American boys.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have a letter from Stanley Struble, of Cincinnati, who was the judge in the lawsuit whereby a group of local unions of teamsters finally broke the power of a grafting satrap appointed by Daniel J. Tobin, the national president, after a reign of 25 years. In all that time, this crook, by name Brocky Farrell, made no accounting to the underpaid teamsters and helpers. A restricted "accounting" was given in the end, but meanwhile Farrell had been the official good-time Charlie at many conventions, picking up the tabs for the booze and meals of a parasitic mob of panoplied pigs of the court circle. No reckoning of that squandering could be expected.

In actual fact, after Dan Tobin, the grand exalted fathead of the international, had appointed this graceless bum to represent his high office with plenary powers, like a court receiver but with even greater authority to loot and exploit, Farrell came to be known as the social bursar of the ruling grandees. The understanding was plain that here was a heartless oppression of poor, hard-working men and their families for the voluptuous pleasure of a gang of fakers who posed as defenders of the toiler against the avarice and heartlessness of employers.

Judge Struble, who has left the bench for private practice, agrees that Brocky Farrell was a dictator sent in to take charge of a whole group of local unions. Originally, these locals had brought ill-wind upon themselves by trying to improve their wages and working conditions.

After Farrell took charge, although Cincinnati is only a step from Indianapolis, then the national headquarters of the teamsters, the unfortunate workers lost all their rights, including even the right of protest.

The action before the court was a suit to remove Farrell as trustee of one local, and for a receiver and an accounting. The suit never was heard but was settled by agreement after Struble had issued a temporary injunction tying up the members' money in Farrell's custody.

Soon after the injunction was issued, Joe Padway came to town to represent the international. This greedy old shyster was general counsel for the entire A. F. of L. and a personal friend of the late Bill Green and his current successor, George Meany, who has been in the thick of things for many years. Padway was general counsel for a lot of other unions, also including the Browne-Bioff racket, which paid him lavishly although the faceless stiffs who put up the money never knew how much and he had clipped George Scalise for $1,000 as the price of his endorsement of an appeal for restitution of his right to vote which had been revoked when he went to prison for dragging a young girl around the country in a pup-tent in the train of a carnival. Scalise hustled up customers to be entertained in the tent and Joe Padway petitioned President Roosevelt to pardon him just before he was knocked off again. This time for union racketeering under the patronage of Padway and Green.

It is worthy of note that Willie Bioff, another lucrative Padway client, also had been convicted of acting as bargaining agent for prostitutes on his way to power in the AF of L. Padway pretended that he got his $1,000 from Scalise for writing a constitution for the building service workers and, when he was reminded that this constitution was full of absurdities, laid himself wide open by replying that Scalise never did adopt the new constitution which he claimed he wrote.

Judge Struble said Padway denied his jurisdiction, claiming that the union constitution provided that the persecuted Cincinnati teamsters must first exhaust all the "remedies" offered by the union's own jurisprudence.

"I had got hold of a copy of the constitution," Judge Struble writes, "and knew that the plaintiffs had no remedy within their union. I handed my copy to Padway and asked him to show me the provisions that gave the plaintiffs relief, and asked him if he wanted my opinion of the kind of government that he had set up for the teamsters. He said 'yes' and I said 'dictatorship.' I said trustees could be appointed to take charge of every teamsters' local in the country and keep control at the will of the international and in total disregard of the rights of the locals.

"Padway was unable to find any provision giving the plaintiffs relief. I then said, 'Brocky Farrell is the cause of an ugly labor situation in Cincinnati. He is in bad with labor and with the public. And you, instead of being in here to defend Farrell, ought to be here to clean up the situation.'"

Padway consented to negotiate but Judge Struble insisted on a primary condition that Farrell be thrown out absolutely. Struble also decreed that local elections be held, that the unions be returned to the members after a quarter of a century and that Farrell be required to "account" for any money then remaining in his hands.

Judge Struble approved a fee of

Shokan

Shokan, March 19 — Rudolph Juralek of Sullivan county is spending a few days at the home of his sister Mrs. Thord Fredenholm in the village center. Rudy while here is breaking ground for the foundation of an addition to his Onteora Trail house which he bought of Allen Terwilliger last year.

Callers here Monday included Herbert Scheringer, Krumville road man whose unique arrangement of wagon wheels and old lanterns furnishes one of the interesting sights in that part of Olive. Herb, whose family includes eight boys, has been offered a large sum for his ingeniously fashioned roadside attraction. He has recently erected a shop building on property which he owns near the intersection of the High Falls and Ellenville roads.

John Scudder and Cecil Powell were employed a whole week in hauling hay from Oneida to Halcottville, according to the Catskill Mountain News which says that many local farmers are already buying hay for their stock. It seems that dairy farmers up in the state's top ranking milk country are wintering so much more livestock, that the farm hay crop just doesn't carry them through to pasture time (traditionally May 10 in Ulster but probably a week or two later up there).

Jack Doyle was numbered among Kingstonians calling in the hub of the reservoir county Monday. The young man is more familiarly known to sports fans as "Big Jack Doyle," one of three brothers who are included in an Esopus sponsored basketball team. Jack is married and has two children.

Echoes of Waterworks Days: March 18, 1913—Assemblyman Eldridge Gathright (Brown's Station) makes strong argument against bill to practically exempt New York city property in the Ashokan Reservoir section from taxes. Said city had acquired 8,000 acres in a fertile part of the town of Olive. . . . Real estate transfers: Charles Giles - George Giles, Shokan; Aulden Van Benschoten and others - Lyman Smith (present LePaige place); Asa B. Eckert - Francis Hogan (now Fred Gulnac farm).

Some 40 taxpayers of the former Olive No. 3 school district turned out Thursday evening to vote on the matter of conveying the Shokan schoolhouse and lot to the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church. The decision was favorable and will probably result in the Reformed people acquiring, for the modest sum of $1, a valuable property, including an excellent driven well from which water can be piped to the church and parsonage.

Speculate About Talks

Vienna, Austria, March 18 (AP)—Western diplomats in Vienna speculated today that military talks between Russia and her East European satellites may be taking place in Prague under Soviet War Minister Nikolai A. Bulganin. Refugees arriving in Germany reported Monday that a military alliance among Czechoslovakia, Poland and East Germany, in coordination with Hungary, has been discussed recently within the Czech army. Bulganin arrived in Prague last night from Moscow to attend the funeral of Czech President Klement Gottwald tomorrow.

Must 'Cut' 4 Billion

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said today a four billion dollar cut in former President Truman's spending estimates may be enough to balance the federal budget in the year beginning July 1. Taft, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he believes that from 1½ to two billion dollars can be whacked off the cost of civilian activities but the remainder will have to come off the military program. His budget balancing estimates are much lower than those previously made by other congressional leaders.

Baking Easter Hams Is Easy

TRADITIONAL FAVORITE for Easter dinner is a baked ham, delicately glazed and garnished with fresh asparagus.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Midwestern cooks are worthy of attention. So let's listen to Beth Bailey McLean (one of the very best and director of Swift and Company home economic laboratories in Chicago. Here's her advice on preparing the Easter ham.

The Easter ham tradition harkens back to the early days of our country when the butchering was done in the late winter months and the hams and bacon slabs "put down" for curing. By Easter time the hams were ready for the wonderful feast heralding the end of Lent and the glorious beginning of spring.

The ease of preparation of our modern hams, would have seemed like a miracle to early homemakers.

Choose a whole or half ham, either one that requires additional cooking before serving, or one that is fully cooked and requires only heating through before serving. Allow ½ to ¾ pound of uncooked ham and 1/3 pound of the fully cooked ham per serving.

A whole ham or the full butt half lend themselves best to handsome scoring and glazing and provide more generous servings.

Follow the directions on the wrapper or tag attached to the meat. Or, place the ham fat-side-up on a rack set in a roasting pan. Do not add water or cover the pan and roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.).

For the most accurate guide to doneness, insert a roast meat thermometer in the center of the thickest muscle, making certain it is not touching fat or bone. Roast a fully cooked ham about 10 minutes to the pound to an internal temperature of 130 degrees F.

A 5-pound half ham of the cook-before-eating style will require about 2¼ hours to bring it to the 150 degrees F. temperature that experts recommend. A 9-pound whole ham will require 3 hours, an 11-pound ham, 3¼ hours and a 13-pound ham, 3½ hours to come to 150 degrees F.

After the ham is cooked and before glazing, remove the meat from the oven and pour off the drippings to save for pan frying and sauces. Remove the skin and score the ham into diamond shapes. Cover with marmalade, brown sugar and mustard, honey or other favorite glaze. Return to the oven and heat at 400 degrees F. for 15 to 20 minutes.

After the holiday, the leftover ham is the basis for many wonderful quick meals.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, ready-to-eat cereal, poached eggs on toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Cottage cheese and chopped raw vegetable salad, sour cream dressing, whole wheat toast, butter or margarine, baked apples, tea, milk.

EASTER DINNER: Oyster bisque, crackers, baked glazed ham with carrot tulips, fluffy mashed potatoes with grated cheese top, buttered new asparagus, Parker House rolls, butter or margarine, watercress and grapefruit section salad, French dressing, meringue cake with fresh strawberry ice cream, coffee, milk.

Quits 'Elephant Walk'

Hollywood, March 18 (AP)—British actress Vivien Leigh is dropping out of the movie "Elephant Walk," now under production, and will return to England with her husband, Laurence Olivier, as soon as her physicians say she can travel. Miss Leigh was forced to go to bed last Wednesday. Her studio said yesterday she was quitting the picture because of an acute nervous breakdown. Olivier, who was vacationing in Italy, flew here at once.

First Census

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia (AP)—The first census in the history of Addis Ababa makes it the largest city in East Africa. The census gives the city a population of 401,000. This, however, is at variance with other estimates. For example, the latest British Great Encyclopedia of Universal Knowledge gives Addis Ababa a population of 100,000. The American Information Please Almanac (1952) gives it as 250,000, while the American New Modern Encyclopedia lists it as about 70,000.

Picks Old Bomb

Berlin, March 18 (AP)—The battle of Berlin took three lives today nearly eight years after it ended. Helmut Menschel struck a war-time German mine with his pick during road work in the American sector borough of Lichtenrade. It exploded, killing him and two others. Four other workers were seriously injured.

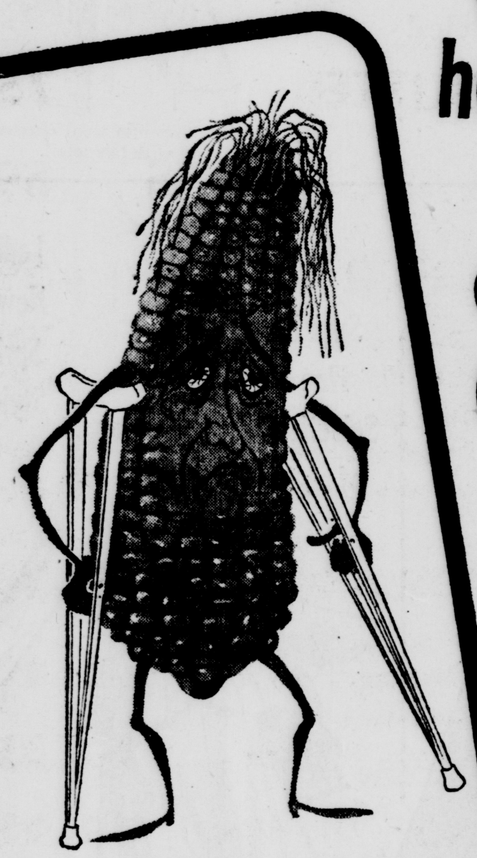
Here's how to pick good Corn



ELDERLY CORN

When its kernels begin to dimple that means age in an ear of corn. Or when your thumbnail can't make them pop, that corn's youth has departed. It's too-old corn, tough-skinned. Picked too late, it is no longer tender. Naturally, elderly corn is bigger-eared than young corn and yields more packages, but — that explains why some frozen corn sells for lower prices.

YOUTHFUL CORN

Give young corn like this the thumbnail test and its tender, milky kernels pop open at the slightest pressure. This is the kind of corn that makes Dulany Frozen Corn so delightfully good. We pluck the plumpest young ears at the just-right time, husk 'em while that surprised look is still on their faces — and shear the chunky golden nuggets from the cob before time has a chance to toughen 'em. And that's why people ask, again and again, for Dulany Frozen Corn.

and NOW you know Corn!

The ease of preparation of our modern hams, would have seemed like a miracle to early homemakers.

Choose a whole or half ham, either one that requires additional cooking before serving, or one that is fully cooked and requires only heating through before serving. Allow ½ to ¾ pound of uncooked ham and 1/3 pound of the fully cooked ham per serving.

A whole ham or the full butt half lend themselves best to handsome scoring and glazing and provide more generous servings.

Follow the directions on the wrapper or tag attached to the meat. Or, place the ham fat-side-up on a rack set in a roasting pan. Do not add water or cover the pan and roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.).

For the most accurate guide to doneness, insert a roast meat thermometer in the center of the thickest muscle, making certain it is not touching fat or bone. Roast a fully cooked ham about 10 minutes to the pound to an internal temperature of 130 degrees F.

A 5-pound half ham of the cook-before-eating style will require about 2¼ hours to bring it to the 150 degrees F. temperature that experts recommend. A 9-pound whole ham will require 3 hours, an 11-pound ham, 3¼ hours and a 13-pound ham, 3½ hours to come to 150 degrees F.

After the ham is cooked and before glazing, remove the meat from the oven and pour off the drippings to save for pan frying and sauces. Remove the skin and score the ham into diamond shapes. Cover with marmalade, brown sugar and mustard, honey or other favorite glaze. Return to the oven and heat at 400 degrees F. for 15 to 20 minutes.

After the holiday, the leftover ham is the basis for many wonderful quick meals.

Quits 'Elephant Walk'

Hollywood, March 18 (AP)—British actress Vivien Leigh is dropping out of the movie "Elephant Walk," now under production, and will return to England with her husband, Laurence Olivier, as soon as her physicians say she can travel. Miss Leigh was forced to go to bed last Wednesday. Her studio said yesterday she was quitting the picture because of an acute nervous breakdown. Olivier, who was vacationing in Italy, flew here at once.

First Census

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia (AP)—The first census in the history of Addis Ababa makes it the largest city in East Africa. The census gives the city a population of 401,000. This, however, is at variance with other estimates. For example, the latest British Great Encyclopedia of Universal Knowledge gives Addis Ababa a population of 100,000. The American Information Please Almanac (1952) gives it as 250,000, while the American New Modern Encyclopedia lists it as about 70,000.

Picks Old Bomb

Berlin, March 18 (AP)—The battle of Berlin took three lives today nearly eight years after it ended. Helmut Menschel struck a war-time German mine with his pick during road work in the American sector borough of Lichtenrade. It exploded, killing him and two others. Four other workers were seriously injured.

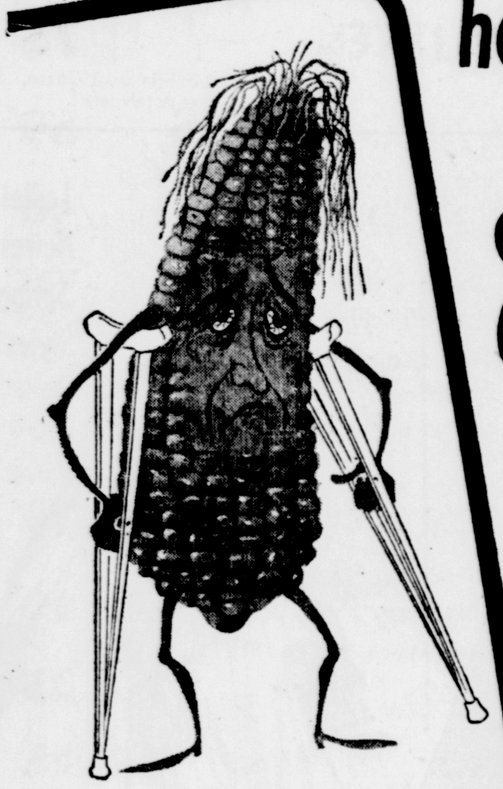
Here's how to pick good Corn



ELDERLY CORN

When its kernels begin to dimple that means age in an ear of corn. Or when your thumbnail can't make them pop, that corn's youth has departed. It's too-old corn, tough-skinned. Picked too late, it is no longer tender. Naturally, elderly corn is bigger-eared than young corn and yields more packages, but — that explains why some frozen corn sells for lower prices.

YOUTHFUL CORN

Give young corn like this the thumbnail test and its tender, milky kernels pop open at the slightest pressure. This is the kind of corn that makes Dulany Frozen Corn so delightfully good. We pluck the plumpest young ears at the just-right time, husk 'em while that surprised look is still on their faces — and shear the chunky golden nuggets from the cob before time has a chance to toughen 'em. And that's why people ask, again and again, for Dulany Frozen Corn.

and NOW you know Corn!

Dulany

Rosendale

Rosendale, March 18 — Annual Irish Night was held Saturday night under the auspices of St. Peter's Church and school of Rosendale in St. Peter's school hall. Approximately 700 people turned out to see one of the best affairs of recent years. A variety show was first presented, followed by a dance, with Roger Thorpe and his orchestra furnishing the music. The stage show, consisting mostly of local talent, was made up of the following: Vocalists, rendering a variety of Irish popular melodies — Diane Redmond, Mary Redmond, Bridie Reed, Hal Runkle, Dorothy Einemann, Peggy VanLoan, Rose Ann Redmond, Michael Redmond, William Livingston, Willie Salewski and Theda Sutton. Cameron Rylance of Kingston was accompanist for several of the vocal numbers. The school children, under the direction of the Dominican Sisters, gave an excellent performance of choral singing and dancing. An Irish square set, composed of Lois Bayersdorfer, Doris Bayersdorfer, Bridie Reed and Anthony Erceg received much applause, as did two trios of tap dancers, consisting of Rose Mary Crookston, Peggy Russell and Bobby Fisher; and Sylvia Sicheri, Nona DeBrosky and Jo Ann Bianco. Helmut Salewski, popular young accordionist, played an accordion solo. Comedy was supplied by Florence Celuch, and Peter Matthews played a banjo mandolin. Joe O'Connor acted as master of ceremonies for the show, which was under the direction of Joseph Stein. Much credit goes to the women of the parish for their splendid work in preparing the hall for the occasion, and in serving refreshments to the large crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Deyo and daughter Diane, Tillson, visited Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Van Nosdall in Poughkeepsie Sunday.

Marine Raiders Smash Chinese Getting Ready for Front Drive

Seoul, March 19 (AP)—U. S. Marine raiders, striking in predawn fog and rain with flamethrowers and bayonets, smashed a Chinese company today as the Reds grouped for an assault on allied western front positions.

The U. S. Eighth Army communique late today reported the raid followed two company-size Chinese attacks on marine positions shortly after midnight.

It said the Chinese overran the northern flank of a forward position southwest of Bunker Hill, but that the Reds were forced to withdraw after a thre-hour fight in which 40 Chinese were counted killed, 50 more estimated killed and 65 estimated wounded.

A second Chinese company hit a forward position northeast of Bunker Hill but was hurled back after losing nine men, the Eighth Army said.

The communique said there was no estimate of Communist casualties in the marine raid on the Chinese outpost—a counter-attack which closely followed the two Red assaults.

"We killed a lot of them," said one of the raiders, Pfc. William W. Weitzel of Sinking Springs, Pa. "We could hear their wounded moaning out beyond the wire."

Action Near Panmunjom

The action—some five miles northeast of Panmunjom, the truce conference site—was the heaviest reported today along the twisting, 155-mile Korean front. The drizzling rain hampered aerial strikes.

However, B-26 night bombers blasted Communist supply arteries leading south from Pyongyang, the Korean red capital, before the weather closed in. The Fifth Air Force reported 85 trucks were destroyed and several road bridges hit.

Fourteen Japan-based B-29s dumped 140 tons of bombs on Ansim, Red supply center 12 miles south of Huichon in north-central Korea. The air force said it was the first raid on Ansim.

The marines, wearing armored vests, began their raid behind heavy artillery and tank fire. Then the men carrying the flamethrowers moved out.

Fought With Bayonets

"We spotted fighting holes and bunkers by the light of our own throwers," said one. "We really scorched that area for the men moving up behind us."

Behind the flamethrowers came raiders with fixed bayonets. They leaped into the smoking trenches and bunkers and battled the Chinese for more than an hour. They said the Reds who were able finally ran. Then the marines pulled back to their own positions.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported 10 minor Communist probes elsewhere on the front during the night. On the far eastern front, Republic of Korea (ROK) patrols reported killing 54 North Koreans in patrol skirmishes.

Find Skeleton on Dump

Pownal, Vt., March 19 (AP)—State Police Sgt. Albert Christie said today a skeleton found in a box on a dump probably was that of a small boy. The bones were found yesterday in an 18-inch-square wooden box, five miles from where Paula Weldon, 18-year-old Bennington College student vanished in 1946. Neither state police nor State Attorney Stephen Gilman would say whether they believed the skeleton to be that of Miss Weldon or eight-year-old Paul Pepson, who disappeared from the vicinity more than two years ago.

No Immediate Comment

United Nations, March 19 (AP)—UN diplomats hoped today for an early Russian reply to U. S. demands that Soviet Prime Minister Georgi M. Malenkov prove his vaunted desire for peace by negotiating "in good faith" for world disarmament. They may have to wait until Andrei Y. Vishinsky returns March 26 from talks in Moscow.

To Ike Its War

Washington, March 19 (AP)—To President Eisenhower that prolonged and bloody conflict in Korea is a war, not a police action. Eisenhower told his news conference today that when he sees American soldiers called out to serve, serving as they have in Korea and suffering the casaulties there he thought it must be called a war.

New Paltz, March 19—Mrs. Walter Rost, co-chairman for the Red Cross Drive, reports that four volunteers have offered to canvass in areas where no solicitors had been assigned. They are Mrs. Joseph Triolo, Miss Joan Van Kleeck, Mrs. John Martin and Elward Ashton. Satisfactory progress is reported.

Hurley Gives $507 To Polio Campaign

The 1953 March of Dimes drive in the town of Hurley amounted to $507.63, an increase of $100 over last year's figures, Ernest Myer, chairman, said today.

The amount includes $175.10 from the West Hurley district where Mrs. Howard Every was in charge. Schools of the town totaled $85.15 with William O'Kelly in charge. Mrs. Wesley O'Brien represented Glenford with $5 from the Queen Esther Society.

The Hurley 4-H Busy Bees, Myer said, donated $5 while the Hurley Grange contributed $12 from a box social.

The remainder of the money was returned with envelopes mailed to each family and also from the iron lung boxes in the various places of business.

Final Homage Paid Gottwald at Rites

Vienna, Austria, March 19 (AP)—Leaders from the Soviet Union and her satellites paid final homage in Prague today to President Klement Gottwald as the man who tied once Democratic Czechoslovakia to the Communist world dominated by Moscow.

The Czech and Soviet national anthems opened the funeral service in the Spanish Hall of Prague's ancient Hradcany castle for Gottwald, who died last Saturday after an attack of pneumonia and pleurisy at the age of 56.

Prague radio broadcast details of the ceremony, which resembled on a smaller scale the funeral of Prime Minister Stalin 10 days ago. Gottwald, an admirer and obedient servant of Stalin, caught the cold that developed into his fatal illness while attending Stalin's funeral in chilly Moscow.

Nikolai A. Bulganin, the Soviet minister of war, and Chou En-Lai, Red China's premier-foreign minister, were among Communist representatives from outside Czechoslovakia at the rites.

Deputy Premier Vilem Siroky, one of the possible successors to Gottwald, stressed unity in a five-minute funeral oration that followed the playing of the anthems.

Siroky urged the Czech people to maintain a better discipline and to strengthen the nation's defense. And in word which may have been intended to reassure Soviet leaders that Czechoslovakia would remain faithful to the Kremlin, Siroky added:

"We will wipe out mercilessly all those who attempt to destroy the unity of our state and our party."

Academy Awards on TV

Hollywood, March 19 (AP)—Tonight's the night the movies and television get married, with the rites taking place at the 25th Annual Academy Awards. For the first time in history, a television audience estimated by NBC at 40 million persons will watch the movie industry's biggest show. It will mark the TV debut for scores of the biggest names in moviedom. Studios have given blanket clearance for their stars to be seen on television—almost a naughty word in movie circles not too long ago. Fourteen TV cameras—the same number used for the national political conventions—will greet the ermined and minked movie queens. The NBC telecast goes on the air at 7:30 p. m. (10:30 p. m., EST) and stays on until finished, approximately two hours. RCA-Victor, picking up the $250,000 sponsor's tab, will also sponsor a radio broadcast.

Davioni Pleads Guilty

New York, March 19 (AP)—Ray Russell Davioni, 34, a Jelke vice case figure, pleaded guilty today to living off the proceeds of prostitution—the earnings of call girl Pat Ward. General Sessions Judge Jonah J. Goldstein set sentencing for April 17. Davioni, an unemployed Broadway press agent, was indicted on nine counts that could have brought a possible maximum prison term of 140 years. But he was allowed to plead guilty to the one misdemeanor charge to cover the whole indictment and is liable now to a maximum of three years in a penitentiary.

Reports Husband Missing

Mrs. Daniel Coleman, of 179 Wall street, reported to the local police at 8:29 a. m., today that her husband has been missing from home since 3 a. m., Monday. He was described as 21 years old, six feet tall and weighing about 180 pounds. He has brown hair and eyes, wore a black and red checkered shirt, a black and white checkered jacket, dungarees and a black and white hat. Police were still investigating today the report earlier in the week that Patricia Davite, 15, of 165 Abeel street has been missing from home since Sunday.

More Blasts Scheduled

Las Vegas, Nev., March 19 (AP)—A series of sub-size atomic explosions during the next few weeks will pave the way for the first firing of an atomic artillery shell. The nuclear debut of the nation's 280-mm. cannon is expected sometime in mid-May. The second in the series leading to the big gun shot is set tentatively for next week. While official secrecy surrounds the scientists' moves, the next shot is likely to be another tower detonation, similar to Tuesday's opening test and probably a step down in size.

Firemen Check Three Calls

Firemen checked brush and rubbish fires yesterday and answered a false alarm. The call for the rubbish fire was at 2:56 p. m., to the end of West Chestnut street, a call at 8:21 p. m., was for fire in a trash container at the rear of 254 Foxhall avenue, and the false alarm was sounded from Box 5211 at Smith avenue and O'Neil street at 8:15 p. m.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 19 (AP)—The stock market declined today in a moderate manner with many signs of resistance to the move.

The fall went to around a point at the most with the great bulk of minus signs in the minor fractions. Gainers were not too prominent and their plus signs were small.

Corporate bonds were slightly backward. U. S. Governments in the over the counter market were steady.

Miss Bennett, who won a tricolor ribbon in the show last year, said that the idea for the study was a ram's horn, a gift from Mrs. Carleton Vandewater last fall. She cleaned and polished the horn and prepared her arrangement with this as the motif, repeated in the curve of yellow glads and iris. A large hardwood base three feet long was also included in the arrangement.

Miss Bennett, who was hostess for a day at the show, expressed pleasure in public attention received by two other New Paltz arrangements by Mrs. Vandewater and Mrs. Keith Smiley, the former on poisonous plants and the latter on lichens, moss, ferns and seed plants.

Marine Raiders Smash Chinese Getting Ready for Front Drive

Seoul, March 19 (AP)—U. S. Marine raiders, striking in predawn fog and rain with flamethrowers and bayonets, smashed a Chinese company today as the Reds grouped for an assault on allied western front positions.

The U. S. Eighth Army communique late today reported the raid followed two company-size Chinese attacks on marine positions shortly after midnight.

It said the Chinese overran the northern flank of a forward position southwest of Bunker Hill, but that the Reds were forced to withdraw after a thre-hour fight in which 40 Chinese were counted killed, 50 more estimated killed and 65 estimated wounded.

A second Chinese company hit a forward position northeast of Bunker Hill but was hurled back after losing nine men, the Eighth Army said.

The communique said there was no estimate of Communist casualties in the marine raid on the Chinese outpost—a counter-attack which closely followed the two Red assaults.

"We killed a lot of them," said one of the raiders, Pfc. William W. Weitzel of Sinking Springs, Pa. "We could hear their wounded moaning out beyond the wire."

Action Near Panmunjom

The action—some five miles northeast of Panmunjom, the truce conference site—was the heaviest reported today along the twisting, 155-mile Korean front. The drizzling rain hampered aerial strikes.

However, B-26 night bombers blasted Communist supply arteries leading south from Pyongyang, the Korean red capital, before the weather closed in. The Fifth Air Force reported 85 trucks were destroyed and several road bridges hit.

Fourteen Japan-based B-29s dumped 140 tons of bombs on Ansim, Red supply center 12 miles south of Huichon in north-central Korea. The air force said it was the first raid on Ansim.

The marines, wearing armored vests, began their raid behind heavy artillery and tank fire. Then the men carrying the flamethrowers moved out.

Fought With Bayonets

"We spotted fighting holes and bunkers by the light of our own throwers," said one. "We really scorched that area for the men moving up behind us."

Behind the flamethrowers came raiders with fixed bayonets. They leaped into the smoking trenches and bunkers and battled the Chinese for more than an hour. They said the Reds who were able finally ran. Then the marines pulled back to their own positions.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported 10 minor Communist probes elsewhere on the front during the night. On the far eastern front, Republic of Korea (ROK) patrols reported killing 54 North Koreans in patrol skirmishes.

Find Skeleton on Dump

Pownal, Vt., March 19 (AP)—State Police Sgt. Albert Christie said today a skeleton found in a box on a dump probably was that of a small boy. The bones were found yesterday in an 18-inch-square wooden box, five miles from where Paula Weldon, 18-year-old Bennington College student vanished in 1946. Neither state police nor State Attorney Stephen Gilman would say whether they believed the skeleton to be that of Miss Weldon or eight-year-old Paul Pepson, who disappeared from the vicinity more than two years ago.

No Immediate Comment

United Nations, March 19 (AP)—UN diplomats hoped today for an early Russian reply to U. S. demands that Soviet Prime Minister Georgi M. Malenkov prove his vaunted desire for peace by negotiating "in good faith" for world disarmament. They may have to wait until Andrei Y. Vishinsky returns March 26 from talks in Moscow.

To Ike Its War

Washington, March 19 (AP)—To President Eisenhower that prolonged and bloody conflict in Korea is a war, not a police action. Eisenhower told his news conference today that when he sees American soldiers called out to serve, serving as they have in Korea and suffering the casaulties there he thought it must be called a war.

Four Are Volunteers

New Paltz, March 19—Mrs. Walter Rost, co-chairman for the Red Cross Drive, reports that four volunteers have offered to canvass in areas where no solicitors had been assigned. They are Mrs. Joseph Triolo, Miss Joan Van Kleeck, Mrs. John Martin and Elward Ashton. Satisfactory progress is reported.

Hurley Gives $507 To Polio Campaign

The 1953 March of Dimes drive in the town of Hurley amounted to $507.63, an increase of $100 over last year's figures, Ernest Myer, chairman, said today.

The amount includes $175.10 from the West Hurley district where Mrs. Howard Every was in charge. Schools of the town totaled $85.15 with William O'Kelly in charge. Mrs. Wesley O'Brien represented Glenford with $5 from the Queen Esther Society.

The Hurley 4-H Busy Bees, Myer said, donated $5 while the Hurley Grange conitributed $12 from a box social.

The remainder of the money was returned with envelopes mailed to each family and also from the iron lung boxes in the various places of business.

Final Homage Paid Gottwald at Rites

Vienna, Austria, March 19 (AP)—Leaders from the Soviet Union and her satellites paid final homage in Prague today to President Klement Gottwald as the man who tied once Democratic Czechoslovakia to the Communist world dominated by Moscow.

The Czech and Soviet national anthems opened the funeral service in the Spanish Hall of Prague's ancient Hradcany castle for Gottwald, who died last Saturday after an attack of pneumonia and pleurisy at the age of 56.

Prague radio broadcast details of the ceremony, which resembled on a smaller scale the funeral of Prime Minister Stalin 10 days ago. Gottwald, an admirer and obedient servant of Stalin, caught the cold that developed into his fatal illness while attending Stalin's funeral in chilly Moscow.

Nikolai A. Bulganin, the Soviet minister of war, and Chou En-Lai, Red China's premier-foreign minister, were among Communist representatives from outside Czechoslovakia at the rites.

Deputy Premier Vilem Siroky, one of the possible successors to Gottwald, stressed unity in a five-minute funeral oration that followed the playing of the anthems.

Siroky urged the Czech people to maintain a better discipline and to strengthen the nation's defense. And in word which may have been intended to reassure Soviet leaders that Czechoslovakia would remain faithful to the Kremlin, Siroky added:

"We will wipe out mercilessly all those who attempt to destroy the unity of our state and our party."

Academy Awards on TV

Hollywood, March 19 (AP)—Tonight's the night the movies and television get married, with the rites taking place at the 25th Annual Academy Awards. For the first time in history, a television audience estimated by NBC at 40 million persons will watch the movie industry's biggest show. It will mark the TV debut for scores of the biggest names in moviedom. Studios have given blanket clearance for their stars to be seen on television—almost a naughty word in movie circles not too long ago. Fourteen TV cameras—the same number used for the national political conventions—will greet the ermined and minked movie queens. The NBC telecast goes on the air at 7:30 p. m. (10:30 p. m., EST) and stays on until finished, approximately two hours. RCA-Victor, picking up the $250,000 sponsor's tab, will also sponsor a radio broadcast.

Davioni Pleads Guilty

New York, March 19 (AP)—Ray Russell Davioni, 34, a Jelke vice case figure, pleaded guilty today to living off the proceeds of prostitution—the earnings of call girl Pat Ward. General Sessions Judge Jonah J. Goldstein set sentencing for April 17. Davioni, an unemployed Broadway press agent, was indicted on nine counts that could have brought a possible maximum prison term of 140 years. But he was allowed to plead guilty to the one misdemeanor charge to cover the whole indictment and is liable now to a maximum of three years in a penitentiary.

Reports Husband Missing

Mrs. Daniel Coleman, of 179 Wall street, reported to the local police at 8:29 a. m., today that her husband has been missing from home since 3 a. m., Monday. He was described as 21 years old, six feet tall and weighing about 180 pounds. He has brown hair and eyes, wore a black and red checkered shirt, a black and white checkered jacket, dungarees and a black and white hat. Police were still investigating today the report earlier in the week that Patricia Davite, 15, of 165 Abeel street has been missing from home since Sunday.

More Blasts Scheduled

Las Vegas, Nev., March 19 (AP)—A series of sub-size atomic explosions during the next few weeks will pave the way for the first firing of an atomic artillery shell. The nuclear debut of the nation's 280-mm. cannon is expected sometime in mid-May. The second in the series leading to the big gun shot is set tentatively for next week. While official secrecy surrounds the scientists' moves, the next shot is likely to be another tower detonation, similar to Tuesday's opening test and probably a step down in size.

Firemen Check Three Calls

Firemen checked brush and rubbish fires yesterday and answered a false alarm. The call for the rubbish fire was at 2:56 p. m., to the end of West Chestnut street, a call at 8:21 p. m., was for fire in a trash container at the rear of 254 Foxhall avenue, and the false alarm was sounded from Box 5211 at Smith avenue and O'Neil street at 8:15 p. m.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 19 (AP)—The stock market declined today in a moderate manner with many signs of resistance to the move.

The fall went to around a point at the most with the great bulk of minus signs in the minor fractions. Gainers were not too prominent and their plus signs were small.

Corporate bonds were slightly backward. U. S. Governments in the over the counter market were steady.

Miss Bennett Wins Gold Award in Show

New Paltz, March 19—Miss Bertha Bennett received a gold award for her entry, the Rocky Mountains, in the International Flower Show in New York last week.

Miss Bennett, who won a tri-color ribbon in the show last year, said that the idea for the study was a ram's horn, a gift from Mrs. Carleton Vandewater last fall. She cleaned and polished the horn and prepared her arrangement with this as the motif, repeated in the curve of yellow glads and iris. A large hardwood base three feet long was also included in the arrangement.

Miss Bennett, who was hostess for a day at the show, expressed pleasure in public attention received by two other New Paltz arrangements by Mrs. Vandewater and Mrs. Keith Smiley, the former on poisonous plants and the latter on lichens, moss, ferns and seed plants.

The group, led by Dr. Howard Rusk of New York's Bellevue Hospital expects to begin helping amputees, the blind, children and other handicapped people in a few months. "Our primary target is to help develop the children—the citizens, patriots and soldiers of tomorrow," Rusk said.

Connecticut GOP Passes Bill to Change Districts

Hartford, Conn., March 19 (AP)—A roar of "aye" and the Republican-dominated State House of Representatives slammed the Senate redistricting bill through to final passage yesterday. But whether it becomes law rests with Gov. John Lodge and the State Supreme Court.

It is almost certain Lodge, a Republican, will affix his signature to the bill which the House passed 221-58 and the Senate passed last week 22-11.

Democrats, outnumbered in both houses for the first time since 1947, have continually said they would bring the redistricting matter to the state's highest court for a ruling on its constitutionality.

And they made no secret about it at any time during the hour and 40 minutes of debate yesterday.

Equalization Stressed

The proposal would reshuffle the state's 36 senatorial districts which now range in population from 24,000 to 123,000. Republicans claim the bill will make the districts more equal in population.

However, Democrats argue the GOP seeks to make it almost impossible for them to regain control of the State Senate.

The Republicans have steadfastly denied that that was the purpose of the proposal.

Democrats claim it is presently unconstitutional to redistrict now. It can only be done, they contend, by a Lesislature meeting the year following a federal decennial census.

A similar proposal was before the 1951 general assembly, when the Senate was controlled by Democrats, but it was beaten down.

The Republicans claim that an opinion of State Attorney General George C. Conway says it is constitutional to redistrict the Senate in any legislative year.

Get Judgments

New York, March 19 (AP)—Entertainers Jane Froman and Gypsy Markoff have lost their multi-million-dollar damage suit against Pan American World Airways—but they won judgments anyway. A State Supreme Court jury voted 11 to 1 yesterday in favor of the airline, defendant in a $3,500,000 damage suit. Then Justice Aron Steuer ordered judgments of $9,050 for Miss Froman and $9,580 for Miss Markoff. There was no judgment for Donald Ross, Miss Froman's former husband. Miss Froman sued for $2,500,000 and Miss Markoff for one million. Ross Sued for $100,000 for loss of his wife's services. They alleged negligence by the pilot of the plane which crashed. The airline denied it. The jury upheld the airline's contention.

Polish Flier Leaves

Copenhagen, Denmark, March 19 (AP)—A young Polish Air Force lieutenant who fled his Communist-dominated homeland in a Soviet-built MIG-15 jet fighter was believed en route today to either the United States or Canada. The Justice Ministry announced last night that Lt. Franciszek Jarewski had left Denmark. At his own request, the ministry added, his destination would not be disclosed.

Will Help Children

Tokyo, March 19 (AP)—A fact-finding mission of the American-Korean Foundation arrived last night after finishing a seven-day tour of South Korean hospitals, orphanages and health centers. The group, led by Dr. Howard Rusk of New York's Bellevue Hospital expects to begin helping amputees, the blind, children and other handicapped people in a few months. "Our primary target is to help develop the children—the citizens, patriots and soldiers of tomorrow," Rusk said.

Connecticut GOP Passes Bill to Change Districts

Hartford, Conn., March 19 (AP)—A roar of "aye" and the Republican-dominated State House of Representatives slammed the Senate redistricting bill through to final passage yesterday. But whether it becomes law rests with Gov. John Lodge and the State Supreme Court.

It is almost certain Lodge, a Republican, will affix his signature to the bill which the House passed 221-58 and the Senate passed last week 22-11.

Democrats, outnumbered in both houses for the first time since 1947, have continually said they would bring the redistricting matter to the state's highest court for a ruling on its constitutionality.

And they made no secret about it at any time during the hour and 40 minutes of debate yesterday.

Equalization Stressed

The proposal would reshuffle the state's 36 senatorial districts which now range in population from 24,000 to 123,000. Republicans claim the bill will make the districts more equal in population.

However, Democrats argue the GOP seeks to make it almost impossible for them to regain control of the State Senate.

The Republicans have steadfastly denied that that was the purpose of the proposal.

Democrats claim it is presently unconstitutional to redistrict now. It can only be done, they contend, by a Lesislature meeting the year following a federal decennial census.

A similar proposal was before the 1951 general assembly, when the Senate was controlled by Democrats, but it was beaten down.

Get Judgments

New York, March 19 (AP)—Entertainers Jane Froman and Gypsy Markoff have lost their multi-million-dollar damage suit against Pan American World Airways—but they won judgments anyway. A State Supreme Court jury voted 11 to 1 yesterday in favor of the airline, defendant in a $3,500,000 damage suit. Then Justice Aron Steuer ordered judgments of $9,050 for Miss Froman and $9,580 for Miss Markoff. There was no judgment for Donald Ross, Miss Froman's former husband. Miss Froman sued for $2,500,000 and Miss Markoff for one million. Ross Sued for $100,000 for loss of his wife's services. They alleged negligence by the pilot of the plane which crashed. The airline denied it. The jury upheld the airline's contention.

appropriation. Sen. Arthur H. Wicks, GOP majority leader heads the committee.

Reviewing previous recommendations, the committee urged again that a new modern race track be built in the New York metropolitan area.

It said "the race-going public is entitled to more commodious and attractive accommodations than are afforded by either the Aqueduct or Jamaica track."

It also noted "there is a serious threat that promoters in New Jersey might build a modern race track more readily accessible to New York city residents."

Cite Loss to State

"In that eventuality," the committee added, "there would not only be a loss of revenue to the New York Track Association but also to the state" in the form of tax revenues.

The committee also repeated its recommendation that officials of harness racing tracks be barred from driving in meets at their own tracks.

This recommendation apparently was aimed primarily at Frank L. Wiswall, president of the Saratoga Raceway.

The committee said that so far the Harness Racing Commission has not adopted such a rule, but added that the commission expects to revise its regulations generally as soon as Gov. Dewey signs a bill already approved by the Legislature giving the commission primary control of the sport in New York. The U. S. Trotting Association, a private organization, now exercises authority.

A fund is now being raised for repairs for the town clock which is located in the tower of the Methodist Church. The committee appointed by the official board of the church is Eugene Noe, U. Parker Decker and the pastor, the Rev. Stanley Jones. They have received the estimate of $2,000 as cost of repairs and installing an electric motor and renewing the striking mechanism. Says Sinatra Owes U. S.

New York, March 19 (AP)—The Internal Revenue Bureau says crooner Frank Sinatra owes $109,907 in back taxes. The bureau slapped a lien against Sinatra yesterday, citing an alleged unpaid balance for 1951 of $98,510, plus $11,487 disallowed for the filing years 1946 through 1948 A lien permits the government to seize assets up to the amount named in the order.

FEED HIM Dog-licious KASCO AND WATER

If you want to see an eager eater, just offer your dog a bowl of Kasco! It has a dog-licious flavor that will set his tail a-waggin' at every meal. And Kasco Complete Dog Ration will keep him in the pink-of-condition—beautiful coat, sparkling eyes—lots of pep and energy.

Kasco is the ideal food for puppies. Wean them on to Kasco. They need nothing but Kasco and water to grow into strong, active pets!

Hides and skins largely are a by-product since animals are raised for their meat. The by-product, however, is a most valuable one.

As Pegler Sees It

$10,000 for the attorneys for the locals and $5,000 for Brocky's lawyers, although that cost might better have been charged to the international, inasmuch as Farrell was Tobin's man. My information at the time was that Padway got it all.

That was a classical abuse of the power of unions over workers, but in the end the result is not as satisfactory as an idealist could have desired. For, in a few years the most querulous agents of the suffering victims had joined Dan Tobin's machine and were inferior to none in the timbre and tenor of the hosannahs to the grand exalted fathead on state occasions.

No basic charge has occurred to justify optimism as to the fiuture disposition of the union rackets. Meany was a hearty henchman of the rulers in those days and Dave Beck, who has succeeded Tobin, is as ruthless as his old master. Beck is now organizing his command over "everything that rolls on wheels" all over the United States except railroad wheels, which means control of most of our commerce in and between the states and a veto of the peace, employment and prosperity of practically all our people.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Good Player Can Correct Errors

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Services

Even the very best bridge players don't always make the perfect play on every hand. This is true of the average bridge player too, but there is an important difference. The avergae bridge player may miss the correct play in a particular situation and never realize that he has made a mistake.

When the expert misses the right play, however, he eventually sees his mistake and is therefore prepared to make the right play the next time he meets a similar situation.

When today's hand was played in a match point tournament in Pittsburgh, recently, there was no way to defeat the contract of four spades. The only question was whether or not declarer was going to make an extra trick. (In a match point tournament, the extra 30 points for the overtrick are of great importance.)

West opened the king of clubs, continued with the ace of clubs, and then led a low club. E. J. Mori, one of Pittsburgh's great bridge players, ruffed with the deuce of spades, and declarer over-ruffed with the five. "I saw too late," said Mori, in telling me about the hand, "that I had missed a very pretty play."

South next led his singleton diamond to dummy's ace and continued with the ten of spades from the dummy. The trump finesse succeeded and South was able to draw all of the trumps with the ace, queen, and jack. It was then easy for declarer to take the rest of the tricks, making his contract with an overtrick.

Since Mori is a first class bridge player, he was the first to see his mistake. It's an unusual situation, but you can bet your bottom dollar that if the situation ever recurs he will automatically come through with the winning play.

When West leads a third club, East must ruff with the nine of spades! South must use the jack to over-ruff and this will eventually cost South a trump trick. South must enter dummy with the ace of diamonds to lead a spade for a finesse through East. South can easily take two trump tricks with the ace and queen (East will surely cover the ten with his king), but then West will win the third round of trumps with his lowly eight.

Turn Down 'Zip' Bill

Albany, March 19 (AP)—A bill designed to block the sale of ammunition for zip-guns to teen-age gangs has been turned down by the Assembly, on a vote that crossed party lines. The count, after an hour-long debate yesterday, was 78-59. This was a majority, but short of the two-thirds necessary for a home-rule measure. The bill would have limited the sale of ammunition, in New York city only, to persons licensed to carry firearms, holders of hunting licenses, or members of rod and gun clubs affiliated with the National Rifle Association. Its sponsor, Democrat Frank J. Pino of Brooklyn, said it would help fight the "zip-gun evil." Zip-guns are home-made or converted weapons used in juvenile gang wars. Opponents of the measure were led by Malcolm Wilson, Westchester Republican, who contended it was "the wrong approach to the problem," and would "place an undue restriction on law-abiding citizens."

Good Player Can Correct Errors

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Services

Even the very best bridge players don't always make the perfect play on every hand. This is true of the average bridge player too, but there is an important difference. The avergae bridge player may miss the correct play in a particular situation and never realize that he has made a mistake.

When the expert misses the right play, however, he eventually sees his mistake and is therefore prepared to make the right play the next time he meets a similar situation.

When today's hand was played in a match point tournament in Pittsburgh, recently, there was no way to defeat the contract of four spades. The only question was whether or not declarer was going to make an extra trick. (In a match point tournament, the extra 30 points for the overtrick are of great importance.)

West opened the king of clubs, continued with the ace of clubs, and then led a low club. E. J. Mori, one of Pittsburgh's great bridge players, ruffed with the deuce of spades, and declarer over-ruffed with the five. "I saw too late," said Mori, in telling me about the hand, "that I had missed a very pretty play."

South next led his singleton diamond to dummy's ace and continued with the ten of spades from the dummy. The trump finesse succeeded and South was able to draw all of the trumps with the ace, queen, and jack. It was then easy for declarer to take the rest of the tricks, making his contract with an overtrick.

Since Mori is a first class bridge player, he was the first to see his mistake. It's an unusual situation, but you can bet your bottom dollar that if the situation ever recurs he will automatically come through with the winning play.

When West leads a third club, East must ruff with the nine of spades! South must use the jack to over-ruff and this will eventually cost South a trump trick. South must enter dummy with the ace of diamonds to lead a spade for a finesse through East.

South can easily take two trump tricks with the ace and queen (East will surely cover the ten with his king), but then West will win the third round of trumps with his lowly eight.

Turn Down 'Zip' Bill

Albany, March 19 (AP)—A bill designed to block the sale of ammunition for zip-guns to teen-age gangs has been turned down by the Assembly, on a vote that crossed party lines. The count, after an hour-long debate yesterday, was 78-59. This was a majority, but short of the two-thirds necessary for a home-rule measure. The bill would have limited the sale of ammunition, in New York city only, to persons licensed to carry firearms, holders of hunting licenses, or members of rod and gun clubs affiliated with the National Rifle Association. Its sponsor, Democrat Frank J. Pino of Brooklyn, said it would help fight the "zip-gun evil." Zip-guns are home-made or converted weapons used in juvenile gang wars. Opponents of the measure were led by Malcolm Wilson, Westchester Republican, who contended it was "the wrong approach to the problem," and would "place an undue restriction on law-abiding citizens."

Ike Likes Proposal

Washington, March 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported "most sympathetic" today to a proposal for emergency legislation to increase temporarily immigration quotas of "overpopulated" western European countries. The proposal was outlined to the President at the White House by Senator Ives (R-N.Y.) and a delegation of Italian-Americans from New York city. The delegation included Judge Juvenal Marchisio, national chairman of the American Committee on Italian Immigration, a unit of the Catholic Re-settlement Council. Marchisio told newsmen the group discussed the problem of immigration quotas for "over populated" western European countries, such Germany, Italy, Holland and Greece.

Beria May Be Brain Behind Red Attacks On U.S. and British Planes in Germany

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York—(NEA) — Lavrenti P. Beria, who masterminded the Berlin blockade in 1948, may be the man behind the Red attacks on U. S. and British planes in Germany.

Russian experts see a "deadly parallel" between the two events —despite the new "peace" bid by Georgi Malenkov, Stalin's successor in the Kremlin.

"There is more than coincidence that Moscow's first move since Stalin's death should be in Germany," said Ernst Reuter, West Berlin's anti-Communist Mayor.

Reuter, an outstanding authority on the cold war, is now visiting in the U. S. He believes West Germany is probably the most important European target of Soviet strategy.

Germany is the key to defense of Western Europe—and the special dish of Beria, boss of Russia's secret police. The latest Red attacks, in which seven British airmen lost their lives, bore Beria's unmistakable stamp.

Beria, No. 2 man in the Kremlin's new setup, has long been known as an exponent of a terrorist, get-tough policy with the west.

"Our enemies as well as our friends will respect us only as long as we are strong," Beria is reported to have told top Berlin Reds in 1947. "The weak are not respected."

During Beria's visit to Berlin in June, 1947, I was able to watch him in action. Wherever he went in his long black Packard with bullet-proof windows, flanked by a host of MVD agents, he left terror, arrests, kidnaping and fear in his wake.

It was on this visit that Beria apparently decided that the west was preparing a "preventive war." Ostensibly to forestall an "Allied attack," he suggested to Stalin the blockade of Berlin, and took personal charge.

The blockade was the first Russian major defeat in the hot-cold war. Faced with the U. S. airlift and the heroic stand of the Berliners under Mayor Reuter's leadership, Stalin had to beat a retreat.

Blame for the Berlin failure fell on Beria's shoulders.

Persistent reports seeping through the Iron Curtain say Stalin was apparently ready, shortly before his death, to discard his trigger-happy chief of police — just as he discarded Beria's trigger-happy predecessors, Henryk Yagoda and Nikolai Yezhov.

Stalin apparently died in the nick of time—to save Beria's skin. Now Beria holds the key to the struggle for power in the Kremlin. To stay on top, Malenkov needs the support of the powerful chief of the MVD.

Does Beria's ascendency increase the Soviet menace to Germany—and to Europe?

Bolsheviks never forgive nor forget a defeat.

The brutal Red attack on U. S. and British planes may be the beginning of Beria's long-range hopes to terrorize and subdue West Germany—to atone for his failure in the Berlin blockade.

THE BLOCKADE THAT FAILED made this picture in Berlin in 1948 as Soviet-controlled police halted trucks bound for West zone. But Beria's blockade flopped, and now he seeks revenge.

Sometimes a simple question like "Where was the first gas light installed in Kingston?" comes up. I do not know the exact date, but according to records the first gas light was installed in the old Mansion House, corner Broadway and West Strand owned by Major Von Beck. May 1, 1854, the Rondout & Kingston Gas Works, Meadow street between Ann street and Hasbrouck avenue was incorporated. In 1856 the gas was turned on through the mains, so no doubt it was around 1856 that the famous old Mashion House Hotel received its first gas light. The building is still standing, and perhaps somewhere on its walls some of the first gas equipment can still be seen.

June 28, 1886 the first electric light company was organized. It was then called the Kingston and Rondout Schuyler Electric Light Co. It was organized to furnish street lights for Kingston but was not successful. In 1888 it was reorganized under the Kingston Electric Light, Heat and Power Co. This company supplied the city with arc lighting by means of steam-engine, driven Thompson-Houston arc machines and also supplied alternating current for incandescent light. Perhaps the readers would be interested to hear where the first electric arc light was installed. It couldn't be in a better place. A wire was stretched from the City Hall on Broadway, across the street to a tree which was then the John O'Reilly property and now the high school grounds. On this wire was attached the arc light. They said that it drew crowds nightly. That must have been really something, when whole families trotted up to see the new arc light.

It was also said that Edison himself supervised the installation in Newburgh of the first electric generating plant and distribution system in the region now serviced by Central Hudson. This station, installed in 1884, was one of the earliest in the entire United States which was some two years before Kingston's electric light company was born. The first incandescent lamp was installed in Firemen's Hall on Fair street. The building itself waas built in 1857 and later used by the Wiltwyck Hose Co. Many people went up to see the lamp give off light in the evening at the time. Perhaps some of that wiring is still in the building.

Much of this information is what Judge Alonzo T. Clearwater had written down from time to time, as he had been counsel for the local gas and electric companies since 1875 to his death. He aided them through all their organizational changes. Most of this information also came from an anniversary issue of The Kingston Daily Leader of Wednesday, Nov. 23, 1938. It was brought to me by Harley Bishop of 59 Green street.

No doubt many folks remember the great hurricane of Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 21, 1938 when trees and wires were down all over the county. They say that the present gas and electric company servicemen worked day and night for a full week to restore all the service to normal strength. It was then that most folks realized the blessing of electric lights as streets and townships were in pitch darkness during and after the storm and sparks flew from the live wires all over the streets. It was remarkable how those men were able to untangle them and put them back into useful service for us all.

Beria May Be Brain Behind Red Attacks On U.S. and British Planes in Germany

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York—(NEA) — Lavrenti P. Beria, who masterminded the Berlin blockade in 1948, may be the man behind the Red attacks on U. S. and British planes in Germany.

Russian experts see a "deadly parallel" between the two events—despite the new "peace" bid by Georgi Malenkov, Stalin's successor in the Kremlin.

"There is more than coincidence that Moscow's first move since Stalin's death should be in Germany," said Ernst Reuter, West Berlin's anti-Communist Mayor.

Reuter, an outstanding authority on the cold war, is now visiting in the U. S. He believes West Germany is probably the most important European target of Soviet strategy.

Germany is the key to defense of Western Europe—and the special dish of Beria, boss of Russia's secret police. The latest Red attacks, in which seven British airmen lost their lives, bore Beria's unmistakable stamp.

Beria, No. 2 man in the Kremlin's new setup, has long been known as an exponent of a terrorist, get-tough policy with the west.

Another Vice Trial Involving Actor Names on Schedule

New York, March 19 (AP)—A vice trial involving Hollywood names as the recent Jelke case involved cafe society figures is scheduled to open in Federal Court here next Tuesday.

John R. Howard, Jr., former husband of actress Diana Barrymore, will face a white slavery charge involving another actress, Assistant U. S. Attorney Louis I. Kaplan announced.

The actress, so far unidentified, is described as red haired and pretty.

Kaplan said Howard, a handsome six foot tennis professional, has been indicted on a charge of transporting the actress from California to New York for immoral purposes.

The prosecutor said Howard was accused of setting the actress and other women up in plush hotels bordering on Central Park for the entertainment of Hollywood and other figures at fees ranging up to $1,000 a night.

About 30 witnesses already subpoenaed are understood to include movieland actors, producers and actor's agents.

Some Girls to Return

Some of the girls who figured in the vice trial of Minot T. (Mickey) Jelke, oleo fortune heir, are due to re-appear in the Hollywood case.

A jury found Jelke guilty on vice charges. He is due to be sentenced tomorrow.

Kaplan described Howard as a friend of Jelke's.

"This is an interesting and startling trial," Kaplan said, "but we have decided it should be open to the press and public."

The Jelke trial was closed during presentation of prosecution testimony.

In Trouble Before

Howard has had trouble with the law before in girl cases.

He was arrested in Chicago in March 1950, with a girl who reputedly told police she made $8,000 as a call girl and that Howard lived off the earnings.

The indictment, returned by a New York Federal Grand Jury on July 14, 1950, charged him with transporting the actress to New York in 1948 for purposes of prostitution. A second count charged that he bought an airplane ticket to send her back to Los Angeles as a prostitute.

13th Daughter Is Born

Pittsfield, Me., March 19 (AP)—Lloyd Brooks looked at his newborn 13th daughter today and decided that "if we're ever going to have a son, guess we'll have to adopt one." But Brooks said he was nonetheless pleased with the arrival last night of eight-pound, two-ounce Lorene Avis, which brought his family to 13 daughters. When Lorene Avis' arrival at 6:38 was announced, the 37-year-old, $50-a-week textile worker dashed happily up to the delivery room of Osteopathic Hospital in Waterville, shouting: "I knew it would be another girl." The 13 daughters are believed to constitute a national record for an all-girl brood.

Against Women Bartenders

Hartford, Conn., March 19 (AP)—There was no opposition to a proposal before the State Legislature's Liquor Control Committee yesterday to make it illegal for women to tend bar in this state. If it is bad for a woman to stand in front of a bar, supporters of the proposal asserted, it is just as bad to have them behind the bar. "The bill is grounded on good morals," said William J. Carrig of New Haven, spokesman for the Bartender's Union (AFL). "Bartending is not a good occupation for women. A bar is no place for them."

"INSIDE" OUTSIDE—Latest in home construction is this one at Caracas, Venezuela. The unique home has an outdoor basement. Its owner claims that by raising the home above the ground he has a "completely shaded living room" all year round. And he also gets a four-way circulation of air on hot summer nights.

1,000 Are Feared Dead In West Turkey Quake

Istanbul, Turkey, March 19 (AP) — A violent earthquake shook western Turkey last night and unofficial reports today said from 500 to 1,000 persons perished. President Celal Bayar left Ankara with government officials for the stricken region.

Zahmi Argon, Red Crescent (Red Cross) information officer, said telegraphed reports from the scene estimated the dead at 500. He said these reports were unconfirmed. Two Istanbul newspapers estimated the death toll at 1,000.

The quake apparently centered around Balikesir, across the Sea of Marmara from Istanbul, and near the World War 1 battlefield of Gallipoli. Police at Balikesir said by phone there were 38 confirmed dead in the town of Gonen and Manyas, but that there was no contact with the towns of Yenice and Cihan, believed to have been even harder hit.

Ancient Hebrew manuscripts found near the Dead Sea are said to be at least 20 centuries old.

Another Vice Trial Involving Actor Names on Schedule

New York, March 19 (AP)—A vice trial involving Hollywood names as the recent Jelke case involved cafe society figures is scheduled to open in Federal Court here next Tuesday.

John R. Howard, Jr., former husband of actress Diana Barrymore, will face a white slavery charge involving another actress, Assistant U. S. Attorney Louis I. Kaplan announced.

The actress, so far unidentified, is described as red haired and pretty.

Kaplan said Howard, a handsome six foot tennis professional, has been indicted on a charge of transporting the actress from California to New York for immoral purposes.

The prosecutor said Howard was accused of setting the actress and other women up in plush hotels bordering on Central Park for the entertainment of Hollywood and other figures at fees ranging up to $1,000 a night.

About 30 witnesses already subpoenaed are understood to include movieland actors, producers and actor's agents.

Some Girls to Return

Some of the girls who figured in the vice trial of Minot T. (Mickey) Jelke, oleo fortune heir, are due to re-appear in the Hollywood case.

A jury found Jelke guilty on vice charges. He is due to be sentenced tomorrow.

Kaplan described Howard as a friend of Jelke's.

"This is an interesting and startling trial," Kaplan said, "but we have decided it should be open to the press and public."

The Jelke trial was closed during presentation of prosecution testimony.

Bennett Addresses Kingston Rotary

Former Congressman Augustus P. Bennett of Newburgh in an informal talk on practical politics before the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday emphasized the need for greater interest on the part of the electorate in the selection of candidates by party organizations.

Interest in the party organization should be made known to the ward committeeman right up to the district leader, he stated. The new proposal for the selection of judges also was discussed by the speaker.

A past president of the Newburgh Chamber of Commerce and also a past president of the Newburgh Rotary Club, the former congressman pointed to the accomplishments in Newburgh, where a two per cent sales tax which yielded income of over $500,000, was eliminated and real estate taxes were reduced and at the same time city services were improved, 10 firemen and 10 policemen were added to the payrolls and their working schedules reduced to a five-day, 40-hour week.

Robert Strothenke, of the State Teachers College music faculty, will be heard as baritone soloist in Bussiled by Beethoven, and the Spirituals Were You There When They Crucified My Lord arranged by Burleigh.

Will Keep Art Home

Munich, Germany, March 19 (AP)—Bavaria's State Parliament has voted not to send a valuable collection of 83 old oil paintings to the United States for exhibit. The Bavarians are afraid they won't get them back, or that they might be damaged. The pictures, from the Bavarian Art Gallery, were to be shown in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Washington. The West German Foreign Office at Bonn said earlier the property of Bavaria state is not protected by law from confiscation outside Germany. The State Parliament is fearful Americans having claims against Bavaria might grab the paintings.

Ferry, Ship Collide

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, March 19 (AP)—The big Belgian ferry Prince Charles collided with the 6,140-ton British motorship Llantrisant in the English Channel today but was reported returning to Ostend, Belgium, under her own power. There was no word of any casualties. First reports had said the Ostend-to-Dover, England, ferry was sinking slowly but later word indicated that the 2,958-ton vessel was remaining afloat.

Can't Get to Work

Trenton, N. J., March 19 (AP)—The New Jersey Legislature seems to be the victim of vacationists. The Senate and Assembly did practically nothing about major legislation yesterday. It was the second time this week that the legislators put off to another day the work they expected to do. The lawmakers were to dig right into a pile of some 800 bills when they returned from a month's vacation last Monday. Several of them said they were ready to do just that. But, only minor bills were passed Monday and yesterday. Both Houses adjourned until 2 p. m. next Monday.

Will Keep Art Home

Munich, Germany, March 19 (AP)—Bavaria's State Parliament has voted not to send a valuable collection of 83 old oil paintings to the United States for exhibit. The Bavarians are afraid they won't get them back, or that they might be damaged. The pictures, from the Bavarian Art Gallery, were to be shown in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Washington. The West German Foreign Office at Bonn said earlier the property of Bavaria state is not protected by law from confiscation outside Germany. The State Parliament is fearful Americans having claims against Bavaria might grab the paintings.

Ferry, Ship Collide

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, March 19 (AP)—The big Belgian ferry Prince Charles collided with the 6,140-ton British motorship Llantrisant in the English Channel today but was reported returning to Ostend, Belgium, under her own power. There was no word of any casualties. First reports had said the Ostend-to-Dover, England, ferry was sinking slowly but later word indicated that the 2,958-ton vessel was remaining afloat.

Can't Get to Work

Trenton, N. J., March 19 (AP)—The New Jersey Legislature seems to be the victim of vacationists. The Senate and Assembly did practically nothing about major legislation yesterday. It was the second time this week that the legislators put off to another day the work they expected to do. The lawmakers were to dig right into a pile of some 800 bills when they returned from a month's vacation last Monday. Several of them said they were ready to do just that. But, only minor bills were passed Monday and yesterday. Both Houses adjourned until 2 p. m. next Monday.

English Village Invites Group To Coronation

Woodstock, March 19 — One Woodstock resident has already been in communication with E. F. Oliver, mayor of Woodstock, Oxford, England, who wrote Kenneth Wilson, supervisor of this village, stating that representatives from this town would be welcomed during the period of the Coronation of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II, to participate in the celebration.

Mrs. Arthur F. Wyman, who returned from a three-months' trip to England last Sunday, received a copy of the letter from the Mayor, which was reprinted in the Freeman, Saturday, February 14. She in turn wrote to Mayor Alderman Oliver, who invited her to visit Woodstock, England, on March 3, through the office of Victor N. Tolley, town clerk. Unfortunately, by the time she received the Mayor's invitation, Mrs. Wyman had made a previous commitment to journey to Edinburgh on that date before sailing for home, and was unable to accept the Mayor's invitation which had included an opportunity to look over the famed Blenheim Palace, the magnificent estate of the Duke of Marlborough.

Speaks with Mayor

Mrs. Wyman did, however, have a telephone conversation with Mayor Oliver, who sent her the official guide book of Woodstock. In the guide book, accompanying the photograph of Blenheim Palace, is a note by the Rt. Hon. Winston S. Churchill ChM, MP, who wrote: "This great house is one of the precious links which joins us to our famous past, which is also the history of the English speaking peoples on whose unity the future of the free world depends. I am proud to be born at Blenheim, and to be an Honorary Freeman of Woodstock." His ancestor John Churchill, "the greatest soldier that England ever produced, was made Duke of Marlborough in 1702; the great victory of Blenheim in 1704 was munificently rewarded by the gift of the Honour of Woodstock and its associated manors, the full list of which is recorded in marble at the base of the great monument to the first Duke of Marlborough in the Park."

Village Largely 'Unspoilt'

As for the town of Woodstock itself, the guide points out that it is a non-county borough in the parliamentary constituency of Banbury. Its post office and shops close early on Wednesdays. It has a town hall, gas and electric services, a water supply, ambulance, fire and police protection, a "Doctors' Surgery," two Episcopal, Baptist Methodist and Roman Catholic Churches.

Situated on the main road between Oxford and Chipping Norton, the guide states that the "centre of Woodstock is largely unspoilt, and steps have been taken to protect it from exploitation. It stands on high ground overlooking the River Glyme, its wide streets curving towards Blenheim Park, lined with shops and houses of Cotswold Stone, and here and there an old stone roof. Many of the houses date from the eighteenth century, and some are much older."

Today, the chief of Woodstock industries is glove-making, "at which the inhabitants excelled already in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. Several small factories flourish here, turning out a great variety of fine gloves, both hand and machine-sewn, examples of which may be brought in the local shops."

Woodstock, England, like this village, boasts a recreation field, which "has excellent facilities for football, cricket, tennis, bowls and table-tennis." The community also has a horse show and Gymkhana, held annually on Whit Monday for the benefit of the recreation ground, a permanent feature of which is a 100-kilometer mass-start cycle race. It also points with pride to a new school the Marlborough School for seniors, and the excellence of its inns and restaurants is well-known. The annual fair, which is somewhat older than our own Library Fair, dates from the reign of King John and is held on the first Monday and Tuesday in October.

History reports that the first Queen Elizabeth, then princess, was imprisoned for a year by her half sister Queen Mary (Tudor) in the gate-house portion of the manor house, on the charge of plotting against the Queen. "In spite of her captivity," the guide continues, "here as a girl, Queen Elizabeth appears to have had a great liking for Woodstock, which she often visited after she became queen, and on one occasion graciously accepted a pair of gloves, for which industry the town was, and still is, justly famous."

These are only a few of the historical highlights in the history of Woodstock, a colorful parent town to this village.

Red Cross Campaign Launched in Village

Woodstock, March 19 — The American Red Cross drive for funds in this village was launched Wednesday by Mrs. Charles Boswell and Mrs. William Stifler, co-chairmen, with a letter mailed to residents urging that generous contributions be made during this important week. However, no amount is too small to assist with the work of the Red Cross.

The co-chairmen remind residents that "in the midst of unprecedented plenty, human want and misery still exists. The troubled man in uniform, the helpless veteran patient, the service wife overwhelmed by domestic crisis, all have sympathetic friends who reach out to them through the Red Cross.

"Disaster strikes without warning, smashing homes and lives. Red Cross provides stunned victims with food, shelter, and medical care. To save lives Red Cross collects blood for civilian and military use. This year Red Cross is collecting and processing gamma globulin, the serum which may save your youngster from the paralyzing effects of polio.

"The time for our annual fund campaign is at hand. When you give through the Red Cross you are serving with this invaluable organization. We would greatly appreciate your contribution at your earliest convenience."

The drive will continue through March 31.

According to Bell, the programs date back to 1868 and comprise all the leading stars and their plays of that era, over 200 in all.

The photo of Bell is of recent date and goes with a collection of pictures and clippings of him in his early days of the theatre, which has been in the possession of the New York Public Library for some years.

Church Holds Supper

Woodstock, March 19—Over a hundred people attended the ham and meat loaf supper last Tuesday night at the Zena Country Club which was given by the ladies of the Lutheran Church for the benefit of a church carpet fund. A variety of fancy articles were also on sale to raise money for the project.

Book Is Published

Woodstock, March 19—A new book titled Poems and Impressions by Allan Updegraff, former resident of this village who now resides in Paris, has just been published by Hermitage House, New York. Updegraff, who is also a novelist and newspaperman, has had most of these poems published in Collier's, American Magazine, Poetry and other publications.

Seeks Third Divorce

New York, March 19 (AP)—Kathleen Winsor, author of "Forever Amber," says she has separated from her third husband. In a statement concerning her husband, Attorney Arnold Krakower, the 32-year-old novelist said yesterday: "Nobody is to blame for anything. It is a friendly separation. There is no chance of a reconciliation. When you reach this point, well, that's it. There will be a divorce. Where or when we haven't decided yet."

Book Is Published

Woodstock, March 19—A new book titled Poems and Impressions by Allan Updegraff, former resident of this village who now resides in Paris, has just been published by Hermitage House, New York. Updegraff, who is also a novelist and newspaperman, has had most of these poems published in Collier's, American Magazine, Poetry and other publications.

Mrs. Chauncey Owen spent the weekend at her home here and plans to leave for Europe in the near future.

The children at the Tinker Street Nursery School were taken by Mrs. Raymond Gilkey and Mrs. Carey Wilber to the farm of Birge Simmons in Bearsville to see the 48 baby lambs there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grimes were the guests of Mrs. Grimes sister, Mrs. Jerry Jerominek last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ostrander are the parents of a son born last Friday at the Catskill Memorial Hospital. The baby has been named Kenneth James and weighs 10 pounds.

Three Presidents of the United States died on July 4 — John Adams, Jefferson and Monroe.

Seeks Third Divorce

New York, March 19 (AP)—Kathleen Winsor, author of "Forever Amber," says she has separated from her third husband. In a statement concerning her husband, Attorney Arnold Krakower, the 32-year-old novelist said yesterday: "Nobody is to blame for anything. It is a friendly separation. There is no chance of a reconciliation. When you reach this point, well, that's it. There will be a divorce. Where or when we haven't decided yet."

Sidewalk Bill Voted

Albany, March 19 (AP)—The Senate has reversed itself to give final legislative approval to a bill that would make it more difficult for persons to sue villages for injuries suffered in sidewalk mishaps. The measure, introduced by Republican Assemblyman John J. Burns of Sea Cliff, L. I., would make it impossible for a person to sue for damages unless notice of a defective sidewalk had been on file with villages trustees 48 hours prior to the accident. The Senate voted down the bill, 28-25, Tuesday, but it was recalled and tabled. The measure was called up again last night and approved, 39-13. It was sent to Gov. Dewey.

Senate Approves

Albany, March 19 (AP)—The Senate has approved a bill, stemming from the Jelke Vice trial, which would require judicial review within 24 hours of a judge's order barring the press and the public from a courtroom. The measure, which went to the Assembly, also would require suspension of the trial until the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court could pass on the exclusion order. The bill was filed by Fred G. Moritt, Brooklyn Democrat, after the press and public had been barred from General Sessions Court in New York city in the trial of Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Good values in a wide range of meats and a half-dozen vegetables were noted this week in retail stores throughout the nation.

Rib roasts, off from two to as much as six cents a pound, and sirloin steak, two to four cents cheaper, were high on the list of best buys. Round roasts and smoked pork shoulders were other features. In some stores, sale prices were put on chuck roast and ground beef.

Advances were noted in most areas in pork chop prices. Frying chickens were on sale in some stores but higher in others. Leg of lamb prices were much the same as a week ago.

Vegetables on the bargain counter included cabbage, celery, carrots and broccoli. There were some specials on eastern round white potatoes, lettuce and spinach.

Vegetables Lower

Word from the wholesale vegetable markets was that with few exceptions, vegetable prices tended lower. Cabbage, celery and various greens were cited as plentiful, of good quality and lower in price than last week. Also lower at wholesale were cucumbers, eggplant, lettuce, radishes, green onions, squash and tomatoes. Higher were corn, eastern onions, and green peas.

It's usually about a week before wholesale prices are reflected in the nation's retail markets.

Florida oranges were marked down in many eastern stores, but few other bargains in fruit were mentioned. At the wholesale level, prices were higher on grapes, pears, Washington State apples and California navel oranges. Lemons were lower and grapefruit a bit cheaper.

Eggs Edge Up

Some stores were offering frozen fish at sale prices, particularly cod fillets and halibut steaks. Eggs edged up again from one to four cents a dozen. By and large, butter prices remained unchanged.

Rises of as much as five cents a pound in the wholesale price of coffee had not yet been reflected generally at the retail level. Roasters said they were forced to raise wholesale prices because of the jump in the price of green coffee following removal of controls last week.

One roaster predicted price boosts of from three to five cents a pound within the next two weeks in retail coffee prices. Another commented that severe consumer resistance could be expected if retail prices went to a dollar a pound.

The government reported this week that retail food prices dropped about one per cent during February, with falling beef prices leading the way. However, there were indications this week that some foods were heading higher.

Dun & Bradstreet's wholesale food price index was up 2.7 per cent over a week ago, and the highest since Oct. 7. Half the rise was attributed to coffee, but other foods also advanced: Flour, wheat, corn, rye, oats, barley, lard, sugar, tea, cocoa, steers, hogs and lambs. The only foods to go down in price at the wholesale level were beef, hams, butter and cheese.

Help Crippled Children

Parents: What is your child doing right now? Is he in school? Is he out playing with other children? Thousands of crippled children in our own state cannot attend school—cannot play with other children. You can make it possible for these crippled children to go to school—to play with other children—when you give to Easter Seals.

Local committees made up of county agents and vocational agriculture teachers will select men to attend the course.

Crackdown on 'Baksheesh'

Cairo (AP) — Premier Mohamed Naguib of Egypt has cracked down hard on "baksheesh." Baksheesh means tip or bribe and for years under past governments baksheesh has been the key to almost everything in Egypt. Through a baksheesh you could obtain a seat in a packed movie or an important government contract. Ex-King Farouk, it was charged, had helped make the baksheesh a sort of national institution. He himself is accused of having collected several tips running into more than six figures. The government of Mohamed Naguib has put the anti-baksheesh war near the top of the list of its immediate business. A new law provides fines and imprisonment for accepting bribes.

Ellenville Inn Owners Are Sued for $50,000

New York, March 19 (Special)—Lillian, Rose and Louis Katzman, proprietors of a boarding house in Ellenville, are defendants in a $50,000 suit filed in Federal court here Wednesday by Sol Adler, a Pennsylvania chiropractor, for injuries allegedly sustained at the Katzmans' establishment.

Adler claims that while he was a guest at the boarding house on August 26, 1951, he fell while descending a stairway. He suffered a compound leg fracture, according to the complaint, in which Adler alleges that the stairway was in a state of disrepair.

The defendants have 20 days to file an answer to the complaint..

Seeks True Picture

Saigon, March 19 (AP)—U. S. Gen. Mark Clark arrived today to get a first-hand picture of what the native Indochinese are doing to build up their armies fighting alongside the French against the Communist-led Vietminh. He also will see what is being one with hundreds of millions of dollars of American aid to the French-led forces here. Alighting from his Constellation at the Saigon Airport, the U. S. Far Eastern commander-in-chief lauded the fight against communism in Indochina. "Our fight is against communism in Korea as yours is in Indochina," he declared.

Legislators Break Away From Dewey Grip This Session

Albany, March 19 (AP)—There are growing symptoms on Capitol Hill that Gov. Dewey's longtime iron grip on the Legislature is slipping.

The dominant Republican majority in both Houses has been considerably less charitable toward the boss this session.

The real test of Dewey's influence will come Friday and Saturday when the session's controversial hot chestnuts come up for the payoff vote in the hectic adjournment jam.

But Dewey still is a shrewd customer in politics, and he may have gas enough to jam his pet legislation down the throats of reluctant lawmakers.

Got Out the Whips

The first tip-off that all was not cozy came early in the 1953 session when his chief lieutenants, Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Senate Leader Arthur H. Wicks had to whip the boys in line to push the new truck-license program through. Heck, who has a large personal following in the Assembly, had to talk fast in a special party meeting to keep some of the flock from wandering.

This week, 15 Republican Assemblymen joined solid Democratic opposition and nearly wrecked the administration's residential rent-control bill. The vote was 80-67—the GOP slipping by with only four more than the necessary 76 votes.

The vote was preceded by another longer-than-usual party conference.

Now it appears that Dewey won't get his compulsory automobile insurance and compulsory auto inspection programs. The inspection plan, however, may squeeze through in diluted form.

Boys Drove Bargains

Longtime Capitol observers say there doesn't seem to be the tightly knit organization behind Dewey as in past years. One onlooker wondered if the state's Republican regime was getting a little too fat, too careless, too weary or too shopworn after nearly a dozen years in the driver's seat.

There have been no outright mutinies in the ranks, but the underlings have been rude on occasion. They've also driven a bargain or two with Dewey instead of buying the governor's program in toto.

This isn't an election year, but the scribbling on the wall is becoming easier to read. The happy family isn't as loving as it used to be.

Why We Say--

. . . Buying pitchers

In the 17th century glass and earthen wares were quite often defective due to poor manufacturing methods. It was the habit of customers to fill a pitcher with water before buying it as a test. Thus the expression, "to hold water" started as a test to see if pitchers leaked.

Musical Events Set At New Paltz College Week of March 21

Three major musical events have been scheduled at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, on Saturday, March 21; Wednesday, March 25; and Thursday, March 26.

Hudson Valley Students

A mixed chorus composed of 180 high school students of the Hudson Valley will present a public concert Saturday, March 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the State University Teachers College at New Paltz. There will be no admission charge.

Included on the program will be such works as Let All Nations Praise the Lord, I Wonder as I Wander, Could My Song on Wings Go Flying, Songs of Robert Schumann and The Gandy Dancers Ball.

The concert will climax the fifth annual Choral Clinic sponsored by the College's honorary music society, Mu Sigma Epsilon. Arriving on Friday morning, the high school students will spend two days of intensive rehearsal under the direction of John D. Raymond, director of music at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.

Mr. Raymond directs four musical organizations at Lafayette and spends his summers as a member of Fred Waring's staff. He makes frequent appearances as guest conductor at high school music festivals and clinics.

Approximately 23 high schools of the Hudson Valley will be represented in the Choral Clinic this year.

Violin-Piano Recital

Two New York city musicians, well-known in metropolitan musical circles, will present a violin-piano recital at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz on Wednesday, March 25 at 4:30 p. m. The program will be held in the main lounge of the College Union Building. Everyone is welcome. There will be no admission charge.

Alvin Bauman, composer-pianist, and Abram Loft, violinist, give frequent recitals in various music centers in New York including Times Hall and Town Hall. They appeared recently before members of the International Society for Contemporary Music.

Their New Paltz program tentatively includes works by Corelli, Mozart, Ravel, and Victor Landau of the New Paltz music faculty. The artists will also discuss the composers and their works.

Both Mr. Bauman and Mr. Loft have taught at Columbia College where the latter is now orchestra director.

Henry Scott, Piano Virtuoso

Henry Scott, described as the "hilarious virtuoso of the piano," will appear on the New Paltz Artist Series, Thursday, March 26. The program will begin at 8:30 p. m., in the auditorium of State University Teachers College at New Paltz.

Mr. Scott presents a unique program of concert humor interspersed with serious piano works by Liszt, Chopin, Scarlatti, Rachmaninoff, and others.

A magnetic personality with an irrepressible sense of humor, Mr. Scott is at his best in humorous satire. On the heels of an uproariously successful concert at Carnegie Hall in 1945, he was hailed by critics as America's first concert humorist. Among the national publications to recognize his highly original style of art were Collier's, Life, and Who's Who in America. His presentations range from pantomime to the spoken word, from subtle satire to broad and riotous forms.

Pantomime is the basic ingredient of some of his most hilarious sketches. He writes and arranges all of the non-classical works on his programs. Some of his most popular presentations include Mittens on the Keys, Chopin in the Citrus Belt and Impressions of Vincent Lopez, Eddie Duchin, and Teddy Wilson.

Ticket reservations for Mr. Scott's New Paltz concert may be made by calling The College Bookstore, New Paltz 8233.

Critics Laud Talleur In Martha at College

Mr. Talleur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Talleur, 194 Elmendorf street, sang the bass-baritone role of Plunkett. He is a sophomore majoring in Music at the Oneonta school.

Miss Gertrude Eldridge, 186 Main street, was chairman of the properties committee. Miss Dorothy Marable, who was a member of the 1952 KHS A Cappella Choir, sang in the alto section of the opera chorus. Both young women are freshmen at Hartwick College.

The gay English version of the popular opera was enthusiastically received by audiences, totaling more than 1000 patrons.

Girl Scouts Need Aid To Meet Quota, Ask Donations, Workers

The Ulster County Girl Scouts Council has set a minimum quota of $9,000 to be raised in the county for the purpose of carrying on the work of the organization during the ensuing year. From reports on the drive as of today, it is indicated that the finance campaign will fall far short of its goal, unless additional workers volunteer, and residents contribute their donations without delay.

Only $1,241.73 to Date

Only $1,241.73 has been reported to date, and the drive is scheduled to end on Saturday. Anyone who would like to make a donation, may do so by sending it to the Girl Scout office, 292 Fair street. For those who prefer to take it to the office, they may do so between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

In Kingston, particularly, several of the wards are not being covered because of a lack of volunteers. At a meeting this week Huyler Van Wagenen Sr., city chairman, asked those in attendance "to let the people know that if they can work for only one or two hours in this important drive it will be of immeasurable benefit to the Girl Scouts."

Donations reported thus far in the Kingston district include initial gifts of $753.50; Sunset Park $20; Lincoln Park $40; Richmond Park $8.45; Town of Esopus $70.55; Ward 1 $50; Ward 2 $36; Ward 3 $96.08; Ward 9 $29; Ward 11 $33.35; and Ward 12 $104.77.

County Meeting Set

A county meeting is scheduled for Friday evening, and Richard Mack, general chairman, is hopeful that the residents of the city and county will rally to the aid of of the Girl Scouts and send or bring in donations, if they are not contacted meanwhile by volunteer solicitors.

Announce Marriage

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Marguerite Mooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Mooney, 30 Grove Lane, Levittown, to Walter P. Siedlecki of Brooklyn, on February 14, in St. Saviour's Church. The Rev. Dr. Francis Fuchs, officiated.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Thomas Mooney, Sr., Hickory Bush; and a niece to John Mooney, Rosendale.

A DIFFICULT EXPENSE QUESTION

A young girl writes me: "My boy friend will be graduating from college this June and has invited me to come down to the exercises. His parents are going, too, and they have invited me to drive down with them. The trip each way will entail an overnight stay at an hotel, and also several meals. Would it be proper to give his father a sum of money before we start out, to take care of my share of the expense, or do I take it for granted that I am their guest? (They are not people of means, whereas I can well afford to pay my own way.) Will you please help me, Mrs. Post, as I do want to do the right thing?"

This is a difficult question to answer, because, while ordinarily you would be their guest and not expected to pay anything, the especial conditions may alter the case and you might perhaps better offer the father the sum of money you think will cover your expenses. He is then free to accept it or tell you that you are his guest.

Parents as Wedding Guests

Dear Mrs. Post: I have lived with my aunt and uncle for the past seven years and they have been wonderful to me. My mother and father are both living, but in a different city. They will, of course, be present at my wedding. In whose name should the wedding invitations be sent? Also, should my uncle walk up the aisle with me, or my father?

Answer: I imagine that the wedding is being given by your aunt and uncle, and under those circumstances the wedding invitations would be sent out in their names. However, if your father is to be present at your wedding, you should definitely walk up the aisle with him and have him give you away. It would be a repudiation of him not to do so. Your aunt and uncle are, of course, host and hostess at the wedding reception.

Time to Go Home

Dear Mrs. Post: How may a girl suggest to a boy visitor that it is time for him to go home, without hurting his feelings?

Answer: She could look at the clock and say, "I am terribly sorry but mother does not like me to have anyone stay after (whatever the time). I hope you will come soon again."

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but if your question is about weddings, you will find booklet No. 501, "Weddings," very helpful when planning the ceremony, clothes of the bridal party and the reception. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Girl Scouts Need Aid To Meet Quota, Ask Donations, Workers

The Ulster County Girl Scouts Council has set a minimum quota of $9,000 to be raised in the county for the purpose of carrying on the work of the organization during the ensuing year. From reports on the drive as of today, it is indicated that the finance campaign will fall far short of its goal, unless additional workers volunteer, and residents contribute their donations without delay.

Only $1,241.73 to Date

Only $1,241.73 has been reported to date, and the drive is scheduled to end on Saturday. Anyone who would like to make a donation, may do so by sending it to the Girl Scout office, 292 Fair street. For those who prefer to take it to the office, they may do so between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

In Kingston, particularly, several of the wards are not being covered because of a lack of volunteers. At a meeting this week Huyler Van Wagenen Sr., city chairman, asked those in attendance "to let the people know that if they can work for only one or two hours in this important drive it will be of immeasurable benefit to the Girl Scouts."

Donations reported thus far in the Kingston district include initial gifts of $753.50; Sunset Park $20; Lincoln Park $40; Richmond Park $8.45; Town of Esopus $70.55; Ward 1 $50; Ward 2 $36; Ward 3 $96.08; Ward 9 $29; Ward 11 $33.35; and Ward 12 $104.77.

County Meeting Set

A county meeting is scheduled for Friday evening, and Richard Mack, general chairman, is hopeful that the residents of the city and county will rally to the aid of of the Girl Scouts and send or bring in donations, if they are not contacted meanwhile by volunteer solicitors.

Musical Show Has Large Audience at St. Mary's Hall

An original play, Maggie Sees the Show, written and directed by Miss Maureen Rice, was presented St. Patrick's night, in St. Mary's School auditorium, to one of the largest audiences in its history. Miss Rice also played the title role.

The date, March 17, had a twofold importance, as it also marked the beginning of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury's 15th year at St. Mary's Church. The applause when he entered the hall, was proof of the high esteem in which he is held by his parishioners.

A park on St. Patrick's Day, 1953, was the setting for the play. About 50 children of all ages, sang and danced in return for soda dispensed by Miss Rice as Maggie, and her soda boy, Peter Leonardo. The talent displayed by the young people was the cause for amazement by those in the audience.

The success of the venture was credited to the able direction of Miss Rice and her many assistants, as well as to the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly and a number of girls and men in the parish. Harry Maisenhelder was the piano accompanist.

An active member of the Coach House Players, Miss Rice also wrote and directed last year's St. Patrick's day entertainment. The author was commended for an original and clever ending, "and the dress, scenery and choice of songs, brought out the Irish in everyone."

Also contributing to the outstanding success of the evening, was the cooperation of the floor, ticket, stage, entertainment, door and refreshment committees. Refreshments were served and music was provided by Martin Kelly and his band.

Many food experts recommend that adults consume at least one pint of milk a day.

Ulster Garden Club Speaker Traces Origin of Flower

The origin, development and care of chrysanthemums was the topic for a discourse by Mrs. William Anderson of Port Ewen, at a meeting of the Ulster Garden Club Tuesday afternoon, in the home of Mrs. John Matthews, Richmond Park.

Vassar Hortículturist to Visit

A short business session preceded the talk. Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, president, announced that Tuesday, April 7, at 2:30 p. m., a pruning demonstration will be given at the Lewis Farm on Route 32, located three miles north of the city line. Henry E. Downer, horticulturist emeritus, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, will demonstrate the correct method to be used in pruning privet, rose bushes and apple trees. The meeting will be open to the public and anyone interested may attend.

Mrs. Anderson may well be recognized as an authority on her chosen topic, since she and Mr. Anderson have an extensive collection of 197 named varieties of chrysanthemums. A member of the New Paltz Garden Club, and of the Garden Study Club, Poughkeepsie, she was the winner, in 1950, of the three-year challenge trophy presented at the West Park Flower Show, and has two legs on the current trophy. She has also been awarded blue and other ribbons at the Ulster County Fair, the New Paltz show, and others.

Has Chinese Origin

"The history of the chrysanthemum goes back 2500 years to China, the land of its origin," said Mrs. Anderson, as she traced the development of this hardy perennial.

"In Chinese art, the lotus is the most important among flowering plants. The chrysanthemum vies with the tree peony for second place and it is hard to say which is used to a greater extent. All chrysanthemums, even the Japanese varieties, are of Chinese origin. The Japanese selected the kinds that are light and airy and graceful, while the Chinese preferred the formal ball type," the speaker said.

Mrs. Anderson described John Salter of England as "the greatest name in the history of the chrysanthemum." To secure a suitable climate, he moved his nursery from England to Versailles, France, in 1838, and today, she remarked, this flower is the greatest money-crop.

Introduced in 1798

In the United States John Stevens of Hoboken, N. J. was credited as the first to introduce the garden variety in 1798. Peter Henderson was said to have been the first to import Japanese varieties, which he did in 1863.

The greatest development of the chrysanthemum in this country, however, was attributed to Elmer Smith of Adrain, Mich., beginning in 1887. "By 1928, he had introduced 445 varieties." Other breeders who have contributed to the development and popularization of the chrysanthemum were also mentioned.

Easy to Grow

Mrs. Anderson described the flower as one of the easiest to grow. "They will produce blossoms despite all kinds of neglect," she observed. "However, to grow really good chrysanthemums, I am going to describe some of the necessary steps to take," she said.

Among the steps related were deep drainage; methods of propagation, including seed, division and cuttings; control of disease, and winter care. Each of the steps were treated in considerable detail by the speaker.

Don't Be Discouraged

As her interesting talk reached a conclusion, Mrs. Anderson said, "I hope I haven't discouraged you about growing chrysanthemums. I am sure if you were to discuss and summarize all the conditions necessary to growing delphinium or roses, or many other perennials, you would find that the numerous diseases, bugs, and other misfortunes which could beset them, are far greater than those I have enumerated."

At the tea which followed the meeting, Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker officiated at the tea table.

Named

Mrs. Hope Ridings Miller, a Washington writer and publicist, was named by a wealthy dye manufacturer in testimony before House investigators, March 17, as one of four persons to whom he paid about $21,000 to fix his tax troubles in Washington. The witness, Gerry D. Iozia, of East Patterson, N. J., said his attempt to escape prosecution failed and that about a month ago he pleaded guilty to a criminal tax evasion charge. Mrs. Miller termed Iozia's story "preposterous."

Milk Council Holds Annual Banquet

More than 60 persons attended the annual banquet of the Kingston Milk Council at the SRS Home in Cottekill Wednesday night.

George Silkworth, toastmaster, presided at the brief after-dinner session and introduced the guests, including Russell Fox, executive secretary of the New York State Milk Distributors; Mrs. Doris Gerhardt, director of the Dairy Council of the Mid-Hudson Area; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of Kingston; Dr. Dudley Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner; Dr. Gilbert Hoppenstedt, county health department; Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

The 1953 officers of the Milk Council, elected last month, are Harry Beatty, president; Mrs. Blanche Carnright, vice president; Pratt Boice, secretary; Addison Jones, treasurer. Eugene Vogel was chairman of banquet arrangements.

Music for dinner and dancing was provided by Emmy's Trio. Entertainment included square dancing with calls by Horace Boice, county treasurer.

Musical Show Has Large Audience at St. Mary's Hall

An original play, Maggie Sees the Show, written and directed by Miss Maureen Rice, was presented St. Patrick's night, in St. Mary's School auditorium, to one of the largest audiences in its history. Miss Rice also played the title role.

The date, March 17, had a two-fold importance, as it also marked the beginning of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury's 15th year at St. Mary's Church. The applause when he entered the hall, was proof of the high esteem in which he is held by his parishioners.

A park on St. Patrick's Day, 1953, was the setting for the play. About 50 children of all ages, sang and danced in return for soda dispensed by Miss Rice as Maggie, and her soda boy, Peter Leonardo. The talent displayed by the young people was the cause for amazement by those in the audience.

The success of the venture was credited to the able direction of Miss Rice and her many assistants, as well as to the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly and a number of girls and men in the parish. Harry Maisenhelder was the piano accompanist.

An active member of the Coach House Players, Miss Rice also wrote and directed last year's St. Patrick's day entertainment. The author was commended for an original and clever ending, "and the dress, scenery and choice of songs, brought out the Irish in everyone."

Also contributing to the outstanding success of the evening, was the cooperation of the floor, ticket, stage, entertainment, door and refreshment committees. Refreshments were served and music was provided by Martin Kelly and his band.

Many food experts recommend that adults consume at least one pint of milk a day.

Ulster Garden Club Speaker Traces Origin of Flower

Vassar Horticulturist to Visit

A short business session preceded the talk. Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, president, announced that Tuesday, April 7, at 2:30 p. m., a pruning demonstration will be given at the Lewis Farm on Route 32, located three miles north of the city line. Henry E. Downer, horticulturist emeritus, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, will demonstrate the correct method to be used in pruning privet, rose bushes and apple trees. The meeting will be open to the public and anyone interested may attend.

Mrs. Anderson may well be recognized as an authority on her chosen topic, since she and Mr. Anderson have an extensive collection of 197 named varieties of chrysanthemums. A member of the New Paltz Garden Club, and of the Garden Study Club, Poughkeepsie, she was the winner, in 1950, of the three-year challenge trophy presented at the West Park Flower Show, and has two legs on the current trophy. She has also been awarded blue and other ribbons at the Ulster County Fair, the New Paltz show, and others.

Has Chinese Origin

"The history of the chrysanthemum goes back 2500 years to China, the land of its origin," said Mrs. Anderson, as she traced the development of this hardy perennial.

"In Chinese art, the lotus is the most important among flowering plants. The chrysanthemum vies with the tree peony for second place and it is hard to say which is used to a greater extent. All chrysanthemums, even the Japanese varieties, are of Chinese origin. The Japanese selected the kinds that are light and airy and graceful, while the Chinese preferred the formal ball type," the speaker said.

Mrs. Anderson described John Salter of England as "the greatest name in the history of the chrysanthemum." To secure a suitable climate, he moved his nursery from England to Versailles, France, in 1838, and today, she remarked, this flower is the greatest money-crop.

Introduced in 1798

In the United States John Stevens of Hoboken, N. J. was credited as the first to introduce the garden variety in 1798. Peter Henderson was said to have been the first to import Japanese varieties, which he did in 1863.

The greatest development of the chrysanthemum in this country, however, was attributed to Elmer Smith of Adrain, Mich., beginning in 1887. "By 1928, he had introduced 445 varieties." Other breeders who have contributed to the development and popularization of the chrysanthemum were also mentioned.

Easy to Grow

Mrs. Anderson described the flower as one of the easiest to grow. "They will produce blossoms despite all kinds of neglect," she observed. "However, to grow really good chrysanthemums, I am going to describe some of the necessary steps to take," she said.

Among the steps related were deep drainage; methods of propagation, including seed, division and cuttings; control of disease, and winter care. Each of the steps were treated in considerable detail by the speaker.

Don't Be Discouraged

As her interesting talk reached a conclusion, Mrs. Anderson said, "I hope I haven't discouraged you about growing chrysanthemums. I am sure if you were to discuss and summarize all the conditions necessary to growing delphinium or roses, or many other perennials, you would find that the numerous diseases, bugs, and other misfortunes which could beset them, are far greater than those I have enumerated."

At the tea which followed the meeting, Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker officiated at the tea table.

Named

Mrs. Hope Ridings Miller, a Washington writer and publicist, was named by a wealthy dye manufacturer in testimony before House investigators, March 17, as one of four persons to whom he paid about $21,000 to fix his tax troubles in Washington. The witness, Gerry D. Iozia, of East Paterson, N. J., said his attempt to escape prosecution failed and that about a month ago he pleaded guilty to a criminal tax evasion charge. Mrs. Miller termed Iozia's story "preposterous."

Milk Council Holds Annual Banquet

More than 60 persons attended the annual banquet of the Kingston Milk Council at the SRS Home in Cottekill Wednesday night.

George Silkworth, toastmaster, presided at the brief after-dinner session and introduced the guests, including Russell Fox, executive secretary of the New York State Milk Distributors; Mrs. Doris Gerhardt, director of the Dairy Council of the Mid-Hudson Area; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of Kingston; Dr. Dudley Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner; Dr. Gilbert Hoppenstedt, county health department; Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

The 1953 officers of the Milk Council, elected last month, are Harry Beatty, president; Mrs. Blanche Carnright, vice president; Pratt Boice, secretary; Addison Jones, treasurer. Eugene Vogel was chairman of banquet arrangements.

Music for dinner and dancing was provided by Emmy's Trio. Entertainment included square dancing with calls by Horace Boice, county treasurer.

Shift of Braves to Milwaukee Hints More Transfers in Future

Sweeping Changes Seen by Magnates

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Milwaukee is big league and Boston is a one-club town after the first major league franchise shuffle since 1903—perhaps only a sample of things to come.

The time will arrive when only New York and Chicago will be two-club cities in the opinion of owner Lou Perini of the Braves who yesterday received unanimous approval to move his Boston franchise to Milwaukee and 7-1 sanction to transfer his Milwaukee franchise in the American Association to Toledo.

"The country has changed in the last 75 years," said Perini, "you can't deny Los Angeles and San Francisco are major league in every respect. And so are Montreal, Baltimore and some other cities. A third major league is the only answer for the future."

President Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers also predicts sweeping changes in the baseball map.

Sees Chain Reaction

"You'll see more territory being drafted than you can shake a stick at," said O'Malley. "This can set up a chain reaction."

O'Malley may be right but it can't come true before October because the major league executive council last Sunday froze all territory except for the period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 1. The lone exceptions were the Boston-to-Milwaukee and St. Louis Browns-to-Baltimore moves then under consideration. The Browns, of course, suffered a crushing defeat Monday in a 5-2 rebuke by the American League owners that ruled out the Baltimore proposal.

The Boston Braves became the Milwaukee Braves yesterday afternoon when the American Association accepted a $50,000 payment for "damages" suffered by the loss of Milwaukee. The Braves were in the process of losing an exhibition game to the New York Yankees when the change was approved.

Emerging from the three and a half hour meeting, Perini asked "how did the club come out?" When informed they lost, he said "all right, we'll become Milwaukee official Thursday." The Braves play Cincinnati today at Bradenton, Fla.

There was no solid opposition to the Braves' transfer in the National League meeting. The owners said most of the time was consumed in discussing the problems involved—particularly the schedule.

The new schedule finds Milwaukee swapping places with Pittsburgh in the original playing chart. The Milwaukee Braves will be a "western" team and Pittsburgh will become an "eastern" team in the league realignment.

As a resule of the shift, Milwaukee will open the season at Cincinnati in the traditional early opener, Monday, April 13. Pittsburgh, now slated to play its first 15 games in the east against Brooklyn, Philadelphia and New York, opens the season at Brooklyn, April 14.

Warren Giles, National League president, repeated again and again that "Perini's fine standing with the other club owners was the most important reason for their approval."

Smiling after winning his long battle, Perini said he was "overwhelmed" by the vote and impressed by the spirit of cooperation of the other owners and their confidence in him.

TV, Fans Big Factors

The wealthy contractor, last survivor of the original "Three Little Steamshovels" who bought the Braves in 1945, said the advent of television and lack of enthusiasm by Boston fans were the big factors in making Boston a one-club town.

Perini said he had originally planned to move to Milwaukee in 1954 but was "pressured" into making the move by the Milwaukee fans who wanted to go big league in '53.

"I had no intention of going this year," he said. "Although my better judgment said I should. I wanted to leave Boston with a better ball club than we had last year. I was willing to take a loss for another year to satisfy my own selfish interest in leaving with a better club."

The major league All-Star game, originally scheduled for Boston, did not go along with the franchise to Milwaukee. It was transferred to Cincinnati and will be played July 14.

Tigers Continue Mastery Over NL

(By The Associated Press)

When they were moving the franchises maybe somebody should have shifted Detroit to the National League.

The 1953 Tigers can beat National League teams—seven victories in seven exhibition games. They can't beat American League teams—three losses in three exhibition games.

Last year's Tigers couldn't beat American League teams very often, either. They lost 104 times in their own social circle, and finished last.

Cards Are 'Cousins'

Yesterday the Tigers beat the Cardinals, 5-0. Last week they beat them, 4-0 In the two games St. Louis has managed only nine hits.

Good pitching wasn't a Detroit exclusive yesterday. Washington and Brooklyn both got it but the Senators got a run to go with it and blanked the Dodgers, 1-0. Walt Masterson and Julio Moreno collaborated for Washington while John Podres and Joe Black worked for Brooklyn. The run, off Black in the ninth, came when Jim Busby doubled and Frank Campos tripled. Washington got five other hits. Brooklyn collected five.

Boston Loses Finale

The Boston Braves did right well in the pitching department, too, as rookie Bob Buhl worked five hitless innings against the New York Yankees. Then the Braves switched to Dick Donovan and the Yanks collected five quick runs to win the game, 5-3.

Both Chicago clubs won on the west coast. The Cubs edged the St. Louis Browns, 5-4, in the ninth inning at Los Angeles and the White Sox overpowered Los Angeles at Fullerton, Calif., 12-9.

Earl Torgeson and Granny Hamner homered with the bases loaded as the Phillies walloped the Athletics, 10-5, at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Cincinnati bunched five hits in the sixth inning to score four runs against the Boston Red Sox and went on to win, 4-3. Pittsburgh bowed to the Cuban All-Stars at Havana in a night game, 4-3.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Connie Mack, the remarkable nonagenarian of the Philadelphia Athletics, told "Chic" Provenzano at West Palm Beach that he played baseball in Kingston in 1885.

That was some 68 years ago and since the venerable former Athletic manager has just passed 90, he was a sprightly rookie (a catcher) of 22 years.

Mack recalled that his team won the game something like 6 to 3. Perhaps against the ancient Kingston Leaders of Myron Allen's day. The fabulous Allen was considered by the 19th century oldtimers as the finest pitcher ever developed in Kingston. Later historians will dispute that, of course.

Mack and "Chic" have enjoyed a solid friendship dating back to 1946. Although 90, the tall, sparse master makes daily visits to the A's training base at West Palm Beach. He and the equally remarkable Amos Alonzo Stagg must come pretty close to being the greatest sports figures in American history.

• Picks Mantle Over DiMaggio

More rookies, says Ted McGrew, would make the grade in the major leagues if they'd use Mickey Mantle for a model.

"Failure of many kids to make good is due to their lack of hustle," the Red Sox scout declares. "Mantle never stopped hustling even after establishing himself. He's even greater than Joe DiMaggio ever was.

"Mantle is faster, a better hitter and has a better arm than DiMaggio. With two strikes on him, the infield naturally plays back and Mickey is so fast you just don't make a play on him when he bunts unless he sends one right back to the mound."

A suit which was filed two years ago by Harold B. Ring against the New York Central Railroad and which has been postponed several times, is expected to come to trial before the Supreme Court in Kingston in May, according to SKIING, the national trade publication.

Ring, a New York city ski shop owner, has for several years been interested in the development of a jumpinghill of international proportions near Phoenicia on property he owns.

However, says SKIING, Ring contends that all work on the project has been held up pending settlement of his suit against the railroad for allegedly closing off the only roadway into a proposed parking lot which would accommodate 3000-4000 automobiles. Ring states that the NYCRR has not explained its reasons for closing the road in spite of his repeated efforts to have the obstruction removed.

Bevo Francis Can Do Things as Freshman Dukes Can't Do as Senior, Russell Says

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
(NEA Sports Writer)

The Bevo Francis skeptics, this observer included, should listen to Coach Honey Russell of Seton Hall before writing off the Rio Grande phenom as a publicity freak.

"He's as good as they come," admitted Russell, who's qualified to speak after guiding his Pirates to top national basketball ranking.

Honey was a doubter, too, before he saw Bevo in action on a doubleheader card with Seton Hall in Cleveland.

"I had scouts down at that North-South all-star high school game in Kentucky last summer," said Honey, "and they didn't even mention Bevo. So I figured he couldn't be much.

"But I watched him closely now, and the boy's got it. He can do things as a freshman that my own man, Walter Dukes, still can't do as a senior."

Dukes was unanimously acclaimed All-American collegian of the year.

Rates With Gola

"He's as good," continued Russell, "as Tom Gola of La Salle was as a freshman last season."

And Gola led La Salle to a National Invitation Tournament title and almost put the Explorers in the Olympics.

"Let me qualify that," amended Russell. "I'd like to see him face the same type of competition Gola did as a freshman.

"But I'll tell you what I liked about him. He's a smart ball player. He knows how to get position even when he's crowded, and he can anticipate where a pass is going to be. That's something you can't teach a boy."

But after he gets the ball he can shoot only one way, Honey.

"True, he depends mostly on a right-hand jump shot, but he can get it off either going to his left or right, so that gives him enough versatility."

How about speed?

"Listen, I saw him lead the fast break downcourt on a plenty big floor, so what more could you ask of a big man. I liked the way he maneuvered when he had the ball, and he knew when to pass off. He was plenty quick defensively, too."

Russell was impressed with Bevo's supporting cast on the small Ohio college team—"some pretty fair ball players and they know what to do."

So Rio Grande, unbeaten in its junior college calibre competition—and uninvited in the post-season tourneys—has picked up one big time basketball expert. Or could it be building up for possible scheduling next season?

After all, we've seen him, too.

Evans Takes Carlson's Spot

Don Evans, the "Kingston Killer" has been signed to replace Cowboy Carlson in the feature bout of Friday night's wrestling show at Municipal Auditorium, Kingston.

Carlson, who suffered a torn leg muscle in last Saturday night's feature bout at Marigold Garden, Chicago, notified promoters yesterday he would be unable to work for at least a week, and Evans immediately was signed to replace him against Bibber McCoy in the two out of three fall tussle.

Evans, who owns a farm near Kingston, is one of the roughest in the game. He'll maybe meet a kindred spirit in McCoy, former Holy Cross football star.

Another change in Friday night's card, puts Lee Henning, a determined young man, against Jim Austeri, of New York. Austeri previously had been booked to meet Johnny Barend, of Rochester. ADV.

• Jarboe Improves

St. Augustine, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Parran C. Jarboe of Cochituate, Mass., is getting better as he goes along in the American Senior Golf Association tournament—open to players age 55 and over. Jarboe shot the best round so far when he eliminated M. E. Stephens, Jr., of Sebring, Fla., 5 and 4, in yesterday's second round. For the 14 holes Jarboe was two under par on the Ponce de Leon course. Chick Evans, Chicago former national champion, was upset by Roy Moore of Waterville, Me., 3 and 2.

Shift of Braves to Milwaukee Hints More Transfers in Future

Sweeping Changes Seen by Magnates

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Milwaukee is big league and Boston is a one-club town after the first major league franchise shuffle since 1903—perhaps only a sample of things to come.

The time will arrive when only New York and Chicago will be two-club cities in the opinion of owner Lou Perini of the Braves who yesterday received unanimous approval to move his Boston franchise to Milwaukee and 7-1 sanction to transfer his Milwaukee franchise in the American Association to Toledo.

"The country has changed in the last 75 years," said Perini, "you can't deny Los Angeles and San Francisco are major league in every respect. And so are Montreal, Baltimore and some other cities. A third major league is the only answer for the future."

President Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers also predicts sweeping changes in the baseball map.

Sees Chain Reaction

"You'll see more territory being drafted than you can shake a stick at," said O'Malley. "This can set up a chain reaction."

O'Malley may be right but it can't come true before October because the major league executive council last Sunday froze all territory except for the period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 1. The lone exceptions were the Boston-to-Milwaukee and St. Louis Browns-to-Baltimore moves then under consideration. The Browns, of course, suffered a crushing defeat Monday in a 5-2 rebuke by the American League owners that ruled out the Baltimore proposal.

The Boston Braves became the Milwaukee Braves yesterday afternoon when the American Association accepted a $50,000 payment for "damages" suffered by the loss of Milwaukee. The Braves were in the process of losing an exhibition game to the New York Yankees when the change was approved.

Emerging from the three and a half hour meeting, Perini asked "how did the club come out?" When informed they lost, he said "all right, we'll become Milwaukee official Thursday." The Braves play Cincinnati today at Bradenton, Fla.

There was no solid opposition to the Braves' transfer in the National League meeting. The owners said most of the time was consumed in discussing the problems involved—particularly the schedule.

The new schedule finds Milwaukee swapping places with Pittsburgh in the original playing chart. The Milwaukee Braves will be a "western" team and Pittsburgh will become an "eastern" team in the league realignment.

As a resule of the shift, Milwaukee will open the season at Cincinnati in the traditional early opener, Monday, April 13. Pittsburgh, now slated to play its first 15 games in the east against Brooklyn, Philadelphia and New York, opens the season at Brooklyn, April 14.

Warren Giles, National League president, repeated again and again that "Perini's fine standing with the other club owners was the most important reason for their approval."

Smiling after winning his long battle, Perini said he was "overwhelmed" by the vote and impressed by the spirit of cooperation of the other owners and their confidence in him.

TV, Fans Big Factors

The wealthy contractor, last survivor of the original "Three Little Steamshovels" who bought the Braves in 1945, said the advent of television and lack of enthusiasm by Boston fans were the big factors in making Boston a one-club town.

Perini said he had originally planned to move to Milwaukee in 1954 but was "pressured" into making the move by the Milwaukee fans who wanted to go big league in '53.

"I had no intention of going this year," he said. "Although my better judgment said I should. I wanted to leave Boston with a better ball club than we had last year. I was willing to take a loss for another year to satisfy my own selfish interest in leaving with a better club."

The major league All-Star game, originally scheduled for Boston, did not go along with the franchise to Milwaukee. It was transferred to Cincinnati and will be played July 14.

Tigers Continue Mastery Over NL

(By The Associated Press)

When they were moving the franchises maybe somebody should have shifted Detroit to the National League.

The 1953 Tigers can beat National League teams—seven victories in seven exhibition games. They can't beat American League teams—three losses in three exhibition games.

Last year's Tigers couldn't beat American League teams very often, either. They lost 104 times in their own social circle, and finished last.

Cards Are 'Cousins'

Apparently what Detroit needs is to label all opponents "St. Louis Cardinals." In 18 innings this spring the Cards haven't been able to get a run off Detroit pitching.

Yesterday the Tigers beat the Cardinals, 5-0. Last week they beat them, 4-0 In the two games St. Louis has managed only nine hits.

Good pitching wasn't a Detroit exclusive yesterday. Washington and Brooklyn both got it but the Senators got a run to go with it and blanked the Dodgers, 1-0. Walt Masterson and Julio Moreno collaborated for Washington while John Podres and Joe Black worked for Brooklyn. The run, off Black in the ninth, came when Jim Busby doubled and Frank Campos tripled. Washington got five other hits. Brooklyn collected five.

Boston Loses Finale

The Boston Braves did right well in the pitching department, too, as rookie Bob Buhl worked five hitless innings against the New York Yankees. Then the Braves switched to Dick Donovan and the Yanks collected five quick runs to win the game, 5-3.

Both Chicago clubs won on the west coast. The Cubs edged the St. Louis Browns, 5-4, in the ninth inning at Los Angeles and the White Sox overpowered Los Angeles at Fullerton, Calif., 12-9.

The New York Giants lost their fourth straight, this time to the Cleveland Indians, 10-6, with the Indians getting all 10 runs in the first three innings off Jim Hearn.

Earl Torgeson and Granny Hamner homered with the bases loaded as the Phillies walloped the Athletics, 10-5, at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Cincinnati bunched five hits in the sixth inning to score four runs against the Boston Red Sox and went on to win, 4-3. Pittsburgh bowed to the Cuban All-Stars at Havana in a night game, 4-3.

Connie Mack, the remarkable nonagenarian of the Philadelphia Athletics, told "Chic" Provenzano at West Palm Beach that he played baseball in Kingston in 1885.

That was some 68 years ago and since the venerable former Athletic manager has just passed 90, he was a sprightly rookie (a catcher) of 22 years.

Mack recalled that his team won the game something like 6 to 3. Perhaps against the ancient Kingston Leaders of Myron Allen's day. The fabulous Allen was considered by the 19th century oldtimers as the finest pitcher ever developed in Kingston. Later historians will dispute that, of course.

It's an interesting story and maybe W. Whiting Fredenburgh, the best known local authority on the old Leaders, might furnish some enlightenment.

Mack and "Chic" have enjoyed a solid friendship dating back to 1946. Although 90, the tall, sparse master makes daily visits to the A's training base at West Palm Beach. He and the equally remarkable Amos Alonzo Stagg must come pretty close to being the greatest sports figures in American history.

• Picks Mantle Over DiMaggio

More rookies, says Ted McGrew, would make the grade in the major leagues if they'd use Mickey Mantle for a model.

"Failure of many kids to make good is due to their lack of hustle," the Red Sox scout declares. "Mantle never stopped hustling even after establishing himself. He's even greater than Joe DiMaggio ever was.

"Mantle is faster, a better hitter and has a better arm than DiMaggio. With two strikes on him, the infield naturally plays back and Mickey is so fast you just don't make a play on him when he bunts unless he sends one right back to the mound."

A suit which was filed two years ago by Harold B. Ring against the New York Central Railroad and which has been postponed several times, is expected to come to trial before the Supreme Court in Kingston in May, according to SKIING, the national trade publication.

Ring, a New York city ski shop owner, has for several years been interested in the development of a jumpinghill of international proportions near Phoenicia on property he owns.

However, says SKIING, Ring contends that all work on the project has been held up pending settlement of his suit against the railroad for allegedly closing off the only roadway into a proposed parking lot which would accommodate 3000-4000 automobiles. Ring states that the NYCRR has not explained its reasons for closing the road in spite of his repeated efforts to have the obstruction removed.

Bevo Francis Can Do Things as Freshman Dukes Can't Do as Senior, Russell Says

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
(NEA Sports Writer)

The Bevo Francis skeptics, this observer included, should listen to Coach Honey Russell of Seton Hall before writing off the Rio Grande phenom as a publicity freak.

"He's as good as they come," admitted Russell, who's qualified to speak after guiding his Pirates to top national basketball ranking.

Honey was a doubter, too, before he saw Bevo in action on a doubleheader card with Seton Hall in Cleveland.

"I had scouts down at that North-South all-star high school game in Kentucky last summer," said Honey, "and they didn't even mention Bevo. So I figured he couldn't be much.

"But I watched him closely now, and the boy's got it. He can do things as a freshman that my own man, Walter Dukes, still can't do as a senior."

Dukes was unanimously acclaimed All-American collegian of the year.

Rates With Gola

"He's as good," continued Russell, "as Tom Gola of La Salle was as a freshman last season."

And Gola led La Salle to a National Invitation Tournament title and almost put the Explorers in the Olympics.

"Let me qualify that," amended Russell. "I'd like to see him face the same type of competition Gola did as a freshman.

"But I'll tell you what I liked about him. He's a smart ball player. He knows how to get position even when he's crowded, and he can anticipate where a pass is going to be. That's something you can't teach a boy."

But after he gets the ball he can shoot only one way, Honey.

"True, he depends mostly on a right-hand jump shot, but he can get it off either going to his left or right, so that gives him enough versatility."

How about speed?

"Listen, I saw him lead the fast break downcourt on a plenty big floor, so what more could you ask of a big man. I liked the way he maneuvered when he had the ball, and he knew when to pass off. He was plenty quick defensively, too."

Russell was impressed with Bevo's supporting cast on the small Ohio college team—"some pretty fair ball players and they know what to do."

So Rio Grande, unbeaten in its junior college calibre competition—and uninvited in the post-season tourneys—has picked up one big time basketball expert. Or could it be building up for possible scheduling next season?

When Bevo gets mentioned in the same league with guys like Gola, it's time for the skepticism to pop up again.

After all, we've seen him, too.

Evans Takes Carlson's Spot

Don Evans, the "Kingston Killer" has been signed to replace Cowboy Carlson in the feature bout of Friday night's wrestling show at Municipal Auditorium, Kingston.

Carlson, who suffered a torn leg muscle in last Saturday night's feature bout at Marigold Garden, Chicago, notified promoters yesterday he would be unable to work for at least a week, and Evans immediately was signed to replace him against Bibber McCoy in the two out of three fall tussle.

Evans, who owns a farm near Kingston, is one of the roughest in the game. He'll maybe meet a kindred spirit in McCoy, former Holy Cross football star.

Another change in Friday night's card, puts Lee Henning, a determined young man, against Jim Austeri, of New York. Austeri previously had been booked to meet Johnny Barend, of Rochester. ADV.

Jarboe Improves

St. Augustine, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Parran C. Jarboe of Cochituate, Mass., is getting better as he goes along in the American Senior Golf Association tournament—open to players age 55 and over. Jarboe shot the best round so far when he eliminated M. E. Stephens, Jr., of Sebring, Fla., 5 and 4, in yesterday's second round. For the 14 holes Jarboe was two under par on the Ponce de Leon course. Chick Evans, Chicago former national champion, was upset by Roy Moore of Waterville, Me., 3 and 2.

Indiana Edges Kansas 69-68 for NCAA Title

Scoring Mixup Threatens Rhubarb

Kansas City, March 19 (AP)—Indiana's Hurrying Hoosiers proved their right to the title of the Nation's No. 1 basketball team by annexing the 15th NCAA tournament of champions banner, 69-68, over Kansas University's fiery Jayhawks.

Coach Branch McCracken's Hoosiers did it in a furious running and shooting battle climaxed by Bob Leonard's winning free throw with 27 seconds left.

Violations Changed

It must have been a bitter disappointment for Kansas Coach Forrest (Phog) Allen, dean of the nation's cage mentors, although he'd insisted all winter his Hayhawks didn't have any sort of a chance of repeating for their 1952 national crown.

Tempers flared late in the third period when a mixup in the official scoring had Kansas' only tall player, 6 foot 9 inch B. H. Born committing his fifth personal foul. After Allen and the Kansas bench had stormed the scorers, and press and radio men backed his contention, officials changed Born's violations to four.

McCracken dashed into the controversy with the charge the fouls were on the official books and couldn't be changed.

"We are your guests and you have no right to take advantage of us this way," McCracken stormed. "You have no right to rob us."

Close Throughout

The score stood 53-52 for Kansas when the rhubarb developed and it was just about that close throughout the furiously played game between the hard pressing teams. Indiana led 20-19 at the quarter, the score was tied 41-41 at the half and the Hoosiers were in front 59-58 at the three quarter mark.

Don Schlundt was the bandleader in Indiana's championship march with 30 points. Born canned 26 for Kansas before finally getting his fifth personal foul with Indiana leading 62-61 and five minutes remaining.

No Adequate Substitution

Kansas City, March 19 (AP)—Basketball's rules framers decide today whether they want to keep the much-maligned "one and one" free throw rule—and chances are they'll say, "Yes." A high-placed member of the National Basketball Committee said the rule probably will be given another year's grace if for no other reason than that nobody has come up with an adequate substitute.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

A quartet of scientific boys just came up with a booklet that will put an end to the confusion among bait growers. Oddly enough, raising minnows is not only big business today, but it's a phase of fishery management about which we've never been able to get authentic and practical information. Inexperienced bait farmers and "minnow bootleggers" have been a perennial conservation headache. This 72-page manual should change all that.

The publication, Circular No. 112 "Production of Bait Minnows in the Southeast," by the Alabama Polytechnic Institute Agricultural Experimental Station, Auburn, Ala., is the product of 18 years of research by E. E. Prather, Jr., J. R. Fielding, M. C. Johnson and H. S. Swingle.

The booklet is a step-by-step manual for the beginner or for the more experienced minnow hatchery man. Well illustrated, the circular explains selection of site, water supply, hatchery construction, production methods, management, grading or sizing for market, and transportation and shipping methods.

Common mistakes to be avoided are also dealt with, such as building rearing ponds too large, not protecting ponds from becoming infested with "wild" fish and failing to control parasites, diseases and pests like frogs, water insects, snakes, turtles and fish-eating birds.

For persons outside of Alabama, there is a charge of fifty cents per copy plus sales tax. Address your request and make your check or money order payable to Department of Publications, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala.

The number of guides and their distribution on a fly-casting rod is important. Guides hold the line close to the rod so that both rod and line work as a unit. Limber rods, therefore, need more guides than stiff rods because of their slower action. Fly rods require from nine to 13 guides as a rule, and in the case of very long wet-fly rods even 16 might be necessary. They are not spaced equally, but are placed at slightly decreasing intervals toward the tip. This keeps the line closer to the rod in the area of maximum bending. When buying a rod, beware of small guides. They look good but actually they create too much friction on the outgoing line.

Langlois Demands Title Bout After Defeating Dykes

Dallas, March 19 (AP)—Pierre Langlois, the tough Frenchman, brandished his fourth straight middleweight triumph — a 10-round decision over Bobby Dykes —at the powers that be in boxing today and demanded that he be thrown into the big middle of the fight for the world's championship.

Langlois was the unanimous winner over Dykes, the lanky Texan from San Antonio, last night in the nationally televised fight.

This afternoon Langlois and his manager, Jean Bretonnel, depart for New York where Bretonnel said he would lay his fighter's case before Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York Boxing Commission.

Bretonnel said he would ask that Langlois fight the winner of the Ernie Durando-Paddy Young bout, with the winner to meet the winner of a Randy Turpin-Charles Humez fight.

Langlois fought a boring in fight all the way. He explained that he did this in order to stay inside Dyke's long reach that "would have beaten me to pieces if I had fought him at long range."

Langlois weighed 161½ pounds, Dykes 154¼.

Cooper's 138 Cops Tourney

Palmbeach, Fla., March 19 (AP) The winning score was the same but the Seminole Golf Club's $10,000 Pro-Member Golf tournament had a new champion today to replace its 1952 winner, Sam Snead.

Pete Cooper, who plays out of White Plains, N. Y., finished with a 36-hole total of 133—the score Snead posted a year ago—to pick up $1,800 yesterday. Cooper scored a 66 Tuesday but needed a par 72 on his final round.

Bunched at 140 were Al Besseling of Grossinger, N. Y.; Ben Hogan of Palm Springs, Calif., and Herman Scharlau of Boca Raton, Fla., who won $733.33 each.

Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N. C.; Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Ted Kroll of New Hartford, scored 141 to win $400 each.

Another stroke away was Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Earl Stewart of Dallas, Tex., who won $237.50 each. Snead was alone at 143 and earned $250.

Al Brosh of Garden City, L. I., tied with four others in the pro division at 144 and won $175. He also teamed with James J. Secor of Toledo, O., for a team score of 122 and a new record for the tournament. Brosch's team victory was worth $1,000.

Brosch picked up another $500 with his other amateur partner, Ted Bassett of New York, for their score of 129.

Kiner Havana-Bound

Los Angeles, March 19 (AP)—Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's high-priced outfielder who says he has accepted Branch Rickey's original contract terms for 1953, left by plane last night for Havana to join the Bucs' training camp. Kiner, supposedly a $90,000 player last season, is presumed to have been cut to less than $76,000 this year, but contract terms have not been made public.

Training Camp News in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Lakeland, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Now boasting seven straight wins over National League clubs, the Detroit Tigers try again today for their first exhibition victory over a team in their own American League.

San Jose, Calif., March 19 (AP)—Second baseman Davey Williams of the New York Giants said today he hopes to be in shape to play by the end of the week.

Williams, suffering a recurrence of an old back injury, hasn't been in the lineup since March 10. Manager Leo Durocher has been using Alvin Dark, Bobby Hofman and Daryl Spencer at second in exhibition games.

Gilliam Impressive

Vero Beach, Fla., March 19 (AP)—"I'm not worried about Robinson, he knows how to play ball."

That was Brooklyn manager Charlie Dressen's verdict after watching Jackie Robinson play his first game at third base yesterday. Robinson didn't look particularly impressive but the man who took his second base job, Junior Gilliam, sparkled.

Gilliam started two double plays, fielded faultlessly and doubled in the ninth inning for the Dodgers' only extra base hit in a 1-0 loss to Washington.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Allie Reynolds seems completely recovered from a sore back he suffered in Miami, brightening the New York Yankees' immediate pitching hopes.

Reynolds will be given a serious test tomorrow against the Philadelphia Phils. Ewell Blackwell also will work against the Phils.

Chisox Land Bearden

Pasadena, Calif., March 19 (AP)—Although lefty Billy Pierce apparently has shaken off the effects of a shoulder ailment, Manager Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox says pitching is one of his main worries.

"If you want to be super critical about our pitching," he said, "we only have three: Pierce, Saul Rogovin and Harry Dorish. The rest we don't know. Of course we have high hopes for Tommy Byrne and Lou Kretlow."

The Sox yesterday bought pitcher Gene Bearden from the St. Louis Browns for a price in excess of the $10,000 waiver tag. Mainly a reliefer, the 32-year-old lefty had a 7-8 record with the Browns last year.

San Bernardino, Calif., March 19 (AP)—Southpaw Bobby Cain of the St. Louis Browns, the lad who outlasted Cleveland's Bob Feller in a double one-hitter last season, is coming around to form a little slow this year.

Despite a good show of control, he hasn't yet proved very difficult for opposing batsmen. Yesterday, for instance, pitcher Paul Minner and third baseman Bill Serena of the Chicago Cubs each tagged Lefty Cain for home runs in a 5-4 Browns defeat.

Jones Ready for Tribe

San Jose, Calif., March 19 (AP)—Sad Sam Jones, who disappointed the Cleveland Indians last year when his arm went sore, says, "I'm ready to pitch now. My arm feels as good as new."

"I put everything I had into one pitch (at San Bernardino Monday) and I felt my shoulder pop. I don't know what it was, but after it happened I could throw as hard as I wanted without feeling any pain. And today my arm felt fine again."

Jones, called the big hope among the 1952 Indian newcomers, won two and lost three last year before being farmed to Indianapolis. Sore there, the arm remained that way through early practice this year.

Pinehurst, N. C.—Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn. took the medal with a 75 in the North and South Women's Golf championship.

Palm Beach, Fla.—Pete Cooper of White Plains, N. Y., won the Seminole Club Pro-Amateur tournament with a 138 for 36 holes.

Pitcher Ray Narleski, getting a trial with the Cleveland Indians this spring, is the son of Bill Narleski, an infielder with the Boston Red Sox in 1930.

Since the National Invitation Tournament began in 1938, St. John's has participated in 11 of the basketball classics. The Redmen have appeared in the NIT 10 times in the last 11 years.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—The Boston Braves' National League franchise was shifted to Milwaukee.

Scoring Mixup Threatens Rhubarb

Kansas City, March 19 (AP)—Indiana's Hurrying Hoosiers proved their right to the title of the Nation's No. 1 basketball team by annexing the 15th NCAA tournament of champions banner, 69-68, over Kansas University's fiery Jayhawks.

Coach Branch McCracken's Hoosiers did it in a furious running and shooting battle climaxed by Bob Leonard's winning free throw with 27 seconds left.

The Washington Huskies, who came into the semifinals as tournament favorites, took consolation honors, 86-69, over Louisiana State.

Violations Changed

It must have been a bitter disappointment for Kansas Coach Forrest (Phog) Allen, dean of the nation's cage mentors, although he'd insisted all winter his Hayhawks didn't have any sort of a chance of repeating for their 1952 national crown.

Tempers flared late in the third period when a mixup in the official scoring had Kansas' only tall player, 6 foot 9 inch B. H. Born committing his fifth personal foul. After Allen and the Kansas bench had stormed the scorers, and press and radio men backed his contention, officials changed Born's violations to four.

McCracken dashed into the controversy with the charge the fouls were on the official books and couldn't be changed.

"We are your guests and you have no right to take advantage of us this way," McCracken stormed. "You have no right to rob us."

Close Throughout

Actually, there's no such thing as a guest team in the championship tournament since it's played on a neutral court.

The score stood 53-52 for Kansas when the rhubarb developed and it was just about that close throughout the furiously played game between the hard pressing teams. Indiana led 20-19 at the quarter, the score was tied 41-41 at the half and the Hoosiers were in front 59-58 at the three quarter mark.

Don Schlundt was the bandleader in Indiana's championship march with 30 points. Born canned 26 for Kansas before finally getting his fifth personal foul with Indiana leading 62-61 and five minutes remaining.

No Adequate Substitution

Kansas City, March 19 (AP)—Basketball's rules framers decide today whether they want to keep the much-maligned "one and one" free throw rule—and chances are they'll say, "Yes." A high-placed member of the National Basketball Committee said the rule probably will be given another year's grace if for no other reason than that nobody has come up with an adequate substitute.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

A quartet of scientific boys just came up with a booklet that will put an end to the confusion among bait growers. Oddly enough, raising minnows is not only big business today, but it's a phase of fishery management about which we've never been able to get authentic and practical information. Inexperienced bait farmers and "minnow bootleggers" have been a perennial conservation headache. This 72-page manual should change all that.

The publication, Circular No. 112 "Production of Bait Minnows in the Southeast," by the Alabama Polytechnic Institute Agricultural Experimental Station, Auburn, Ala., is the product of 18 years of research by E. E. Prather, Jr., J. R. Fielding, M. C. Johnson and H. S. Swingle.

The booklet is a step-by-step manual for the beginner or for the more experienced minnow hatchery man. Well illustrated, the circular explains selection of site, water supply, hatchery construction, production methods, management, grading or sizing for market, and transportation and shipping methods.

Common mistakes to be avoided are also dealt with, such as building rearing ponds too large, not protecting ponds from becoming infested with "wild" fish and failing to control parasites, diseases and pests like frogs, water insects, snakes, turtles and fish-eating birds.

For persons outside of Alabama, there is a charge of fifty cents per copy plus sales tax. Address your request and make your check or money order payable to Department of Publications, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala.

The number of guides and their distribution on a fly-casting rod is important. Guides hold the line close to the rod so that both rod and line work as a unit. Limber rods, therefore, need more guides than stiff rods because of their slower action. Fly rods require from nine to 13 guides as a rule, and in the case of very long wet-fly rods even 16 might be necessary. They are not spaced equally, but are placed at slightly decreasing intervals toward the tip. This keeps the line closer to the rod in the area of maximum bending. When buying a rod, beware of small guides. They look good but actually they create too much friction on the outgoing line.

Langlois Demands Title Bout After Defeating Dykes

Dallas, March 19 (AP)—Pierre Langlois, the tough Frenchman, brandished his fourth straight middleweight triumph — a 10-round decision over Bobby Dykes —at the powers that be in boxing today and demanded that he be thrown into the big middle of the fight for the world's championship.

Langlois was the unanimous winner over Dykes, the lanky Texan from San Antonio, last night in the nationally televised fight.

This afternoon Langlois and his manager, Jean Bretonnel, depart for New York where Bretonnel said he would lay his fighter's case before Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York Boxing Commission.

Bretonnel said he would ask that Langlois fight the winner of the Ernie Durando-Paddy Young bout, with the winner to meet the winner of a Randy Turpin-Charles Humez fight.

Langlois fought a boring in fight all the way. He explained that he did this in order to stay inside Dyke's long reach that "would have beaten me to pieces if I had fought him at long range."

Langlois weighed 161½ pounds, Dykes 154¼.

Germany Warned Of Soviet Danger, Urged to Join West

Bonn, Germany, March 19 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared today that West Germany must hurry and rearm because the death of Joseph Stalin has increased the danger of war.

"We Germans and the rest of the world are in great danger, and Stalin's death has increased, rather than diminished, this danger, he said in appealing to the lower house of Parliament for approval of twin treaties which would make Germany an armed ally of the west.

As he spoke, hundreds of police surrounded the Parliament building to keep off crowds of Communist-led demonstrators seeking to march on Parliament and block the vote. One band of nearly 1,000 screaming, chanting demonstrators was beaten off by police using firehoses. There also was an outburst of fistfighting, and several demonstrators were arrested.

500,000 Man Asked

Adenauer declared that if the German people realized the full extent of their danger they would delay no longer in joining up with the European Defense Community, which is backed by the United States and Britain. Germany is slated to provide 500,000 men for this six-nation force.

He said Russia had 140 divisions in East Germany and the East European satellite states — and that nobody knew what Stalin's successors in the Kremlin would do with them.

Adenauer said the world's danger was emphasized by last week's attacks upon U. S. and British planes here by Communist MIG fighters. He said these attacks were "actually air fights—over German soil and in the German skies—which demonstrated how helpless we are if we remain unarmed and without allies."

Wadlin Says Bill

the removal from office of such legislators as introduce them.

"We have recently read that Ulster county is the richest in the country, in terms of money in the bank. Let's be satisfied with that; let's not try to swell the coffers at the expense of our children; let's not have Ulster county responsible for bringing back child labor to our state."

Wadlin Defends Bill

Wadlin said that in his section of the state the business of growing berries was "fast ceasing to be an industry," that children could not now accompany their parents into the fields and "in some instances active well developed children under 14 years of age are left at home or in poorly supervised camps, get into serious mischief and are on their way toward being juvenile delinquents.

"It is not my intention to permit children to be exploited (I am the parent of two daughters and one son of the ages of 16, 13 and 9 respectively).

Would Not Exploit

"It has been my observation that in the type of work which I seek to have children permitted to perform that they have not at any time been exploited; that children have been enabled through their own efforts to earn some money, which is their own and they have developed a pride in their achievement which has been good for them.

"Our boys and girls should be thought of as little men and women and not continually treated as incompetents unable to do anything for themselves or anyone else.

"In years past families from New York city and other cities have come to our fruit growing section and financed, through their own efforts, their own fresh air vacation for from four to six weeks during each summer, and have taken money received for their work back home with them. Many have found they liked country living and have become permanent residents and farm owners."

Measure Calls . . .

1952 that construction of the bridge is feasible and would be in the public interest.

The Newburgh-Beacon bridge is not to be built until one is constructed over the Hudson between Kingston and Rhinecliff. The Legislature approved this bridge some time ago, and construction is expected to start this year.

The New York State Bridge Authority, headed by James F. Loughran, of this city, is scheduled to hold its annual reorganization meeting March 25 at 2 p. m., at 22 Ferry street.

A chairman, vice-chairman and secretary are to be elected. The term of Dr. John L. Edwards, of Hudson, vice-chairman, expired Feb. 1, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is expected to recommend an appointment for Senate confirmation before the Legislature adjourns.

Pact Is Ratified

Bonn, Germany, March 18 (AP)—The Lower House of the West German Parliament last night ratified the government's agreement to pay 822 million dollars in reparations for Nazi persecution of Jews. The pact now goes to the Upper House for final approval before the federal president signs it into law.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

too much to hope that the over all picture will be that bright, but that each department is going to make every effort to cut as deep as possible.

It was Eisenhower's fourth news conference and it—like the others—drew a capacity crowd to the conference room in the old State Department building which seats over 200.

The President showed up one minute early and posed for photographers before opening the conference.

Must Go Half Way

At the outset Eisenhower said there was one subject that has been attracting much speculation, and was occupying the attention of the world generally—the possible significance of the change in the Kremlin as a result of Joseph Stalin's death, what it means to us, and whether the recent Communist aircraft attacks on our planes have any great significance.

He went on then to note the new Soviet regime's pronouncements of peaceful intentions as voiced by Premier Malenkov. Eisenhower said those proposals are just as welcome as they are sincere.

Then he declared that the Soviet Union will never be met less than half way by the United States in any move toward world peace.

Eisenhower next discussed what has become one of his favorite topics—balancing the budget.

Must Balance First

He said you hear a lot of talk about tax reduction first, and then a balanced budget, but that he wants to go in the opposite direction.

After Eisenhower invited questions, a reporter remarked that the President, at each of his earlier news conferences, had made friendly gestures toward Russia. He was asked whether as a result the Soviet Union had made any move to open peace negotiations.

The President replied that the only thing he had was what everyone had seen in the newspapers. He recalled that last December Stalin said he was favorably disposed to the idea of an Eisenhower-Stalin conference.

Asked whether there had been any overtures, Eisenhower replied none that had reached him.

Wicks Wants . . .

States His Contention

Wicks said he was opposed to the local tax on the ground that the state constitution reserved the pari-mutuel levy exclusively to the state.

New York city Democarts have demanded that the local tax be restored fully to the hard-pressed city.

Last year New York city collected $10,747,070 from a 4 per cent pari-mutuel tax. Nassau got $3,576,074 and Saratoga, $960,555.

Wicks said that during the past decade the pari-mutuel levy had yielded more than 24 million dollars a year to the state.

No word has been received from the parachute team. It was not known whether they carried radios, which would provide virtually the only means of rapid communication from the wilderness area.

Mr. Schoonmaker of Wiswall, Wood, Olson and Schoonmaker appears for Shutter. Archibald R. MacKennan appears as defense counsel for the Waltman estate, in the Shutter action.

Plaintiff's case had not been concluded when court recessed Wednesday and was continued today at the opening of court.

Belgian Liner Goes Down

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, March 19 (AP)—Radio Antwerp said today the 3,513-ton Belgian vessel Liege sank in the Scheldt river after colliding yesterday with the Panama ship Marinucci. The crew of the Liege was taken safely aboard the Marinucci. The radio warned the sunken ship is a danger to shipping in the river.

Germany Warned Of Soviet Danger, Urged to Join West

Bonn, Germany, March 19 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared today that West Germany must hurry and rearm because the death of Joseph Stalin has increased the danger of war.

"We Germans and the rest of the world are in great danger, and Stalin's death has increased, rather than diminished, this danger, he said in appealing to the lower house of Parliament for approval of twin treaties which would make Germany an armed ally of the west.

As he spoke, hundreds of police surrounded the Parliament building to keep off crowds of Communist-led demonstrators seeking to march on Parliament and block the vote. One band of nearly 1,000 screaming, chanting demonstrators was beaten off by police using firehoses. There also was an outburst of fistfighting, and several demonstrators were arrested.

500,000 Man Asked

Adenauer declared that if the German people realized the full extent of their danger they would delay no longer in joining up with the European Defense Community, which is backed by the United States and Britain. Germany is slated to provide 500,000 men for this six-nation force.

He said Russia had 140 divisions in East Germany and the East European satellite states — and that nobody knew what Stalin's successors in the Kremlin would do with them.

Adenauer said the world's danger was emphasized by last week's attacks upon U. S. and British planes here by Communist MIG fighters. He said these attacks were "actually air fights—over German soil and in the German skies—which demonstrated how helpless we are if we remain unarmed and without allies."

Wadlin Says Bill

the removal from office of such legislators as introduce them.

"We have recently read that Ulster county is the richest in the country, in terms of money in the bank. Let's be satisfied with that; let's not try to swell the coffers at the expense of our children; let's not have Ulster county responsible for bringing back child labor to our state."

Wadlin Defends Bill

Wadlin said that in his section of the state the business of growing berries was "fast ceasing to be an industry," that children could not now accompany their parents into the fields and "in some instances active well developed children under 14 years of age are left at home or in poorly supervised camps, get into serious mischief and are on their way toward being juvenile delinquents.

"It is not my intention to permit children to be exploited (I am the parent of two daughters and one son of the ages of 16, 13 and 9 respectively).

Would Not Exploit

"It has been my observation that in the type of work which I seek to have children permitted to perform that they have not at any time been exploited; that children have been enabled through their own efforts to earn some money, which is their own and they have developed a pride in their achievement which has been good for them.

"Our boys and girls should be thought of as little men and women and not continually treated as incompetents unable to do anything for themselves or anyone else.

"In years past families from New York city and other cities have come to our fruit growing section and financed, through their own efforts, their own fresh air vacation for from four to six weeks during each summer, and have taken money received for their work back home with them. Many have found they liked country living and have become permanent residents and farm owners."

Measure Calls . . .

1952 that construction of the bridge is feasible and would be in the public interest.

The Newburgh-Beacon bridge is not to be built until one is constructed over the Hudson between Kingston and Rhinecliff. The Legislature approved this bridge some time ago, and construction is expected to start this year.

The New York State Bridge Authority, headed by James F. Loughran, of this city, is scheduled to hold its annual reorganization meeting March 25 at 2 p. m., at 22 Ferry street.

A chairman, vice-chairman and secretary are to be elected. The term of Dr. John L. Edwards, of Hudson, vice-chairman, expired Feb. 1, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is expected to recommend an appointment for Senate confirmation before the Legislature adjourns.

Pact Is Ratified

Bonn, Germany, March 18 (AP)—The Lower House of the West German Parliament last night ratified the government's agreement to pay 822 million dollars in reparations for Nazi persecution of Jews. The pact now goes to the Upper House for final approval before the federal president signs it into law.

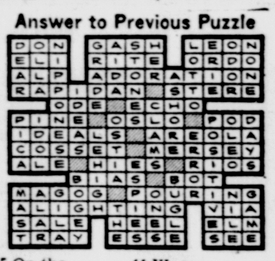
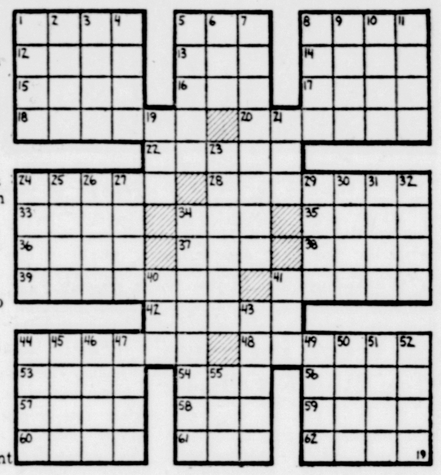
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Eisenhower Would

too much to hope that the over all picture will be that bright, but that each department is going to make every effort to cut as deep as possible.

It was Eisenhower's fourth news conference and it—like the others—drew a capacity crowd to the conference room in the old State Department building which seats over 200.

The President showed up one minute early and posed for photographers before opening the conference.

Must Go Half Way

At the outset Eisenhower said there was one subject that has been attracting much speculation, and was occupying the attention of the world generally—the possible significance of the change in the Kremlin as a result of Joseph Stalin's death, what it means to us, and whether the recent Communist aircraft attacks on our planes have any great significance.

He went on then to note the new Soviet regime's pronouncements of peaceful intentions as voiced by Premier Malenkov. Eisenhower said those proposals are just as welcome as they are sincere.

Then he declared that the Soviet Union will never be met less than half way by the United States in any move toward world peace.

Eisenhower next discussed what has become one of his favorite topics—balancing the budget.

Must Balance First

He said you hear a lot of talk about tax reduction first, and then a balanced budget, but that he wants to go in the opposite direction.

After Eisenhower invited questions, a reporter remarked that the President, at each of his earlier news conferences, had made friendly gestures toward Russia. He was asked whether as a result the Soviet Union had made any move to open peace negotiations.

The President replied that the only thing he had was what everyone had seen in the newspapers. He recalled that last December Stalin said he was favorably disposed to the idea of an Eisenhower-Stalin conference.

Asked whether there had been any overtures, Eisenhower replied none that had reached him.

Wicks Wants . . .

States His Contention

Wicks said he was opposed to the local tax on the ground that the state constitution reserved the pari-mutuel levy exclusively to the state.

New York city Democarts have demanded that the local tax be restored fully to the hard-pressed city.

Last year New York city collected $10,747,070 from a 4 per cent pari-mutuel tax. Nassau got $3,576,074 and Saratoga, $960,555.

Wicks said that during the past decade the pari-mutuel levy had yielded more than 24 million dollars a year to the state.

beside the wreck. Weather in the area was poor.

No word has been received from the parachute team. It was not known whether they carried radios, which would provide virtually the only means of rapid communication from the wilderness area.

2 Actions Continued On Car Collision

Continued in Supreme Court before Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth and a jury yesterday and today were two actions growing out of a collision on August 16, 1951, between a car operated by Samuel Waltman of Newburgh and a Greyhound Bus at the intersection of Milton Turnpike and Route 9-W.

Waltman was fatally injured and his widow brings an action for $200,000 for his death and also sues to recover for property damage to his DeSoto car. Rusk & Rusk with N. LeVan Haver of counsel appear for Mrs. Waltman. Judge Andrew J. Cook and Andrew J. Cook, Jr., appear for the Greyhound company.

The driver of the bus, William A. Shutter, is also sued and he in turn brings an action against the estate of Waltman to recover $15,000 damages for injuries which he sustained. Mr. Schoonmaker of Wiswall, Wood, Olson and Schoonmaker appears for Shutter. Archibald R. MacKennan appears as defense counsel for the Waltman estate, in the Shutter action.

Plaintiff's case had not been concluded when court recessed Wednesday and was continued today at the opening of court.

Belgian Liner Goes Down

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, March 19 (AP)—Radio Antwerp said today the 3,513-ton Belgian vessel Liege sank in the Scheldt river after colliding yesterday with the Panama ship Marinucci. The crew of the Liege was taken safely aboard the Marinucci. The radio warned the sunken ship is a danger to shipping in the river.

More than a quarter of the population of the British Isles lives in greater London.

Cap Still Missing

New York, March 19 (AP)—A 17-year-old sailor, fresh out of boot camp, lost his cap—and, as the high brass fidgeted, held up maneuvers of a carrier, six destroyers and submarines for half an hour. Airman Apprentice William J. Bryant of Vista, Calif., was awfully excited when the 10,000-ton escort carrier Palau started down the Hudson river yesterday for war games. Suddenly, Billy's cap blew off. When he reached the end of the deck, he kept running—and fell 30 feet to the cold waters of the upper bay. Then, half an hour after the cap flew away, the gigantic gears of the navy began to move on schedule once more. The carrier went on to sea. Six hours later, the Palau radioed that Bryant was in good condition. But he was still bareheaded. They never found the cap.

Legion Celebrates Post Anniversary

The Legion building was "packed to the doors" for the celebration of the 35th anniversary of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, Tuesday evening.

Among events on the program was a mock wedding commemorating the joining of the post and its auxiliary 33 years ago. Following the ceremony the cast and members joined in singing Happy Birthday. Rail Wage Increase May Bring Others

Washington, March 19 (AP)—A four cent hourly wage boost granted the nation's railroad workers was hailed as a precedent today by union leaders who want to write "productivity pay" guarantees into labor contracts.

The rail pay hike was ordered yesterday by Paul N. Guthrie, University of North Carolina economic professor who acted as arbitrator in a dispute between the carriers and rail unions.

W. P. Kennedy, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen—one of the 19 unions affected by the decision—said he believes it established a principle that workers should share in mounting productivity, or increased output.

"I think workers in other industries will be given the same recognition," Kennedy added. "The fruits of improving productivity should be shared by both management and the workers. We think we've won our point in this case."

In Chicago, a spokesman said there was no comment on Guthrie's ruling from the Association of Western Railways, representing 45 railroads operating west of the Mississippi river.

Labor contracts in the auto industry contain clauses, the first negotiated about five years ago, giving auto workers a four cent hourly raise per year as "improvement" or productivity compensation.

More recently, the AFL called on its unions to concentrate on getting productivity pay raises.

Egypt, Ethiopia, Liberia and Libya are the only four independent countries in Africa not connected with colonial empires.

Settle Tree Dispute

Goslar, Germany, March 19 (AP)—A fir tree, rooted in West Germany, fell across the Soviet zone border recently. In the present state of civilization, this is not a minor matter. It resulted in East-West negotiations on the question: Who owns the tree? It was settled today in this manner: Eight West German frontier guards and eight Communist policemen, all armed with carbines, lined up at the fallen tree. One Communist and one West German took the handles of a saw. They sawed the tree exactly along the border. The Communists lugged off the top half, the West Germans took away the bottom.

Aldermen Approve

One-way Traffic

The aldermen adopted a traffic ordinance which makes East Strand one-way westward from the junction of Ferry street and East Strand to Broadway; and Ferry street, one-way eastward from Broadway to the junction of Ferry street and East Strand. The ordinance is to become effective immediately, which means as soon as signs are erected.

This change had been recommended some time ago by Sixth Ward Alderman David Schechter and was approved by the traffic committee after some study.

A letter from James E. Martin, 12th ward supervisor, asked that the traffic lights with amber warning signals used at detour intersections during construction of the Broadway underpass, be used at Washington and Hurley and Lucas and Washington avenues.

Asks Amber Signals

The lights were used at Smith avenue and Grand and Cornell street and Smith avenue when traffic detoured around the crossing project. Martin said he hoped that some day all city traffic lights would have amber warning signals. Alderman - at - large Joseph Kelly referred the signals letter to the traffic committee.

Also referred to the traffic committee was a resolution by Second Ward Alderman Benjamin Storms asking that no parking be allowed on the north side of Albany avenue from Roosevelt to Madison avenue.

Water Easement Voided

On recommendation of Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly the council voted to an easement agreement between the city's water department and Herman and Mary Van Valkenburgh on property along the Sawkill road. A city water line runs over the land which recently was acquired by the state for construction of the Thruway.

The agreement between the city of the former owners of the land is no longer necessary the corporation counsel said, because the property is now owned by the people of the state, and the city still holds its former rights for using it.

11 Injured in Crash

New York, March 19 (AP)—Eleven persons were injured today when a Queens bus struck a garbage truck, caromed over the curb and crashed through a side wall of Richards Seafood Restaurant in Jamaica four injured passengers were taken to Mary Immaculate Hospital, and six passengers and the bus driver were taken to Queens General Hospital.

Cap Still Missing

New York, March 19 (AP)—A 17-year-old sailor, fresh out of boot camp, lost his cap—and, as the high brass fidgeted, held up maneuvers of a carrier, six destroyers and submarines for half an hour. Airman Apprentice William J. Bryant of Vista, Calif., was awfully excited when the 10,000-ton escort carrier Palau started down the Hudson river yesterday for war games. Suddenly, Billy's cap blew off. When he reached the end of the deck, he kept running—and fell 30 feet to the cold waters of the upper bay. Then, half an hour after the cap flew away, the gigantic gears of the navy began to move on schedule once more. The carrier went on to sea. Six hours later, the Palau radioed that Bryant was in good condition. But he was still bareheaded. They never found the cap.
